CUBS AND REDS ONLY WASH DAY GAME IN EAST

Bruins Strengthen Lead By Outhitting Rivals.

(By HERBERT W. BARKER) (Associated Press Sports Writer) When the Cub pitching falls, Joe McCarthy's batsmen come to the rescue with a salvo of baseballs to keep the Bruins in advance of any National league pursuers.

It was a terrific batting rally in the eighth inning yesterday that enabled the Chicago peanant hopes to down the Cincinnati Reds, to 5, and stretch their lead over the second place Pittsburgh Pirates to 13 1/2 games. Until the fateful eighth, Eppa Jetha Rixey, elongated left hander, waved an uncanny spell over Cub bats while the Reds were touching Charley Root for a run here and there, enough it seemed to win the game. Until the eighth Rixey granted only six hits, one of which was Rogers Hornsby's 19th homer of the year in the fourth. In the Red's half of the eighth Root was touched for two runs, making the count 5 to 2.

Then the Cub swatamth got busy. A walk and two singles and Rixey was replaced by Rube Ehrhardt. Five more hits rolled off Cub bats, one of them a freak home run by Norman McMillan with the bases filled. This blow began life as an ordinary single but bounced into the stands for a four-bagger. All told the Cubs scored seven times and the game was over. Hornsby and Kiki Cuyler were the most active batsmen with three hits apiece.

A crowd of 35,000 turned out to see the battle.

In the only other National league game of the day, the Phillies nosed out the St. Louis Cardinals, 7 to 6, in a hectic fray decided in the last two innings. The Phils, trailing by 6 to 2 at the end of the first half of the eighth, came within one of a tie when Davis hit a home run with two on. In the ninth three singles and a wild throw by Ernest Orsatti gave the Phils two more runs and the old ball game.

Hald pitched the whole distance for the Cardinals although he was socked for 14 hits. Claude Willoughby was hit freely by the Cards in the early innings and finally retired in favor of Dalley who received credit for the victory. One of the Cards' 11 hits was Jim Bottomley's 26th homer of the year.

The American league had a day off while eastern teams were getting back to their home bases from the west.

Crucial Games of Coast League Are up This Week

(By the Associated Press) Pacific coast league clubs today were prepared to take up the cudgel in the crucial offensive for the second half banner of the 1929 season.

That this week's series would inaugurate the most intensive campaign among five closely grouped clubs was an admitted fact, partly because the end of the season was not far off, but more because of the almost phenomenal progress made by clubs which in ten days were able to forge to the top after a long sojourn in the cellar of the league.

A shining example of what can be done in baseball with a dash of pep and pluck or determination, might be derived from the experience of the Portland Ducks last week. Portland, almost since the beginning of the season had remained in the second division, trading places with the Seattle Indians in the cellar. Last week they defeated the San Francisco Seals seven in a row, and took the coast league lead by storm.

The standings today gave the Portland Ducks 34 won, 22 lost and the Los Angeles Angels second place with 33 won and 23 lost. A full game behind them were the Mission Reds. Next stood Hollywood one more down, and San Francisco was in fifth place half a game behind the Reds.

Today the Portland Ducks were scheduled to face the Los Angeles Angels in the Rose City. With the first and second place teams as rivals for the lead, one of the warmest series of the second half was in sight. The Angels were rated a strong team and were expected to give the Webfoot club a tough week. The southerners have clung near the top of the league for weeks, playing consistent baseball and boasting a well balanced team.

Oakland and the Mission Reds were slated to fight it out this week at Recreation park here, while the San Francisco Seals were pitted against the tall-end Seattle Indians, the black sheep of the league. The Seals were expected to have a highly successful week against the Indians, and stood an excellent chance to regain their prestige.

Sacramento and Hollywood were matched for a series at Los Angeles. With a good week in the south, the Hollywood club had a fair chance of sliding back into first place at the top of the league. The Sacramento Senators, who have been playing mediocre ball the last few weeks were next to last in the standings.

VEEDOL WINS!

... Proves Supreme on Longest, Hardest Test ever given a motor oil

The judgment of the Zeppelin's engineers . . . in construction, in motors and equipment, in the choice of motor oil . . . now carries conviction to every corner of the world.

For VEEDOL gave a flawless performance on the first historic flight of the Zeppelin to the United States . . . and return . . . On the second flight . . . and return . . . On the long swing over the Mediterranean . . . and return . . . And finally, on this greatest voyage in the history of aviation . . . around the world. No more convincing tests of motor oil quality have ever been made.

Road test or air test . . . VEEDOL turns each into a conclusive victory! And if you will fill your car tomorrow with this same VEEDOL, in the proper grade, you will give your motor the same protection . . . the smoothness . . . and the same brilliant performance that made the flight of the Graf Zeppelin possible.
