AT THE THEATRES

Scene from "From Headquarters," starring Monte Blue—A Warner Bros. Production.

AT THE PINE TREE
Monte Blue, popular Warner Bros. star is said to give one of the outstanding characterizations of his career in the new special production, "From Headquarters," coming to the Pine Tree Theatre on Sunday, in which he appears as a disolute soldier of fortune who has lived for many years in the tropics, fighting on which ever side would pay the most money for his services.

Clad in a nondescript uniform and sporting several days' growth of beard on his face, the immaculate Monte is a perfect picture of a man who has lived too long an aimless life in the tropics. Eventually he comes in contact with the United States Marines who have entered the country, and goes through a series of terrible experiences which would try the courage of any man.

Appearing in support of Blue in this dramatic story are Ethlyne Clair, Quinn Williams, Gladys Brockwell, Joseph Girard, Lionel Belmore, Henry B. Walthall, Eddie Gribbon, Pat Hartigan, Otto Lederer, William Irving, Pat Somerset and John Kelly. The production was directed by Howard Bretherton, and the original story by Samuel Hartridge was prepared for the screen by Harvey Gates.

"From Headquarters" is a melodrama well worth seeing. It rings true.

AT THE ORPHEUS
Victor McLaglen, now firmly entrenched as a star of the first magnitude, believes that a comedy should be funny, fast, and bolstered up by a story. In his newest Fox Film, "Strong Boy" John Ford sees to it that all these qualities are skillfully injected and the result is most gratifying.

Abetted by a talented cast "Strong Boy" starts out in a railroad station and ends where it began—for it isn't necessary to look elsewhere for humorous situations and riotous tangles. McLaglen, cast as a burly baggage-smasher is in love with Leatrice Joy, the new girl. The one obstacle to the match is Victor's smug content with his job. From this initial snag, things trip merrily along. A heroic act enables him to secure a promotion but he is satisfied to wear a white collar and take charge of the Lost and Found department and tag parcels. Troubles begin when a baby, a monkey and a pearl necklace get mixed up in his domain. A hilarious chase ensues with the entire station staff involved. Another promotion and he is a fireman on the train of a touring Queen. Then there's a train robbery with a dash of heroics for a skillfully contrived climax.

Clyde Cook and Slim Sumnerville, as the Strong Boy's two buddies come in for several good
