NEWS NOTES OF KENO DISTRICT

(Special To The Herald)

Velma Snowgoose, Correspondent KENO, July 24.—A new service house on the Spencer ranch is being erected by Bing Spencer. Ray Ewing is helping him in the work. The Spencer house was recently destroyed by fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ewing and son David were business visitors in Klamath Falls on Saturday.

Everett Hotchkiss of the Keno store transacted business in Klamath Falls on Wednesday. A large band of twenty-seven hundred sheep passed through this vicinity on Tuesday from the Edgewood ranch at Swan Lake to Buck Lake to their summer feeding grounds.

Keno has a new industry, that of skunk raising. Mr. Scherer has six of the fur bearing animals which he handles the same as kittens. He plans on raising a large number for their pelts.

Bobbie, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hotchkiss is reported as doing nicely after being injured Monday evening when the bumper of an automobile struck him on the back of the head, when he started to cross the highway in front of the car.

Mr. and Mrs. Tugate accompanied by Olive Trefren, Mrs. Joe Trefren and son Floyd McCabe of Butte Falls motored over to Keno via Lake O' the Woods on Saturday where they spent the evening at the Charles Snowgoose ranch. They motored home on Sunday.

O. K. Packett, logger of Hiy and sister Jessie of the May King Studio at Klamath Falls spent Monday evening here with their mother Mrs. K. E. Packett.

Mr. and Mrs. Allenby of Teeter's Landing were shopping in Klamath Falls, Monday.

H. Howard enjoyed several hours of Saturday afternoon visiting with Ben and Charles Snowgoose.

Mr. T. J. Wilson of near Worden was in Klamath Falls on Monday attending to business connected with the Health-O products.

Mr. R. A. Broyles transacted business in Klamath Falls on Wednesday.

The Charles Snowgoose family delivered about two dozen meat rabbits to the Red Rabbit Hutch on Wednesday.

It would take two billion earths placed side by side to form a continuous spherical shell around our sun at a distance equal to the earth's distance.

The Marshall House having changed hands, we wish all parties having bills against the place to please present within the next ten days.
J. W. STINSON, Mgr.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE PINE TREE To watch history in the making is more interesting than to study the records of historians. To see the living, breathing kings and queens, cardinals, soldiers and statesmen, is more absorbing than to look at their painted features.

Douglas Fairbanks, in his newest United Artists picture, "The Iron Mask," at the Pine Tree theatre now, has brought to life one of the most vivid and colorful periods of history, the French seventeenth century. Once more Louis XIII and his queen, Anne of Austria, hold court in the Palace of St. Germain. The brilliant and sinister Richelieu again controls the destiny of France.

Louis XIV is born and spends his boyhood in the shadow of his weakling father and the powerful Cardinal. D'Artagnan and his company of musketeers wage war against England and protect their ruler from the plots of Richelieu and the arch conspirator, de Rochefort.

AT THE ORPHEUS "Loves of the Desert," at the Orpheus today, is a typical Noah Beery success. In "Loves of the Desert" we see Noah Beery cast as the bandit sheik, and Olive Horden as the native princess. The story gives Noah Beery every opportunity for admirable characterization of the type that the fans delight seeing him in. Don't forget, the new prices at the Orpheus are: Children, 10 cents, and adults, 15 cents.

AT THE PELICAN Warner Baxter, whose outstanding performance as "The Cisco Kid" in "In Old Arizona," first all-outdoor Fox Movietone, won him world-wide acclaim and a long-term contract with Fox Movietone, just can't behave himself—on the screen.

As "The Cisco Kid" he was a bold, bad but romantic bandit, a sort of Robin Hood of the Arizona frontier, who used his six-shooter freely but always judiciously, never killing anyone who really didn't deserve it.

As Jack Winfield, in "Through Different Eyes," an all-dialogue Fox Movietone melodrama now at the Pelican, he betrays his best friend and attempts to elope with his wife, only to meet swift justice. He is an entirely different sort of a "bad man" in his new production, but needless to say he is a good one, so far as the portrayal is concerned.

AT THE LIBERTY You must hurry if you want to see a great story made into a great picture. "False Fire," by Octavus Roy Cohen, has been filmed by Rayart Pictures corporation under the title of "The Law and the Man," and everyone concerned in its making may well be proud of the results. Tom Satchel is the star, as the political boss of a prosperous town, with Gladys Brockwell playing opposite him as district attorney. There is a most unusual angle to the treatment of this film and if you are tired of the trite and the commonplace this will make up for it. It closes tonight at the Liberty theatre. Don't miss it.

CHINESE DROWNED SHANGHAI, July 24, (AP)—Sixty-two Chinese passengers of the China Merchants Steam Navigation company steamer Hainkong were drowned Sunday afternoon when the ship collided with the Japanese steamer Tiansu Maru of Welkhaiwee during a heavy fog.

The Hainkong sank within 20 minutes. Forty-two of those aboard were picked up by the Japanese steamer which was en route to Kobe, according to the company's information. Fog hindered the rescue work.

RANCHER WOUNDED IN WOODS

GRANTS PASS, July 21. (AP) George Holland, 27, Wilderville rancher, was in a hospital here today seriously wounded by an unknown assailant who shot him as he was strolling through a forest near his home. Hospital attendants said he would recover.

After shouting vainly for help, Holland crawled a mile and a half to his automobile where he was found.

Sherriff E. H. Lister expressed the belief that Holland was the victim of some men hunting deer out of season, and that he was mistaken for a deer.
