

NEWS IN BRIEF

Girl Scouts Leaving—

The Girl Scouts, under of Mrs. Larsen at La Pointe's and Miss M. Dillingham, will leave for Lake O' The Woods on Sunday, August 11th for an outing of one week. A fee of $5 is being charged for the week's outing. Girls planning to make the trip are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Larsen.

The Camp Fire Girls will enjoy an outing from the 11 to 18 of August at Lake O' The Woods. Mrs. A. R. Dickson and Mrs. Ralph Adams will chaperone the girls. They will occupy the camp where the Boy Scouts camped, as will the Girl Scouts the following week.

Dr. Booth Talks Tomorrow—

Dr. John H. Booth, holder of the stewardship of the United Christian Missionary Society, will speak at the First Christian church tomorrow morning at 11, according to announcement made today by Rev. V. K. Allison. Dr. Booth is with the church erection department and will bring an important message in his sermon tomorrow.

Looking for Brother—

Mrs. N. E. Roe of Racine, Wisconsin, is in Klamath Falls yesterday. Mrs. Roe came here to visit her brother whom she thought had been residing in Klamath Falls for a number of years. She was unable to locate him or anyone who knew of him, and returned south this morning.

Robertson Leaves—

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Robertson, who have made their home in Klamath Falls for the past year, are leaving this evening for Portland to make their future home. They will be accompanied by their daughter, Joan, who has been a popular member of the high school set in Klamath Falls.

Here From Wenatchee—

Howard McNamara of Wenatchee, Wash., is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dixon on Portland avenue. He will remain here until September when he will return north to resume his school work. Mr. McNamara is a nephew of Mrs. Dixon.

Malarkey Doing Nicely—

According to word received here by Tom Delsell of the California Oregon Power company, condition of Tom Malarkey is reporting showing steady improvement. Mr. Malarkey submitted to a major operation on Monday in Portland.

Wedding Trip Through North—

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore S. Dement, nee Margaret Ann Hargus, are enjoying a wedding tour through the north. They plan to return home the middle of August.

Returned From North—

Miss Helen Turner returned Sunday from Sutherlin, Ore., where she has been enjoying a visit with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Turner. Miss Turner is a resident of the Loraine district.

Returning to Los Angeles—

Mrs. Henrietta Neely is returning to her home in Los Angeles after visiting for two weeks with Mrs. J. E. Loreman, her sister, on High street. While here Mrs. Neely enjoyed a trip to Crater and Diamond Lakes.

To Sing at Church—

Miss Ruth Doddridge, Aberdeen, Wash., a visitor in Klamath Falls, will sing on Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian church.

Leaving for San Francisco—

Miss Sarah Jane and Billy La Masters left several days ago for San Francisco, Calif., where they will spend some time visiting friends and relatives. They will also visit in Sacramento.

Sims Returned North—

E. Sims of the Western Union returned last night to Eugene after transacting business here for several days.

Here On Business—

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Lewis of Medford are in the city for a short time on business. They arrived last evening.

Los Angeles Visitors—

Los Angeles residents who are registered at local hotels include Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Harbour and Miss Allen.

At Arcade Hotel—

Joe Wheaton of Centralia, Washington, is among the out of town visitors in the city today. Mr. Wheaton plans to remain here a short time on business.

Here From Dunsmuir—

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Thomer of Dunsmuir arrived here this morning to spend a short time on business.

Here From Ivan—

Mr. and Mrs. Cummings, residents of Ivan, were in the city yesterday on a shopping trip.

Costello Returned—

M. J. Costello, Great Northern official, has returned north to Portland following a brief official visit here.

Camp Fire Girls—

Camp Fire Girls are asked to meet at the Klamath Union High school on Wednesday afternoon, August seventh at 2:30 o'clock.

Cards Distributed—

A campaign opened this morning by Postmaster John McCall makes for better addresses. Initial step was the distributing of some 500 cards which read as follows: "You can help us eliminate delayed and lost mail if you will notify the post office immediately of your old and new addresses, when you move. Remember, our directory is what you make it. Get a change of address blank from your carrier or from the post office; or you may mail this information on an ordinary postcard or by letter. Roomers should have their mail addressed in care of the persons whose names appear upon the residence or apartment mail receptacles. Subscribers should promptly notify publishers of changed address and save delay in delivery of their mail."

Cup Winner—

Thirty-nine marriage licenses were issued during the month of July through the offices of the county clerk, according to a check made this morning by C. R. Delap, county clerk. Only nine divorce cases were filed during the entire month of July with most of them on the charge of cruel and inhuman treatment. If the first few days of August are a criterion, this month should far exceed both marriage and divorce totals. Six divorce cases were filed yesterday in circuit court.

Attorney Bacon Home—

Attorney J. R. Bacon has returned from Tennessee, where he was called by the passing of his mother, who was laid to rest on July 23. Attorney Bacon reports many wonderful developments through the south. "It is especially noticeable the wonderful improvements being carried on in building new highways," he commented.

New Letter Box—

Postmaster John McCall stated this morning that a new letter box has been placed just adjacent to the front door of the post office on Klamath avenue. This has been put up for the benefit of patrons who have letters and cards to be mailed between the hours of 11 p. m. and 8 a. m.

Miss Ulrich Leaving—

Miss Kathryn Ulrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ulrich, leaves tomorrow for a three-weeks' trip into Alaska. Before sailing, Miss Ulrich, with a college chum, Miss Floriet Janell, will visit in Portland, Seattle and other northern cities.

Bunnell Returning—

C. G. Bunnell of the Western Union is returning north on this evening's train to Portland. For the past two weeks Mr. Bunnell has been here at the local office attending to business matters.

Mrs. Perkins Left—

Mrs. H. E. Perkins, wife of Attorney Perkins left last night for an extended trip through the east where she will visit relatives and friends. Mrs. Perkins plans to spend most of her time in Kansas City, Mo.

Leave for San Francisco—

Miss Sarah Jane and Billy La Masters left several days ago for San Francisco, Calif., where they will spend some time visiting friends and relatives. They will also visit in Sacramento.

Sims Returned North—

E. Sims of the Western Union returned last night to Eugene after transacting business here for several days.

OBITUARY

OLGA ELEANOR KIRK-PATRICK.

Friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral services for the late Olga Eleanor Kirk-Patrick to be held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the family plot in Picard cemetery. The remains are in the gold room of the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home, Pine Avenue at Sixth where friends may call until Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

ANTONIO FAGANELLO.

Antonio Fagnello, a resident of Algoma, passed away Thursday night. He was a native of Italy and aged 40 years at the time of death. He is survived by his wife Italia Fagnello, a daughter Aida, six brothers, Peter, of Chiloquin; Thomas, of Algoma; Giacomo, Angelo, Leo and Bartolo, all of Italy; two sisters, Mrs. Emma Fagnello of Portland, and Prima Fagnello of Italy.

JOHN SHEPARD.

Friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral services for the late John Shepard to be held Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home, Pine Avenue at Sixth, to be conducted under the auspices of the Sons of Italy. Interment will be made in Linville cemetery.

AGE REMAINS SECRET.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—More than five million women in the British Isles will be saved the embarrassment of a possible fib when they register for their first vote. The form they will fill in merely requires them to "State whether aged 21 years or over—yes or no."

HERALD CLASSIFIED ADS BRING RESULTS

Bank Nearing Completion—

White face brick now compose the outside walls of the new Bank of Lakeview building, where before the dark plastered walls shaded the streets. Work is progressing rapidly on the new structure, under the direction of L. A. Underwood. The brick laying is in a form of completion, although the finishing touches have not been established. Eventually to make their appearance will be four large white pillars in front, giving a Grecian effect to the entire building. The curved arches above the windows are already a feature noticed by many.—Lakeview Examiner.

NEWS NOTES OF MALIN

(Special to The Herald)

MALIN, Aug. 2.—Haying is practically finished in this locality. Large stacks of hay are seen all over the country. The crops are unusually large, especially in the lake homesteads, where new fields are in evidence. Hay buyers have been buying and shipping hay for the past week, and are still on the job.

Mr. Henry Krupka is working at the cheese factory during the absence of John Reber, who is on his vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Reber went to Bandon and Portland.

Fritz Kendig and Ollie Westlake are spending the week on a fishing trip.

Mrs. Stills and baby daughter are home from the hospital in Klamath Falls. The baby is the second daughter.

Mrs. Teresa Kriz, from Chicago, is visiting her niece, Mrs. I. Copek, at the ranch near Malin. The inspection station at the California line is being remodelled. A fill has been made and the station grounds are to be made more attractive with a lawn and flowers as soon as possible.

Ivan Petrasek and David Myers went to Antelope creek on a fishing trip. They left Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Delaney and Mrs. Lambert were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Crockett Holbrook on Wednesday.

Mrs. H. D. Minnis has returned to their camp near Lakeview. She has been at the homestead on Tule lake.

Mrs. Corpening and Leo Donevan were in the Malin for supplies from the Corpening camp on Tule lake on Thursday afternoon. R. O. Dobrosky was a business visitor in the county seat on Thursday.

Everett L. Johnson left Thursday for Idaho on a business trip. John McMillan was a business caller in Malin Thursday. Mr. McMillan lives on the Straw district.

Miss Lillian Spolek is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Posvar in Yuba City, California. She expects to spend a month away.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunnicutt have moved to Merrill. Mr. Hunnicutt has finished his work with the reclamation near Malin.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Lake have returned to their home in Eugene after a few weeks' visit in friends.

Lucille Stewart spent a week visiting at the home of Mrs. Kaylor at Mt. Laki. She returned home Tuesday.

Little Lillian Zimar had a narrow escape when a young colt kicked her. She was taken to the hospital where she was cared for. Internal injuries were found to result as was at first feared. She is recovering and is at home.

Miss Gladys Havlina and Cecil Sheyna were married last Saturday and have gone to Ashland on a two week trip. Mr. Cheyne is the daughter of Mrs. Anna Havlina of Malin and one of the prominent young people of this section of the country. Mr. Cheyne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cheyne of Mt. Laki. They are engaged to live in Malin.

Frank and John Toffel, Byron Myers, and Lester Wilson spent the week end at Ashland.

Mr. and Mrs. Westburg, their daughter Ellen and M. O. Deeman were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Myers on Sunday.

Another new electric sign is being added to the number already in Malin. An electric sign is being hung on Kellins' building. Malin now has more electric signs and displays than any other town of its size in this part of the country.

FLO ANN SHOP OPENED TODAY

Formal opening of the Flo Ann shop was held this morning in the Pelican theatre building. The shop is one of the most modern styled in southern Oregon and is devoted entirely to styles in coats and dresses for women and misses. Flo Kreitzer and Ann Agee, formerly of Eugene, are owners of the shop.

Butter and eggs may be dairy products, but the term "butter and egg man" belongs to the theatrical profession by prior

AT THE THEATRES

Fay Wray and George Bancroft in a scene from the Paramount Picture "Thunderbolt"

AT THE PELICAN.
Tense, suspenseful drama, in a setting as intriguing as any ever brought to the screen, comes to the Pelican Theatre, starting Sunday for three days, when "Thunderbolt," George Bancroft's new all-talking picture shows here. The gripping situations, surpassing the tremendous episodes of "Underworld," pulse with life-giving dialog and sound.

Harlem, New York's Negro district, with all its sinister, hidden underworld, is revealed in the screen as it actually is. Bancroft portrays the part of a hard-fighting gang boss in love with Fay Wray, Eric von Stroheim's beautiful heroine of "The Wedding March." The girl refuses Bancroft and, in an effort to go straight, turns to and discovery rights. It replaced the old term of similar meaning, "angel."

That is the basis of the title given one of the biggest comedy-drama hits the speaking stage has ever presented.

A film version of "The Butler and Egg Man," equally entertaining and a bit more dramatic than the play, will give the patrons of the Orpheus Theatre a glimpse behind the scenes of play-producing Sunday. Jack Mulhall is featured in the title role.

Greta Gibson is leading lady in the picture and in the play within the picture, Gertrude Astor, Sam Hardy, William Demarest and other notable film players enact roles of actresses, actors, stage directors, stage producers and other attaches of Broadway play production.

Admirers of T. M. Mix—and that includes just about everybody if one may judge from the record-breaking crowds that mobbed railroad stations and theatres to greet him on his recent vaudeville tour of the Oregon-Albee-Orpheum circuit—are soon to have an opportunity of seeing their favorite in a

There is not a single unexciting moment in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer adaptation of Bernard Vellier's enormously popular stage play, which contains some of the best dialogue ever written for an American melodrama. The pace and tempo are perfectly adjusted so that the audience is gripped in a continually flowing web of suspense until the very last minute of the play. At the same time there are a sufficient number of comic episodes to prevent the tone of the play from becoming too morbid.

If taken to courtroom trials and reading accounts of them is the great national pastime, someone remarked, the present picture craving of the most avid. "Mary Dugan" has only one main setting—that of a courtroom in which a gripping murder trial is taking place, but so well constructed is the story, and so immediate its appeal, that this single set serves every need.

Norma Shearer, H. B. Warner, Lewis Stone and Raymond Hackett give outstandingly fine performances in this illustration of what the talking pictures can accomplish. Miss Shearer had never appeared before, either on the stage or on the "talkie set," but she distinguishes herself by a beautifully paced emotional characterization in this very trying role. Little need be said of the exceptional talent which Warner and Stone always bring to the screen; they are even better in these speaking parts than in their former silent roles. Every member of the cast was selected with the help of Mr. Vellier, author of the play, who went to the Coast to direct the picture, and on his return expressed the conviction that the talking film is the greatest entertainment medium yet devised.

It is unnecessary to reveal the plot structure, or the unique means by which the actual culprit is unearthed. One may only say that those who have seen the play are likely to find the picture even more fascinating, and those who have only heard of "Mary Dugan" are certain to come away enthusiastic.

AT THE ORPHEUS.
Butter and eggs may be dairy products, but the term "butter and egg man" belongs to the theatrical profession by prior

AT THE PINE TREE.
"The Trial of Mary Dugan" is a great show for those who like one hundred per cent, effective melodrama intelligently handled. An all-talking production which carries more "punch" than almost any stage play, the new picture at the Pine Tree Theatre Sunday will undoubtedly

AT THE LIBERTY.
Admirers of T. M. Mix—and that includes just about everybody if one may judge from the record-breaking crowds that mobbed railroad stations and theatres to greet him on his recent vaudeville tour of the Oregon-Albee-Orpheum circuit—are soon to have an opportunity of seeing their favorite in a

AT THE PELICAN.
Tense, suspenseful drama, in a setting as intriguing as any ever brought to the screen, comes to the Pelican Theatre, starting Sunday for three days, when "Thunderbolt," George Bancroft's new all-talking picture shows here. The gripping situations, surpassing the tremendous episodes of "Underworld," pulse with life-giving dialog and sound.

Harlem, New York's Negro district, with all its sinister, hidden underworld, is revealed in the screen as it actually is. Bancroft portrays the part of a hard-fighting gang boss in love with Fay Wray, Eric von Stroheim's beautiful heroine of "The Wedding March." The girl refuses Bancroft and, in an effort to go straight, turns to and discovery rights. It replaced the old term of similar meaning, "angel."

That is the basis of the title given one of the biggest comedy-drama hits the speaking stage has ever presented.

A film version of "The Butler and Egg Man," equally entertaining and a bit more dramatic than the play, will give the patrons of the Orpheus Theatre a glimpse behind the scenes of play-producing Sunday. Jack Mulhall is featured in the title role.

Greta Gibson is leading lady in the picture and in the play within the picture, Gertrude Astor, Sam Hardy, William Demarest and other notable film players enact roles of actresses, actors, stage directors, stage producers and other attaches of Broadway play production.

Admirers of T. M. Mix—and that includes just about everybody if one may judge from the record-breaking crowds that mobbed railroad stations and theatres to greet him on his recent vaudeville tour of the Oregon-Albee-Orpheum circuit—are soon to have an opportunity of seeing their favorite in a

There is not a single unexciting moment in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer adaptation of Bernard Vellier's enormously popular stage play, which contains some of the best dialogue ever written for an American melodrama. The pace and tempo are perfectly adjusted so that the audience is gripped in a continually flowing web of suspense until the very last minute of the play. At the same time there are a sufficient number of comic episodes to prevent the tone of the play from becoming too morbid.

If taken to courtroom trials and reading accounts of them is the great national pastime, someone remarked, the present picture craving of the most avid. "Mary Dugan" has only one main setting—that of a courtroom in which a gripping murder trial is taking place, but so well constructed is the story, and so immediate its appeal, that this single set serves every need.

Norma Shearer, H. B. Warner, Lewis Stone and Raymond Hackett give outstandingly fine performances in this illustration of what the talking pictures can accomplish. Miss Shearer had never appeared before, either on the stage or on the "talkie set," but she distinguishes herself by a beautifully paced emotional characterization in this very trying role. Little need be said of the exceptional talent which Warner and Stone always bring to the screen; they are even better in these speaking parts than in their former silent roles. Every member of the cast was selected with the help of Mr. Vellier, author of the play, who went to the Coast to direct the picture, and on his return expressed the conviction that the talking film is the greatest entertainment medium yet devised.

It is unnecessary to reveal the plot structure, or the unique means by which the actual culprit is unearthed. One may only say that those who have seen the play are likely to find the picture even more fascinating, and those who have only heard of "Mary Dugan" are certain to come away enthusiastic.

AT THE ORPHEUS.
Butter and eggs may be dairy products, but the term "butter and egg man" belongs to the theatrical profession by prior

RAILROAD WILL BUILD SPUR TRACK

The Southern Pacific company is building a siding from Chiloquin to the Pelican.

The siding will extend from the Chiloquin water tank to the neighborhood of $25,000. Work will start on the siding this week. Already a car or more of creosoted ties have arrived and an extra gang will do the work.

This move on the part of the Southern Pacific speaks well for Chiloquin as well as other sections along the Cascade division. The extension signifies that the railroad company's business is increasing and this means more business for Chiloquin with the increased number of train crews stopping there and other business that they bring.

YOU CAN'T DO THAT

TRINIDAD, COLO., Aug. 3.—Renting a house and then moving it because the location does not suit, is not quite according to Hoyle. That's why Charles Langowski, who moved a three-room cottage from one town to another, without the owner's consent, was lodged in jail here.

screen role somewhat different from his former representations. This will be when the famed Western star comes to the Liberty Theatre on Sunday in "Son of the Golden West," first of a series of special productions that he is making this season.

Not that the hard-riding, straight-shooting "cow" has abandoned his faithful and sure-footed horse, Tony, partner in all his cowboy photoplays, and has gone in for society drama in the new offering. But the period which it concerns in our national history is one before the great West became the "cow country" which Mix has so successfully presented on the screen and the "Son of the Golden West" whom he depicts is a "pony express" rider rather than a cowboy.

Laid in the wild and picturesque days when the overland trail was followed across plains and mountains by the pioneers who civilized the wilderness. This striking production is a colorful drama of action, replete with Indian ambushes, attacks of outlaws upon the pony express riders and other stirring events that marked the old West in Civil War times and before.

Sharon Lynn, screen beauty and actress of experience, has the leading feminine role, and other players in the big cast are Tom McWhorter, Duke B. Lee, Lee Shumway, Fritzi Ridgeway, Jole Ray, Mark Hamilton and Wynne Mace.

Admirers of T. M. Mix—and that includes just about everybody if one may judge from the record-breaking crowds that mobbed railroad stations and theatres to greet him on his recent vaudeville tour of the Oregon-Albee-Orpheum circuit—are soon to have an opportunity of seeing their favorite in a

There is not a single unexciting moment in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer adaptation of Bernard Vellier's enormously popular stage play, which contains some of the best dialogue ever written for an American melodrama. The pace and tempo are perfectly adjusted so that the audience is gripped in a continually flowing web of suspense until the very last minute of the play. At the same time there are a sufficient number of comic episodes to prevent the tone of the play from becoming too morbid.

If taken to courtroom trials and reading accounts of them is the great national pastime, someone remarked, the present picture craving of the most avid. "Mary Dugan" has only one main setting—that of a courtroom in which a gripping murder trial is taking place, but so well constructed is the story, and so immediate its appeal, that this single set serves every need.

Norma Shearer, H. B. Warner, Lewis Stone and Raymond Hackett give outstandingly fine performances in this illustration of what the talking pictures can accomplish. Miss Shearer had never appeared before, either on the stage or on the "talkie set," but she distinguishes herself by a beautifully paced emotional characterization in this very trying role. Little need be said of the exceptional talent which Warner and Stone always bring to the screen; they are even better in these speaking parts than in their former silent roles. Every member of the cast was selected with the help of Mr. Vellier, author of the play, who went to the Coast to direct the picture, and on his return expressed the conviction that the talking film is the greatest entertainment medium yet devised.

It is unnecessary to reveal the plot structure, or the unique means by which the actual culprit is unearthed. One may only say that those who have seen the play are likely to find the picture even more fascinating, and those who have only heard of "Mary Dugan" are certain to come away enthusiastic.

AT THE ORPHEUS.
Butter and eggs may be dairy products, but the term "butter and egg man" belongs to the theatrical profession by prior

AT THE PELICAN.
Tense, suspenseful drama, in a setting as intriguing as any ever brought to the screen, comes to the Pelican Theatre, starting Sunday for three days, when "Thunderbolt," George Bancroft's new all-talking picture shows here. The gripping situations, surpassing the tremendous episodes of "Underworld," pulse with life-giving dialog and sound.

Harlem, New York's Negro district, with all its sinister, hidden underworld, is revealed in the screen as it actually is. Bancroft portrays the part of a hard-fighting gang boss in love with Fay Wray, Eric von Stroheim's beautiful heroine of "The Wedding March." The girl refuses Bancroft and, in an effort to go straight, turns to and discovery rights. It replaced the old term of similar meaning, "angel."

That is the basis of the title given one of the biggest comedy-drama hits the speaking stage has ever presented.

A film version of "The Butler and Egg Man," equally entertaining and a bit more dramatic than the play, will give the patrons of the Orpheus Theatre a glimpse behind the scenes of play-producing Sunday. Jack Mulhall is featured in the title role.

Greta Gibson is leading lady in the picture and in the play within the picture, Gertrude Astor, Sam Hardy, William Demarest and other notable film players enact roles of actresses, actors, stage directors, stage producers and other attaches of Broadway play production.

Admirers of T. M. Mix—and that includes just about everybody if one may judge from the record-breaking crowds that mobbed railroad stations and theatres to greet him on his recent vaudeville tour of the Oregon-Albee-Orpheum circuit—are soon to have an opportunity of seeing their favorite in a

There is not a single unexciting moment in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer adaptation of Bernard Vellier's enormously popular stage play, which contains some of the best dialogue ever written for an American melodrama. The pace and tempo are perfectly adjusted so that the audience is gripped in a continually flowing web of suspense until the very last minute of the play. At the same time there are a sufficient number of comic episodes to prevent the tone of the play from becoming too morbid.

If taken to courtroom trials and reading accounts of them is the great national pastime, someone remarked, the present picture craving of the most avid. "Mary Dugan" has only one main setting—that of a courtroom in which a gripping murder trial is taking place, but so well constructed is the story, and so immediate its appeal, that this single set serves every need.

Norma Shearer, H. B. Warner, Lewis Stone and Raymond Hackett give outstandingly fine performances in this illustration of what the talking pictures can accomplish. Miss Shearer had never appeared before, either on the stage or on the "talkie set," but she distinguishes herself by a beautifully paced emotional characterization in this very trying role. Little need be said of the exceptional talent which Warner and Stone always bring to the screen; they are even better in these speaking parts than in their former silent roles. Every member of the cast was selected with the help of Mr. Vellier, author of the play, who went to the Coast to direct the picture, and on his return expressed the conviction that the talking film is the greatest entertainment medium yet devised.

It is unnecessary to reveal the plot structure, or the unique means by which the actual culprit is unearthed. One may only say that those who have seen the play are likely to find the picture even more fascinating, and those who have only heard of "Mary Dugan" are certain to come away enthusiastic.

AT THE ORPHEUS.
Butter and eggs may be dairy products, but the term "butter and egg man" belongs to the theatrical profession by prior

Knight's Cafe Installs G. E. Refrigeration

A progressive step which will mark Knight's cafe, well-known restaurant, as one of the best equipped eating places in the state, has just been made by the proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Knight of this city.

In order to give their patrons the best foods and service obtainable, they have just installed a large, new General Electric commercial refrigerator with a capacity of 50 cubic feet. This fine new refrigerating system, which was purchased from the California Oregon Power company, is the same type as used by some of the leading hotels and cafes in America and should insure the proper preservation of all foods served by this popular local restaurant.