LIFE OF MOTOR DEPENDENT ON GRADE OF OIL

Regional Manager Oil Corporation Explains Lubrication

There is almost no other factor which so affects the long-life of a motor as does the quality of oil used in the crank-case, according to W. C. Pettigall, western regional manager of the Tide Water Oil Sales corporation, refiners and marketers of Veedol motor oils.

"Of course it is desirable to demand the best gasoline, and the radiator should be kept full of water to insure proper cooling and highest efficiency," Pettigall said.

"But after all, it is really the quality of the oil used, and the changed, that determines whether an engine shall run for tens of thousands of miles with its original efficiency and practically no wear, or shall gradually deteriorate until the point is reached where the car must be discarded for a new one.

"A high grade and properly designed oil provides an insulating film between the bearings and the crankshaft, between the cylinder walls and the pistons, between the valve stems and the valve guides, and in short everywhere where friction would otherwise be developed between two moving surfaces, causing wear, looseness, noise, and loss of power.

"A film of oil is really nothing more than a group of thousands of little globules which act much as do ball bearings, by rolling about between the moving surfaces, and thus practically eliminating friction.

"In a high grade oil, these minute globules maintain their 'body' over a long period, and are not easily ground up and reduced to the point where they no longer lubricate.

"Veedol, with its 100 per cent paraffine base, is noted particularly for its endurance and reliability. Long lived because it resists 'breaking down,' it is daily winning thousands of new enthusiasts, especially since its endorsement by nearly every one of the famous aviators."

GLOBE, Ariz.—John Vloss got angry with his wife recently and swore out a complaint and had his helpmate arrested for using the family car. He charged her with stealing it in his complaint. Justice of the Peace P. P. Greer, however, ruled that "A wife can't be arrested for using family property." It was revealed later that the car was jointly owned.

First Year of "400" Series Draws to End

KENOSHA, Wis., July 17.—Rounding out one of the most spectacular triumphs in the history of automobile making, the famous "400" series Nash cars, which were introduced on June 21, 1928, have completed their first anniversary of public service with a sales record greater by thousands of cars than the sales of any previous 12 months on the books of the Nash Motors company.

C. H. Bliss, general sales manager, in footing up factory sales totals from June 21, 1928, to June 20, 1929—the period in which the popular "400's" have completed their production and sales anniversary—found today that 168,269 of these new type cars were shipped from the Nash factories.

This record does not consider the usual fiscal year, but takes the new series through their first birthday with a total of 32,748 units over and above the totals shipped in the best previous 12 months of Nash manufacturing.

The biggest 12 months experienced by Nash previous to the advent of the "400's" came in 1926, when 125,521 Nash cars were shipped from the factories. In the year 1928, half of which was devoted to the manufacture of the new series, a total of 135,135 units were shipped.

"Using any basis of comparison," said Mr. Bliss, "it is plain that these twin-ignition, high compression and far advanced Nash models have won their way both to the greatest international popularity that Nash has so far attained, and to the highest factory sales records in company history. The demand for them during the 12 months from June 21, 1928, to June 20, 1929, brought about a shipment increase of some 24 per cent over the former banner Nash year of 1926. It won them an increase of 57 per cent over the number of cars shipped during the same 12 months in 1927-'28, and has brought about the company's greatest industrial success."

Doubtless the idea of coloring the enamel of bath tubs was conceived by some home brew experimenter.
