GUARANTEE GOES WITH MILLER TIRES

Company Puts Out Perfect Tire at Moderate Price.

In these days where there's a party somewhere every day, the average man aims to keep his car running as fit as a fire-engine. No time for break-downs today! Old Dobbin in his day could last around between meeting-time and next week, but the family car has to keep on the go. Especially when the wife drives it.

"That's why men expect lots more from their tires now than ever before," say Miller Tire men. "Never before has a tire been created combining all of the virtues that make it good enough to satisfy the average man until the Miller Rubber company set out to make a perfect tire at a moderate price. The famous Geared-to-the-Road anti-skid tread design was redesigned, cut deeper, made thicker, and additional rubber used in it, so that it fairly geared itself to the road on each revolution. Inside, this tire carries vastly more strength than any previous tire in its field.

"We aren't making our claims on the basis of specially built tires but on 'stock models'—the same tires we sell out of our own store. "The tires we tested against the present up-to-date stock tires of 13 leading competitors. The results showed us that Miller's new Geared-to-the-Road tire far outwears any tire in its price class."

To make this statement means something to the average man, the Miller Rubber company guarantees every tire of this style to outwear any competitive tire of the same price class when run under the same conditions.

Miller dealers are now displaying this new tire and giving detailors of the new guarantee. This, it is stated, is the broadest and fairest guarantee ever instituted in a keenly active and highly competitive field.

She has never been a girl who has liked the excitement of parties. After a hard day's work at the studio she always seeks the haven of home, where she can enjoy a good book in front of a crackling fire, or listen to the strains of some restful song from Olivia Borden, who portrays the stellar role in "Come to My House," at the Liberty theatre, is a direct contradiction to the parts she plays. She is really a single little apartment or a small bungalow.

At the Liberty

George Bernard Shaw postponed his 73rd birthday. But you can't beat the income tax that way, George.

At the Pine Tree

The coming of Fannie Brice is always an event in the entertainment world! And now that unique person comes in quite another medium—the motion picture—her first!

It is "My Man," a Warner Bros. Special production, being built around the vaudeville sketch which Fannie has made famous everywhere in revues and on the vaudeville stage.

The story was written by Mark Canfield and adapted for the screen by Robert Lord. The supporting cast includes Guilan Williams, Edna Murphy, Andre Segura, Richard Tucker, Billy Seay, Arthur Hoyt, Ann Brody and Clara Selwyn.

No lover of drama or of fun should miss seeing Fannie Brice in "My Man," at the Pine Tree theatre now.

At the Pelican

Three of the most exciting words in the English language compose the title of the Pelican theatre feature for three days, starting today. It is "The Studio Murder Mystery" and the story is as exciting and thrilling as its title. A cast of stars, many of them high-chiefs of the Broadway stage, act this strange and highly entertaining drama of a mystery originating in the dim shadows of a moving picture studio and involving six of Hollywood's most absorbing characters.

At the Orpheus

Do you ever wonder what is going on in the wings and backstage when you attend a legitimate theatre?

You'll find out, at least to a certain extent, in "Lady Be Good," First National's farce comedy featuring Dorothy MacKail and Jack Mulhall, at the theatre now.

"Lady Be Good" is a story of vaudeville performers, with most of it occurring in the dressing rooms and backstage. Arguments, quarrels, disagreements, all sorts of things, may be happening just a few feet from the stage. But when the entrance call comes, sentences are halted, arguments are temporarily abandoned, fixed smiles appear like magic, and the battlers go capering out to do their turn.
