Thoughts We've Been Thinking

Why Not Use Some Common Sense With State Advertising Fund? Frank Branch Riley Could Use Fund to Good Advantage at Los Angeles. Townley Decided a Prohibition is Failure. East Shaken by Quakes. Gloom Embracers Close Gresham Races — That's Why Portland is Portland.

—By BRUCE DENNIS—

THOUGHTS WHY not use some common sense with the $25,000 advertising fund which has been provided by the state?

Those who offer the suggestion that any portion of this should be spent at home are mistaken and they will suffer the indictment of attempting to get their hand into the fund provided by the state for advertising Oregon.

AND while we are on the subject of outside advertising let us call attention again to the Ide exhibit in Los Angeles. This should be extended and the advertising should be greater in the city of Los Angeles to attract people to the exhibit where information can be obtained on this state.

It might also be well to have one at Salt Lake, another gateway into the western country.

Those of us at home who are working away as we have for the last 25 years, want none of the advertising fund which the state has provided. It might be well to consider the fund being spent by our good friend Frank Branch Riley. While it does not come from the taxpayers pocket, it does come from a number of Portland citizens, who also pay taxes.

INSTEAD of Mr. Riley continuing his trips around the country, we would place him in Los Angeles where he would give regular lectures to assist W. G. Ide and not be scattering his shots over a bunch of highbrows in eastern colleges and on men, who never intend to come here except on a pleasure trip. When they do come, they expect to be entertained at the expense of the taxpayer or individuals.

We do not want to be hard on Frank Riley, because we love him, but we do think his general plan is not well focused for a state like Oregon. If the state chamber of commerce will put him to work every day in the week giving lectures in the city of Los Angeles to the crowded houses which he would have from the tourists, then he would be getting results, and it would not be costing any $25,000 or $30,000 a year to a few of the boys in Portland, who are footing the bills, but apparently doing so very willingly.

A. C. TOWNLEY, who electrified the country a few years ago with his non-partisan league doctrine, from North Dakota, has now decided that the prohibition law is a failure and he is starting out to form a general "wet" organization throughout the nation. We would respectfully commend him to Mrs. Mable Willebrandt, who probably can take care of all his undertakings.

EARTHQUAKE shakes the east. This headline may cause some pleasure to westerners who have suffered under the load of suspicion that earthquakes in this nation could only occur on the west coast.

OR WAS it an earthquake that shocked the east? It might have been Mabel Willebrandt's expose of the traffic around Washington, D. C.

FIRES STILL RAGING IN NORTHWEST

Washington Badly Hit By Number of Blazes.

HIGH WINDS AND LOW HUMIDITY BAD

Perfect Forest Fire Conditions Prevail, Say Foresters, Who are Struggling to Bring Hundreds of Blazes Under Control. Rain Badly Needed.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 13. (AP)— Perfect forest fire conditions caused by high winds and low humidity today had urged old and smoldering fires into roaring activity and had started hundreds of new blazes throughout the northwest.

In Canada, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana major conflagrations were eating rapidly through thousands of acres of merchantable timber, causing losses which may run into millions of dollars, and forest officials were unable to predict when the thousands of men fighting the blazes could get them under control.

Canada Contributes Men Eight hundred men, including 300 Doukhobors rushed from Grand Forks, B. C., were working desperately to quell the Dollar mountain blaze in north central Washington. This conflagration, a crown fire roaring through an immensely valuable stand of yellow pine, is being fought by men from the United States.

COMMISSION ASKED TO MEET

To preserve the timber along the Lakeriver highway and the Green Springs highway was the mission of an invitation extended by the Board of Directors of the Klamath Falls chamber of commerce Tuesday to the highway commissioners of the state.

It is believed they will respond at once and the chamber will also invite the ladies of the Garden club to participate in the meeting as soon as the date of the arrival of the commissioners can be announced.

There is a feeling that the time to save the timber on these two highways is right now; that commercial operation of the logging companies will soon start, and that unless action is taken to form some friendly agreement with the timber owners to spare the trees along the road, there may be havoc wrought with the natural beauty of these sections.

Secretary of Interior Wilbur, on his visit to this city, dwelt at length upon a system of roads to connect the natural parks of Oregon and California. He also indicated that to cut timber along these highways would be a crime against posterity. With such able backing from the federal government, with the state already equipped to do something substantial to preserve the timber and with local people standing ready to aid in any way that they can, the directors believed there could be something worked out within a short time.

Alleged Robbery Turns Out to Be Flimsy Hoax

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 13. (AP)— Painted by the supposed victims as a daring daylight holdup in which they were "taken for a ride" and forced to hand over $3080 box office receipts of the Hippodrome theatre to two gunmen, the details of a flimsy hoax were under investigation today, following an asserted confession by both principals.

COULDN'T BOTHER TO STAND BY

PORTLAND, Aug. 13. (AP)— When Inez Folkensberry crashed the automobile she was driving into a speeding coupe this morning and overturned it she was relieved to see that the driver was not badly hurt.

She knew he wasn't because he jumped up and took to his heels. Traffic investigators called to the scene found that four sacks of sugar, six cases of empty pint bottles, one case of compressed yeast and 15 gallons of coal oil had been piled from the coupe. Police were checking up on the Portland license today.

PLEDGE AID TO STATE CHAMBER

Assistance to the state chamber of commerce will not be denied by Klamath county, according to the attitude expressed by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce Tuesday. All agree that installation of the G. W. Ide exhibit at Los Angeles is of more benefit to the state than anything that has happened in a long period of time. But the chamber is anxious to know just what other counties have given to the movement and for that reason action was withheld Tuesday until definite information could be received.

Another thing taken up was the probability of installing an exhibit from this county in the California state fair pavilion at Sacramento. The agricultural committee will handle this the same as it will handle the potato show which will be given in San Francisco instead of Klamath Falls this year. The plan to hold the potato show in the Bay City follows out the idea of getting the buyers interested in Klamath Falls Potatoes.

WOMAN'S PAGE TO BE PRINTED

Commencing today, the Evening Herald will run a Woman's Page one each week which will be devoted to matters of interest to women.

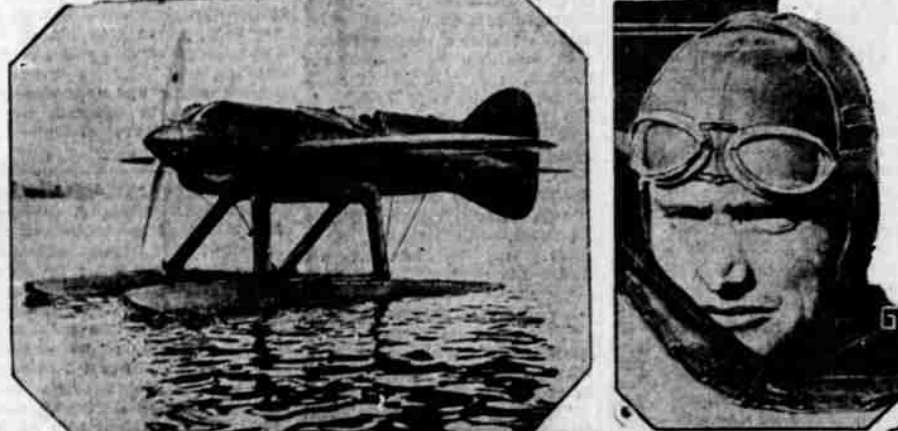

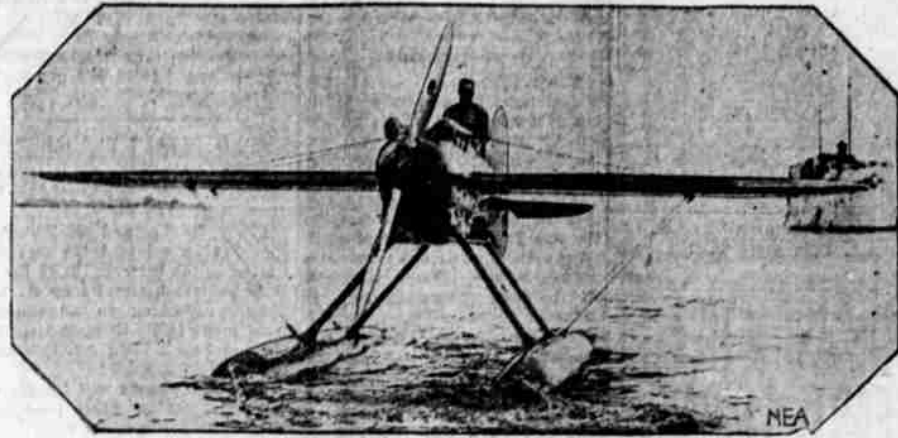

Fashion hints, food talks, care of children and other important suggestions will fill this page each week.

An invitation is extended to matrons having tested recipes which they might like to have printed to send them in addressed envelopes to the "Woman's Page"

Can He Fly 400 Miles An Hour?

It looks more like a mosquito than an airplane, but Lieutenant Alford Williams, U. S. navy, is confident that it can smash the world speed record of 315 miles per hour at the international speed races in England in September. This is the first picture of the tiny Mercury Racer, built especially for this event. It possesses 1100 horsepower, though it weighs only 4400 pounds. The wings are so small that it would drop like a plummet if the engine failed. The motor, by the way, has 24 cylinders, 43 spark plugs, four carburetors and four distributors. A closeup of Lieutenant Williams is also shown. Experts have predicted that he may fly 400 miles an hour.

- "BAGGAGE" WORRY TO T. RANKIN. SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 13. (AP)—Rankin, who yesterday flew down over the entire Pacific Coast section of the United States in a non-stop flight in a little four-engine plane which he had named Three Flags because of the fact that he was to start in British Columbia, fly over the United States and land on Mexican territory, planned early today to begin his trip back north at about noon. He said he would stop at Los Angeles and then go on to his home in Portland in early stages.
- The jovial aviator, grinning with pride over his achievement, acknowledged that he had "traveled light." His "baggage," over which he showed some concern when he landed at Agua Caliente, Mexico, yesterday, consisted of a clean shirt, a pair of trousers, a toothbrush and a razor. It was all wrapped up in a piece of paper to save room and avoid extra weight in the little plane.
- As far as could be learned here Rankin is the first flier to take "T" in Canada and land in Mexico in a non-stop flight, although two army aviators, Captain Lowell Smith and Lieut. John Paul Richter, flew from border to border in 1923. They started and landed in American territory, however, and flew a plane with a 400 horsepower engine. Their plane was refueled twice in the flight. Rankin's engine is a four-cylinder air cooled one, developing between 80 and 90 horsepower. Flying the air mail route down from the north, he estimated he covered at least 1,350 miles. This would mean he averaged around 13 miles to the gallon of gasoline, despite his 100-mile-an-hour pace.

GIRL'S BODY DISCOVERED BY POLICE

MANILA, Aug. 13. (AP)— Manila authorities reported today that Esther Louise Klein, 25, a nurse at the United States naval hospital at Cavite, who was found dead in a house on the outskirts of the city, evidently had committed suicide. An investigation was started after the death, which occurred Aug. 5. Police said no evidence of murder had been found.

Rear Admiral Charles E. Riggs, navy surgeon general, announced today he had ordered an investigation of the death of Miss Louise Klein, a navy nurse stationed in the Philippines, upon the basis of unofficial reports reaching Washington that she had been strangled.

Miss Klein's next of kin, is Miss Ray Klein of New York City.

POWERS DIES FROM INJURIES

Ford Appealed to in Abandoned Car Problem

NEW YORK, Aug. 13. (AP)— Henry Ford, as the man most responsible, has been asked by Borough President Harvey of Queens to help solve the problem of disposing of abandoned cars. Professing to see a situation which in time will tax the resources of the nation for its elimination, Mr. Ford to lend his automotive genius to abating the nuisances of streets and vacant lots littered with discarded automobiles, at large proportion his own product.

"We have yet to find an effective method to combat this frankenstein monster," Mr. Harvey wrote. "You have personal knowledge of the conditions caused in most of the nation's towns and cities by the promiscuous discarding of old cars.

"As the most prolific producer of automotive equipment in the world I think your company should bear a large part of the responsibility for the elimination of the abandoned car problem."

POLICE USE SHOT GUNS ON RIOTERS

New Orleans Street Car Situation Still Unsettled.

CITY HALL STORMED BY HOWLING CROWD

Strikers Surge Through Building Slugging Commissioners and Policemen. Guns and Tear Bombs Finally Used to Quell Mob. Small Boy Shot in Foot.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 13. (AP)—Reinforcements from every city police precinct were hastily thrown into action today, armed with shot guns and tear bombs, before a new burst of rioting in the street car strike was quelled.

At least three persons were shot but not dangerously wounded during the mob action. The city hall was stormed, members of the commission slugged and a dozen policemen overpowered before the howling and hissing demonstrators could be forced from the building.

Bedlam broke loose in the council chamber when E. F. Foster, spokesman of a union committee presented a petition reported signed by 50,000 persons demanding that the city ordinance regulating jitney operation be revoked.

The meeting became such a wild demonstration that Acting Mayor Walmesley adjourned the session. The council members were then set upon and struck with fists before the police were able to rescue them.

Forced from the building hundreds of men and women were released.

ZIM BALDWIN'S GARAGE ON FIRE

A number of automobiles went up in smoke Monday night when the Zim Baldwin garage in Lakeview encountered a freak fire.

At 10:30 o'clock a tourist put his machine in the Baldwin garage and the nightman retired for the night. A short time later he was awakened by fire which was consuming the tourist's machine and the one standing next to it. From automobile to automobile the fire danced through the garage burning every car in the building including fifteen new ones on the second floor. Yet the building itself was damaged but very little and all stocks and merchandise were not damaged. It is presumed the electric wiring on the tourist's car started the blaze.
