"EVER"

MY SOUL is with you, wherever you go,
If sunshines blesses or storm winds blow;
And this shall help you to make your goal,
Ever beside you goes my soul.

My heart is with you wherever you bide,
On mountain crest and on ocean's tide;
And this shall your courage be, in part,
Ever beside you bides my heart.

My hand is ever in reach of yours,
My faith through burden and heat endures;
Though mile may sever, you'll understand,
Ever beside you waits my hand.

July and August are vacation months. Would you like to be another person for awhile?

After all, that is the purpose of vacations, instead of a change of scene, people really need a change of soul. Get outdoors if you would like to be different. Two weeks in the open country will make you a person who wakes in the morning with happiness, who moves through the day with a contentment as instinctive as primitive as the laughter of a stream rippling in the sunlight.

At dusk you will lie down to rest with a delicious fatigue and a sense of utter fulfillment you never knew in town. The scent of wood smoke at twilight in the sleepy roads and the taste of bacon and fresh trout cooked on an open fire will savor your dinners through the long shut-in winter.

All your hurried days will be easier and sweeter for the memory of the miles you tramped and the stars above your head on your vacation.

Miss Leavitt Wedded To Mr. Barnhisel

Mid-summer blossoms intermingled with frosts of fern lent their beauty to the simple impressive church wedding of late Wednesday afternoon when Miss Maybelle Leavitt, youngest daughter of Judge and Mrs. A. L. Leavitt became the bride of Mr. Howard Barnhisel.

The service was performed at St. Paul's Episcopal church with more than 100 relatives and friends attending.

Archdeacon J. Henry Thomas, pastor of St. Paul's read the service.

Mrs. Don J. Zumwalt presided at the pipe organ, rendering Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Miss Katherine Walton, violinist accompanied.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Arthur Leavitt. She was charming in an ensemble of beige crepe romaine with accessories to match. Her bridal bouquet was of roses and lily of the valley.

Mrs. Osmond J. Houge, girlhood chum attended the bride. She wore a fetching ensemble of yellow flowered chiffon. Her flowers were pink roses.

Mr. Osmond Houge, attended the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Worden on Washington. More than 50 called.

The numerous and beautiful wedding gifts were displayed at the Worden home.

Judge and Mrs. A. L. Leavitt, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Worden, Mr. and Mrs. J. Barnhisel, Tacoma, Wash.; Mrs. T. P. Henderson, Mrs. Nelson Reed, Mrs. J. M. Bedford, Mrs. Berkeley De Vaul, Mrs. Osmond Houge and Mrs. T. W. Delsell received the guests.

Following a wedding tour of Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Barnhisel will be at home to their friends on Lake Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Barnhisel, Tacoma, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. Don Newberry, Medford, were out of town guests here for the wedding.

Younger Set Plan For Party

An informal, no hostess swimming party is being planned for Monday evening, July twenty-second at Crystal Springs by a coterie of the younger set.

The affair is being planned in courtesy to Miss Margaret Hargus, bride-elect and Miss Mae Mordoff of Detroit, Mich., who is spending the summer months here with relatives and friends.

Larkin Club Met Friday Afternoon

Members of the Larkin club met on Friday afternoon with Mrs. A. Roome at her home on Michigan avenue. A brief business meeting was held followed with a social hour.

Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon to Mesdames M. A. Keris, H. D. Crandall, Lela Harris, J. M. Jensen, H. C. Voney, T. W. Sayles, M. J. Masters and Glenn Patterson.

Pi Omicron to Install Chapter In This City

An announcement of considerable importance to the business, professional and club women of Klamath Falls is the decision of the University Guild and Pi Omicron sorority to install a chapter of the sorority in this city. This announcement has been made by Mrs. J. D. Lynch, regional director for Oregon, who is now in the city.

The University Guild, through Pi Omicron, a national sorority to a select group of women who are interested in adult education many of the advantages, benefits and pleasures of the college class room.

In addition to the classes which are held regularly, members find a social outlet in the activities of Pi Omicron sorority, which in many cities where chapters are now located, is playing an increasingly important role in community affairs.

The University Guild is a national organization with local chapters in the important cities in the United States. Its membership includes many of the most representative business, professional and club women in the northwest. Chapters in the northwest have already been installed in Seattle, Tacoma, Centralia, Chehalis, Aberdeen, Longview, Vancouver, Yakima, Wenatchee and Walla Walla in Washington, and there are chapters now established in Portland, Salem and Medford in the state of Oregon.

Oregon Theta chapter is to be installed in Marshfield, this month, and Astoria. The Dalles and Klamath Falls are now undergoing organization for the fall classes.

Mrs. Lynch and her staff of workers are now in Klamath Falls to do the preliminary organization work.

Picnic Luncheon At Paddock Home

The home of Mrs. Etta Paddock was the setting for a delightful picnic this past week when 12 former school mates motored into the country for a picnic luncheon which was spread beneath the large pine trees.

Those enjoying the informal get-together were Mesdames J. H. Carnahan, O. Brown, Allen Sloan, J. C. Cleghorn, Charles De Lap, George Grizzle, L. Lewis, Henry Grimes, Robert Sloan, Henry Funks, Chester De Lap, L. Royce, Will Wood and the hostess, Mrs. Etta Paddock.

Happy Hour Club Met On Tuesday

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. George Humphrey entertained members of the Happy Hour club at her home on Pine street.

Mrs. L. F. Willis and Mrs. Frank Penrod were special guests for the afternoon.

Mrs. S. Summers has invited the members to meet at her home Tuesday, July 23.

Club members in attendance on Tuesday were Mrs. O. M. Hector, Mrs. Carl Sandell, Mrs. W. J. Steinmetz, Mrs. Edward Lawrence, Mrs. Wellington Tempelar, Mrs. Nellie Summers, Mrs. Jennie Hurn, Mrs. J. J. Keller, Mrs. R. A. Emmitt, Mrs. W. D. Cofer, Mrs. R. Moteschenbacher and the hostess.

Swimming Party Friday Evening

Mrs. Grace Stewart was hostess on Friday evening to a group of friends with a swimming party at Crystal Springs. Cars left the city shortly after 6 o'clock for the resort. After the swim a tempting picnic luncheon was spread beneath the large shade trees.

Those enjoying the informal affair included Mr. and Mrs. Rex McCarger, Mrs. Albert May, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Anders, Mrs. M. Jackman, Mrs. M. Hauptert, Mrs. C. Huggins, Mrs. Perry Davis, Mrs. Ethel Bullfinch, Mrs. N. Jones, Mrs. Edward Probst, Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Neal Stewart, Miss Lila Moe, Miss Wynna Brotherton, Miss Mae Phinney, Miss Mae Mordoff, Miss Beniah May, Miss Faith Williams, Mr. Don Kenney and the hostess, Mrs. Stewart.

DOLMAN'S RETURN

Several dressy summer evening coats bring back the old-time dolman. It is predicted that many formal fall coats will give the 1929 version of the dolman which will use the tight line from the waist down, with the full, blousy upper and large sleeves.

The Greeks are thought to have used coal more than 2,000 years ago.

Mrs. Skillington Has Bridge Club

Mrs. T. R. Skillington entertained members of the Wednesday Bridge club at her home on North Tenth. Garden flowers were attractively arranged in low bowls about the rooms.

Mrs. Roy Jackson held high score.

Mrs. Marion Barnes received the consolation. Three tables were in play.

Mrs. Kenneth Smith, Mrs. E. Smith and Mrs. L. K. Porter were special guests for the afternoon.

Mrs. Kenneth Smith invited the club members to meet at her home in Hot Springs in two weeks.

FASHION HINTS

LONGER FRONTS

Evening gowns introduce the longer in front as well as the back line. They are undoubtedly more forerunners of the longer all-around modes.

STRIPED PUMPS

Satin pumps, in neutral tones, with stripes of moire in self-tone are dressy but still tailored enough to be correct for informal wear.

BUTTONED BACK

A sweet flowered silk frock, with white Peter Pan collar, buttons its waist up the back with tiny crystal buttons and button-holes outlined in color.

SPIRAL PANELS

Jenny introduces a new Princess silhouette made by using spiral sections of alternating sides of satin, broadcloth or other two-sided fabrics. The swerving line is very different looking and chic.

CARACUL JABOT

A new fall suit is made straight line, with three box pleats below the skirt's yoke and the jacket buttoned with eight matching buttons from the lower edge up to where the caracul jabot flares.

PLAID GOWNS

Plaid chiffon, in green, beige and fine line of lipstick red makes a stunning evening gown with floating long skirt and a little jacket that ties around the hips.

GREEN LINEN

Green dotted handkerchief lined fashions a sweet sleeveless blouse for a white silk jersey coat and skirt suit.

MOUNTING NECKLINES

Shallow but wide necklines are the order of the day. The use of lace in collars is growing. Rear jabots, ties and frills are new and flattering.

RESTAURANT HATS

Every wardrobe should contain one of the fine mesh turbans called "restaurant hats." They keep one's hair in place when dining and dancing on roof gardens or out in an open air casino.

CRAVAT COLLAR

A brown crepe satin jacket suit has its coat tied around the hipline and finished with a cravat collar. It may be worn open to show an egg-shell chiffon blouse with lace trim.

SLEEVELESS JACKET

The newest sports jacket is the sleeveless one that matches one long-sleeved frock. Molyneux fashions a sweet jacket frock of this type of checkered pattern in cream, orange and tan.

BRIM BOW

Reboux turns the wide brim of a natural Milan hat up sharply from the face and laces the crown's banding through the brim, tying it in a pert bow right in front.

ANSWER TO LETTER GOLF

Here is the answer to the Letter Golf puzzle on page 4.
FALL, FILL, SILL, SILK, SINK.

SPRY FOR HER AGE LONDON. — Although she is 92, Mrs. Grimwade is probably the oldest church bell-ringer in the community. She rings the bell for services at St. John's church, Horsley Cross, Essex. In addition, she takes collections and acts as sacristan. She has been working at the church ever since 1867.

A spinster encountered some boys in the old swimming hole, minus everything but nature's garb and was horrified. "Isn't it against the law to bathe without suits on, little boys?"

"Yes," announced freckled Johnny, "but Jimmy's father is a policeman, so you can come on in."

Clara Bow Figures It's Best to Keep in Form

With the warm summer months just around the corner, now is the time to resolve to remove those extra pounds. Summer is the ideal season in which to battle the problem of overweight. This is true because warm weather does not arouse one's appetite and because the body needs less fuel.

For one who is only moderately overweight, a simple diet will be found effective in removing the extra pounds without inconvenience. Clara Bow has evolved a splendid diet which she follows during the summer months to retain her graceful figure.

"One beginning the summer diet may find it difficult the first few days while breaking the habit of overeating — but don't weaken!" Miss Bow cautions.

Here's a Daily Diet

"For breakfast, drink only one large glass of orange juice. Then for luncheon eat a crisp salad without mayonnaise, a leafy vegetable, toast and tea or coffee, without cream.

"Four o'clock tea must be dispensed with and in its place take a cooling limeade or other fruit drink. Dinner should be as meatless as possible, tabouleh, pork and beef especially. Lamb chops, fish, vegetables, salads, cheese, cold conosomes and toasts are excellent items to include.

"That's all the diet, but there's just one word of advice. Don't tell anyone you're dieting! Nothing is more boring than hearing a woman talk of how she denies herself of food. Just keep it a secret, and when you begin to lose just make 'em all guess how you did it."

THE WOMAN'S DAY

SOMETIMES in the fairy tales which lurk between red and purple and gay orange covers, the fairy prince marries the kitchen wench because he sees the beauty in all her rags and ashes, needing but the fairy prince's gold for lovely gowns and jewels in order to bring it forth in all its dazzling splendor.

But it sometimes looks—in real life—as if the fairy prince always marries the fairy princess who already has all those things which the kitchen wench thinks would make a life—money and clothes and jewels and education and good times and friends and love and high station.

Let us observe, for instance, some of our nation's erstwhile most eligible bachelors and their recent captivations to Cupid.

John Coolidge, the ex-president's son, is betrothed to the daughter of a governor. Miss Florence Trumbull evidently doesn't have to worry about punching a time clock, nor whether she can find another $15 a-week typing job if she loses the one she has. She has probably never needed to decide between a spring hat and a new umbrella, nor bought her winter coat because, though not really pretty, she could "make it do" three or four years.

TO BE ENVIED In fact, most Helens and Jeans of the ribbon counter or the punch press would decide that Miss Florence Trumbull was quite to be envied even without "copping" a president's son.

Some of you may remember Gene Turney, once heavyweight champion of the world, though he is doing his best, what with smashing cameras and what not, to make the world forget that he's anybody of importance (except when he gets good pay for a testimonial or radio appearance).

Gene married one Miss Polly Lauder, heiress to millions. Another girl whom lesser girls would say was supremely blessed even without marrying handsome, rich and world-famous Gene.

And now—the hero and God divine of them all, Colonel Charles Lindbergh himself, "Lucky Lady", wed to Miss Anne Spencer Morrow, daughter of Dwight Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, a man of Wall Street, millioned to an nth degree, with all the fairy tale gifts that station of name and wealth can give.

So here you are, three of the world's most eligible young men married to three of the world's most matrimonially eligible young ladies!

So many observations could be made. No doubt there are many who, reading of these romances in the day's news, made comment to the effect that: "Young men are smart these days. They pick for wives the girls that can do them the most good as wives—girls with money, name, social station, connections that will advance them to the highest pinnacle."

There's no use evading the fact that, beloved as "Lucky Lady" is, there have been several rather bitter comments made to the effect that he didn't dare choose romance and love in place of "the best marriage."

There are doubtless thousands who reflect that Lindy probably has or probably could love some humble little girl as remote from the place in the world of an Anne Morrow as Texas Guinan is from Queen Mary.

But it is equally true that love flowers from propinquity, and that the very studious in the John Coolidges and Gene Tunneys and Colonel Lindberghs have naturally thrown them with the Florence Trumbulls and Polly Lauders and Anne Mornings more than with girls of lesser rank.

Let's believe, anyway, that real romance of the story book kind, and not calculated wisdom and caution, motivates the Colonel's "flyer."

Teacher—Johnny, how much is three and four?

Johnny—I'd like very much to tell you, teacher, but I think it'll do you more good if you look it up yourself.
