MRS. JOLSON QUILTS SHOW

NEW YORK, July 29, (AP)—Ruth Keeler, wife of Al Jolson, forced by illness to retire from her stellar role in "Show Girl," will be succeeded by Dorothy Stone.

Jolson informed Zeigfeld, the producer, that Miss Keeler insisted on remaining in the east until Miss Stone arrives from California Wednesday. She is studying the part en route.

Miss Keeler collapsed in her dressing room during Saturday night's performance. Her husband said her illness would necessitate an operation.

HOTTEST DAY IN KLAMATH

A scorching temperature of 96 degrees shot the cyclo-stormograph at Underwood's pharmacy up to the new high mark for the summer months today.

The pressure is falling slightly and a continuance of warm weather is indicated.

A reading of the thermometer follows:
High, 96.
Low, 65.

Other cities of Oregon suffered from the heat. At Medford and Grants Pass the temperature reached 98 degrees above.

At Umatilla people suffered under the hot sun. The temperature reading 101 degrees.

BIG CITY HAREM

LONG HAIR TEAM TAKES BOTH GAMES

Pelicans Played Good Ball, More Than 1200 Turned Out.

Evidently over-awed by the appearance of the bowlerheaded stars from Benton Harbor, Mich., the local Pelican baseball team got off to a bad start, Sunday, which in spite of a spectacular comeback, left them on the short end of the 8 to 2 score in the first game.

The House of David scored five runs in the first inning of the game and made some outstanding plays which certainly showed that long hair and beards did not curtail their baseball energy or ability to play at all. However, their constance in playing was a point in their favor as the Pelicans have had only several practices lately and couldn't hope to be in the excellent condition that the visiting team was.

A great comeback was staged in the second game when the Pelicans started much the same as the House of David did in the first game, scoring six runs in the first inning. However, the visitors steadily totalled their score to equal this and in the last half of the last inning scored two additional runs, taking the game. Only seven innings were played the last game.

The lineup for the Pelicans, first game, is as follows: Fuller, short stop; Smith, second base; Peterson, first base; R. Means, left field; C. Means, center field; Souza, right field; Mann, catcher; Beck, pitcher.

The second game, in which the Pelicans showed marked ability, had the following lineup: Burns, third base; Fuller, short stop; Smith, second base; Peterson, first base; Molatore, center field; R. Means, left field; Ellis, right field; Mann, catcher and C. Means, pitcher.

A large crowd attended the game, despite the intense heat of the afternoon. More than 1,200 watched the House of David nine outplay the Pelicans. They are a class A outfit and are easily the fastest aggregation that has been seen on the local diamond. This afternoon they are playing the Bend local team.

Sunday, August 4, will see the Bend team play the Klamath Pelicans, at Klamath Falls.

CONVICTS RUSH PRISON GATES

freedom travels fast along the "Gravine telegraph"—a mysterious method of communication known to the underworld.

Today vigilance at prisons was even more keen, four machine guns were placed on the docks at Sing Sing prison, to guard the fence that separates the prison grounds from the Hudson river.

Sunday is a day of recreation and relaxation of strict discipline in state prisons. Here and there about the Auburn yard, yesterday morning convicts lounged in groups, smoking, chatting, or playing checkers or cards.

Trusty Turns Traitor
At 1:15 p. m., a trusty strolled across the yard to where Merle Osborne, keeper of the prison key room, stood. As he neared Osborne, the trusty whipped a pistol from his clothing and fired.

Osborne fell beneath the feet of a half a hundred convicts who had sprung from all parts of the prison yard in response to the signal of the pistol shot.

As the prisoners swept over him, they snatched Osborne's keys from his pocket and headed for the arsenal. There they seized every available rifle and four sub-machine guns and rushed to the main gates.

Milton Ryther, on guard at the gate, locked the gates and threw the key over the wall into the street. Then the mob was upon him.

Under the menace of leveled rifles, Ryther backed up the stairs to the wall and into one of the guard houses near the main gate. He was followed by four convicts, two of whom according to witnesses who saw the incident from the street, carried machine guns. While one man covered Ryther, the other three swept the street in front of the prison with rifle and machine gun fire. Then the four leaped from the wall to the street.

Two of the convicts, armed with rifles, jumped into a passing car driven by Jacob Reese of Auburn and forced him to drive them out of the city. On the outskirts they compelled him to stop near an unoccupied shed which they prepared to fire. Reese bolted. Three shots were fired by the convicts, one shot puncturing his pocketbook.

Two other convicts escaped in a car which was parked outside the prison. O. R. Judd, of the Barnard fire department, and Patrolmen Pelton and Corcoran of the Auburn police department, exchanged shots with the convicts as they leaped from the wall, but were driven to take

AMAZING RESULTS ARE PRODUCED BY SARGON

Thousands of Sufferers Say Results Are Almost Unbelievable—Sense of Physical Well-Being and Mental Alertness Replaces a Dragging Body and Depressed Mind in Most All Cases of General Debility, Due to Improper Assimilation, Impaired Digestion and Poor Elimination, As Well As Blood, Liver and Nerve Disorders.

WHEN Sargon, the celebrated new medicine recently introduced in this city, is given to people who are suffering from what is commonly known as a rundown condition, due to poor assimilation, impaired digestion or improper elimination, as well as to blood and glandular disturbances, the following improvement is noted in the majority of cases:

The appetite increases, the complexion clears; gas, bloating and hyperacidity are overcome; constipation disappears and a sense of physical well-being and mental alertness replaces a dragging body and depressed mind.

All this is accomplished by stimulating and invigorating to more normal action three vital organs and fluids of the human body upon which good health so largely depends. These are the liver, blood and endocrine glands.

Sargon also contains other ingredients of recognized therapeutic value which impart tone and strength to the entire system and which have a tremendous influence upon the appetite and digestion.

Right here in Klamath Falls there are probably over 2,500 men and women who are victims of these common, every-day ailments. The great majority of them are not sick enough to be in bed or even to call a doctor. They are simply rundown and are below par both physically and mentally. Many of them struggle up in the morning and go half-heartedly at their work. They lack energy. They are sluggish and languid. They are not keen and alert.

There are still countless others who are nervous and do not sleep well. Others suffer from periodic headaches from which they get no permanent relief. Their appetites are not keen and they do not relish their food. Some are troubled with indigestion, distress after eating, flatulency, gas and bloating.

The great majority of them are troubled with constipation—the greatest curse of the human race—which poisons them and slows them up.

Most of these people are virtually slaves to the habits of dosing themselves almost daily with laxatives and cathartics that weaken the stomach and bowels, often doing more harm than good and bringing no real or permanent relief. Those with indigestion take so-called "digestive tablets" or other pleasant-tasting concoctions which afford only temporary relief, if any at all.

As a result of improper assimilation and elimination there are still other thousands who are in a toxic condition and who suffer from auto-intoxication or self-poisoning. Thousands of them can't think clearly or concentrate on what they are doing. Many of them are melancholy and depressed. Their eyes are dull. They are listless in both mind and body.

Most of these people do not know what is really wrong with themselves. How to relieve these common, every-day ailments is a problem that has perplexed Medical Science for many years. They attacked this problem as the greatest medical centers throughout the world. Many astounding discoveries were the result and many beliefs, practices and theories we have known for a lifetime.

Here are a few of the startling facts made known by this intensive world-wide investigation: First, Science found that the cause of most indigestion, shelter behind a tree by a hail of machine gun bullets.

Open Fire Over Wall
Meanwhile the remaining ring leaders of the outbreak had rushed back to the prison yard and opened fire on the guards along the top of the wall. Simultaneously some of the convicts set fire to the prison shops, while others severed power and light lines and gas pipes leading into the prison.

Fire swept the Bertillon building which housed the records, including finger prints and photographs of the prisoners; the furniture plant, the auto-plate shop and the prison kitchen. Flames also destroyed the roof of the south cell block, making about half the cells in the prison useless.

Under cover of smoke from the burning buildings, the convicts attempted to rush the walls but were driven back by fire from the guards posted along the top. Then they milled in the prison yard, rallying their forces for fresh attacks.

At the outbreak of the disturbances, the prison siren had wailed out its warning to the city and now Warden Edgar S. Jennings sent out telephone calls for assistance in quelling the riot. Fifty state troopers were rushed from the posts at Onedia and Pulaski.

Fire Captain Patrick Morrissey led his men through the gate into the prison yard. As fast as hose lines were strung, convicts slashed them into heaps of useless canvas. Morrissey attempted to interfere and was shot in the hand, a second bullet creasing his scalp. Then was warned by the convicts:

"Keep out of the way, you're too old to shoot."

Another fire engine attempted to ram its way through the wall to get closer to the fires, but failed in the attempt and burst into flames just outside the wall.

Outside the walls, confederates and sympathizers of the convicts also slashed the hose lines until a determined patrol of national guardsmen was established to protect the equipment.

With the 1,767 convicts herded into the north cell block, guards began their checkup and roll call at the same time forcing the ring leaders into individual cells and the others into such cells as were available.

When the checkup was completed early today, it was found that two convicts were dead; they were:

AIRPLANE FALLS; CAPTAIN DIES

endurance record. His five previous had ended in failures caused by motor trouble. Captain Crichton's death ended his only attempt at an endurance mark. Previously Haugland had tried four times with Gene Shank, a Minneapolis commercial flyer, and last month he had tried again with Thorwald "Thunder" Johnson. On that attempt he achieved 14 hours and 32 minutes in the air.

Dipping out of the skies this morning to drop their note of instructions for supplies and refueling, Captain Crichton dived to within 200 feet of the airport. The refueling ship, Ace High, sister ship of the Minnesota, was preparing to take off with gas for the fliers when the endurance plane was seen to slide slip. Observers said it fell "like a pancake."

Captain Crichton's body was badly mangled by the big motor. Captain Crichton was a World War veteran and a captain in the army air corps reserve. He was employed at the United States Veterans' hospital at Fort Snelling.

Doctors later said Haugland suffered a compound fracture of the skull and possible internal injuries. They expressed doubt that he would recover.

In addition to his aviation interests, Haugland owned a gasoline filling station. He is a veteran of the World War, having served in the artillery. He began flying in 1927. After completing his course, he started flying by taking Mrs. Haugland to a Marion, S. D., hospital each week for treatment. She is paralyzed.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 29. (AP)—Dale "Red" Jackson and Forest O'Brien, fliers of the St. Louis fleet, had completed 291 hours in the air at 2:17 p. m. today and had exceeded the endurance record of the Angeleno by 145 hours or six full days.

Cylinders Getting Weak
Shortly before noon the fliers dropped a message for Chaffee, answering an inquiry concerning the condition of the motor. It read:

"Dear Shorty: Our old motor turns up just as much now as when we took off. We know we have a couple (of cylinders) getting weak. Have been that way for the last 100 hours. Number four and number six. Can tell easy at night, but we still fly at 1,350-1,300 (revolutions per minute) easy, not using as much gas, a little more oil. The gaskets on the push rods are leaking. I was sleeping up to the time Oble threw out the note. (First one today) sure can sleep, just go up and find the temp. (temperature) and saw it off. Hoping we put-but for another week. Regards, Red."

Reporters Slapped
Jackson and O'Brien took to task the reporters at the field who are awaiting their return to earth. In a note dropped yesterday they objected to some of the articles in papers sent up to them, especially regarding the use of lights at night and the newspapermen's walling because of sleeping on cots at the field while on the "endurance watch."

WOMEN WANT ROOM
LONDON, July 29.—The increase in the number of women Parliament members argues well for the strengthening rights of women, but nevertheless, the feminine members are raising a kick. The sitting room allotted to them is inadequate, they claim. Despite the increase in their numbers, the same room which used to accommodate one member, Lady Astor, suffices for them.

PLEASES THE FIREMAN
NEW YORK, July 29.—People with a passion for sending in false fire alarms should either refrain in the future or prepare for a short stay in a nice cozy jail. A recently adopted alarm introduced here will send in the alarm and at the same instant photograph the sender. In case of a false call the film can be developed and the sender found.

HAVE YOU SEEN HOMEDALE

If you want to see one of the prettiest productive acreage subdivisions in Klamath County, just drive out Sixth Street about 3 miles and turn to the right at the "Homedale" sign.

There you will see corn 5 feet high right now. Beans, peas, onions, lettuce, cabbage, potatoes, squash and everything that a garden should grow.
