

The Evening Herald

Published every afternoon except Sunday by The Herald Publishing Company at 102-104 South Fifth street, Klamath Falls, Oregon.
Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Klamath Falls, Oregon, on August 29, 1924, under act of Congress, March 3, 1879.
By Mail: One Year $6.00, Six Months $3.50, Three Months $2.00, One Month $1.00.
Delivered by Carrier: One Year $6.50, Six Months $3.75, Three Months $2.25, One Month $1.10.
ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION
McMCGOUGH & CO., INC.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 29, 1929

No Lack Of Entertainment

KLAMATH county citizens are faced with the problem of deciding where to spend the coming weekend. Having two days at their disposal and no lack of entertainment to occupy the time, it is a matter of deciding which form of entertainment they prefer.

As for Saturday, there is little doubt in the minds of most people about where they will spend the day. That is circus day in Klamath Falls and town and country alike will be out in force to welcome the first big canvas top to visit the city.

The Klamath county fair and Labor Day celebration also starts Saturday, as does the Lakeview Round-Up. Both of these events are worthy of the fullest consideration and to decide upon one is to disappoint the other. It is possible that many Klamath people will devote one day to each and thus satisfy themselves and the management of the two events.

There are doubtless many who would prefer to spend the time fishing or visiting some of the many lakes and streams of this great outdoor land. At any rate, there is no lack of entertainment in prospect for the week-end.

Nature's First Law

RECENT examination of 100 traffic law violators in Detroit, by the city's official psychologist, reveals the fact that one was found insane, 42 were classed as of inferior intelligence and 13 of these were actually considered feeble-minded. Three of those studied were seriously handicapped physically, 14 had defective vision, four were color-blind and 46 suffered from alcoholism.

Here in cold facts is the reason why most of us should be extremely careful at the wheels of our cars. While the law permits anyone who is of age to drive a motor vehicle in most of the United States, it leaves to us the responsibility of avoiding accident to ourselves and to others. It imposes on us the duty of not only watching ourselves but those around us while we are driving in traffic.

The unlawful act of the traffic violator comes suddenly and often without warning. We must always be on guard against him, we must never take anything for granted. Police cannot be everywhere and therefore cannot apprehend a violator at the moment he commits his first illegal act. It is only after he has gone through several traffic lights, or zig-zagged his way dangerously through several blocks of heavy traffic, that he is finally caught. It is therefore necessary for us, the great majority of motorists who are careful and thoughtful, to consider the other fellow while he is still on the road.

Our first thought is self-preservation. Better for us to give the reckless driver wide berth than try to combat him for priority rights on the road. The police will attend to him ultimately.

EDITORIALS

From Over the Nation

PLACING MARSHAL FOCH

Maj. Gen. Henry T. Allen in Current History Magazine: Although Marshal Ferdinand Foch commanded the largest forces of any military leader in history, it does not seem fit to class him among the very few great military chieftains such as Alexander, Hannibal, Caesar, Scipio, Africanus and Napoleon. When one thinks of the greatest soldiers who not only transported troops and supplies into remote countries, but even organized armies on foreign soils and carried on successful war for years, it can be seen that the marshal's problems were relatively simple. His success demanded neither the talents of a great organizer nor of a master logistician.

He was the great exponent in France of the policy of the extreme offensive. Battles were not to be won by holding riverfronts nor in trenches. In the end he was favored by fortune and could develop his policy of attack unopposed, even with limited preparation as to security. A believer in the efficiency of moral and spiritual rather than materialistic forces, he concerned himself little with the great problems of material and transport.

He fully appreciated the importance of issuing directives and leaving the execution and responsibility of mastering details to lower instances. He was not possessed of great magnetic power or of unusual capacity for detail of organization.

Although it never fell to the lot of the marshal to show such strokes of genius or to reveal such military inspirations as would place him among the few very great military chieftains of the world, his place in history is secure. The fact that he was selected by the allied authorities of all the countries fighting in France as generalissimo of their forces assures him military immortality.

No Borders

When genius, personality, ability are great enough there are no national borders, no man-made limits. The city of Paris has just placed a tablet to the memory of the German poet Heinrich Heine on the house wherein he died in the French capital. Both German and French lovers of his poetry put flowers on Heine's grave. War mars the harmony and beauty of the world. It retards the progress of mankind. But war can not obliterate from the minds and hearts of thinking men and women an appreciation for all that is best.

Up and Up at 2

Mrs. Julia Lefevre, Massachusetts woman, at 93 insists on riding in an open airplane. Having enjoyed her first ride she plans longer air journeys. It is women who carry courage and the sense of adventure into old age, and men likewise, who account for the better part of civilization.

Balance

The trouble with many of us is that our thinking is out of balance. Thinking too intently and persistently about one thing leads to what is called an obsession. And a man or a woman with an obsession is for all practical purposes insane, though there may be no organic cause of insanity. Thousands of folks who have not reached the point of obsession still think out of balance. They think too much about one thing or a few things. They fail to see matters in right relationship to each other. Out of balance, they become bored, nervous. They are avoided by their acquaintances and tolerated by their friends.

Solitude

A Frenchman has completed a six-year voyage around the world in a 25-foot boat. He went alone. He was after solitude, and in

TIMELY QUOTATIONS FROM PEOPLE IN THE PUBLIC EYE

"Every man pays for the amount of boasting he requires and likewise every man's wages increase in proportion to his ability to act as a boss or foreman of himself and others."—Alfred Kauffman, president, Link-Belt company.

"Today, certainly, no man dares exercise his full legal rights over woman in this country. He knows better and he has now rechristened his timidity. He calls it chivalry."—T. Swann Harding. (The Nation.)

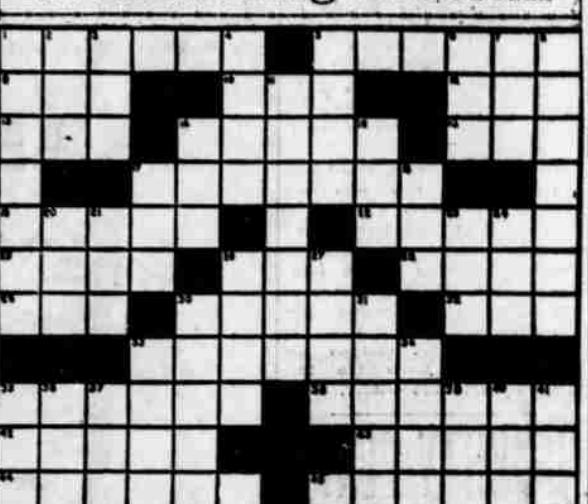

"The test of a law is public accord. When that is lacking the law becomes a hollow phrase devoid of the living spirit. No amount of mechanical tinkering can make it a living thing."—U. S. Senator Robert F. Wagner.

"So long as individuality has a place in business, the small merchant will be able to compete even with giant stores and mergers."—Joseph H. Appel. (Forbes Magazine.)

"Without free and rapid communication, a democratic continent is an impossibility."—Sir Arthur Keith.

"It cannot be true that any improvement has taken place in the drinking habits of our industrial workers that might not just as well, or even more notably, have taken place, with the onward march of human progress, had the 18th amendment never been adopted."—Former Senator William Cabell Bruce. (Current History.)

A Measuring Problem

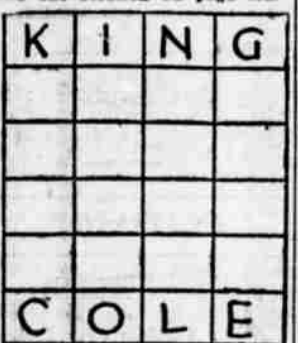

HORIZONTAL
1 Who wrote "A radian's love"?
5 Search of hospital giving patients free treatment.
10 Collection of facts.
12 Carded fabric.
13 To improve.
14 For each.
15 What is the eye's light called?
16 Neck.
17 What measure equals a 2000 yard?
18 Present.
19 "A y a l a's" he's.
20 Cone-shaped.
21 Swerved.

VERTICAL
1 Who invented wireless telegraphy?
3 Pink.
4 Title.
11 Most remote planet known.
12 To perform.
13 To encourage.
14 To perch.
15 Young bear.
16 Mined.
17 Blurred.
18 Drunkard.
19 Distant of the feet.
20 Accomplishes.
21 Loose soil.
22 To gladden.
23 To stop.
24 A theatrical term.
25 Knock.
26 Beer.
27 Sweet.
28 A great deal.
29 Native metal.
30 Barley.

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER
ACROSS: 1. RADIANT, 2. NURSE, 3. SEARCH, 4. TREATMENT, 5. FACTS, 6. FABRIC, 7. IMPROVE, 8. EACH, 9. LIGHT, 10. CALLED, 11. NECK, 12. YARD, 13. PRESENT, 14. Y A L A'S, 15. CONE, 16. SWERVED.
DOWN: 1. INVENTED, 2. PINK, 3. TITLE, 4. REMOTE, 5. PERFORM, 6. ENCOURAGE, 7. PERCH, 8. BEAR, 9. MINED, 10. BLURRED, 11. DRUNKARD, 12. DISTANT, 13. ACCOMPLISHES, 14. LOOSE, 15. GLADDEN, 16. STOP, 17. THEATRICAL, 18. KNOCK, 19. BEER, 20. SWEET, 21. GREAT, 22. METAL, 23. BARLEY.

LETTER GOLF

FOR THE CHILDREN
KING COLE is the hero of today's tricky par five. You'll find one solution on page ten.

THE RULES
1—The idea of Letter Golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW HEN.
2—You change only one letter at a time.
3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations do not count.
4—The order of letters cannot be changed.
One solution is printed on page eight.

are right. As time passes and traffic increases it will be found that it was wise to widen the eighteen foot roads that have already been constructed.
Take, for instance, the Pacific highway from Roseburg south. We all see the need of widening that road. When it was constructed we thought we were doing fine in Oregon by building the road as wide as it is, but now anyone traveling the Pacific highway will agree that a wider road is absolutely necessary to safety.

FAKE HOLDUP TO HIDE THEFT

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28, (AP)—Director Lemuel B. Schofield of the department of public safety, announced today that the "daring city holdup and payroll robbery" yesterday was a fake, staged partly to cover up alleged embezzlements of Alexander Hamilton, assistant paymaster of the department of public works, who told of being waylaid at pistol point. Hamilton was said to have confessed.
The director stated that the $4,089 which figured in the case had been recovered. He said that Hamilton and two other men had been arrested on charges of larceny, conspiracy, and receiving stolen goods.

DAILY LETTER ON AFFAIRS AT U. S. CAPITAL

Popular Opposition to Many of the Proposed Increases Is Proving Stumbling Block for Opponents of the Pending Tariff Bill in Congress.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29—This town used to be full of people who thought there wouldn't ever be any more tariff fights. The prevailing theory was that the Democratic party had gone high-tariff and that the issue was no longer one of dispute between it and the Republicans. It was commonly believed that so many Democratic senators had industries in their own states demanding protection that any tariff bill the Republicans cooked up would not be opposed by as much as a corporal's guard.

It was also an accepted supposition that the country at large was so thoroughly sold on protection that any new tariff bill, no matter how high its scale of duties, would be greeted by hosannas from the housewives and public thanksgiving meetings at the town pump.

Sky Was the Limit
Serenely confident that all these things were true, the rulers of the House of Representatives jammed through a tariff bill with the slogan that "the sky was the limit and no one expected any further trouble though it was supposed the hard-boiled Republican majority on the Senate finance committee would adopt a general program of further elevation.

Well—already the bill has been for some time in a terrible jam and when the finance committee bill hits the Senate floor, it probably will enter a period of maceration. No man knows the final outcome, but all sensible persons have had to readjust their views about the tariff as an issue.

In the first place, a swell fight has developed. In the second place, the tariff is as much a party issue as it ever was. Democratic national headquarters has been issuing unrelenting daily blasts against the House bill and the Republicans of the finance committee for months. Most Democratic senators have sponsored blinding and withering denunciations of the bill and Republican intentions in general. It actually looks as if the Democrats were more effectively united against the House bill or anything like it than they have been on any other issue in the last several years.

Newspapers Critical
In the third place—and most important—the country is not in any receptive mood. By such means as the country is able to protest it has been squawking steadily and some time ago word came from the White House that a study of clippings showed nine out of ten newspapers actually critical.

The effect of this popular disapproval of many of the proposed increases is plainly to be seen in the sweatings and writhings of Senators Smoot, Reed, Watson and other Republican leaders now wrestling with the bill. The fight on the House provisions has come from many sources—from powerful corporations acting in self-interest and from the most altruistic sources at the same time. The Sugar Trust, made up principally of American interests operating in Cuba, led the fight on the House three-cent sugar rate, aided enthusiastically by the carbonated beverage bottlers, nefarious individuals and organizations defending the interests of the consumer.

Pruning Under Pressure
Under the sort of combined pressure, Smoot, Reed, Watson and the others have at least partially caved in. Later the boys have acquired cold feet on wool and have reduced the House bill rate on that by three cents a pound. They're pruning under pressure and trying to make this bill look just as sweet as possible under the circumstances. Apparently the plan as it will finally work out will give the

Eat Everything without Fear of Indigestion

Are there lots of foods you can't eat—for fear of gas, bloating, pains in the stomach and bowels? Do you have to pass up favorite dishes—while the rest enjoy them? That's a sign you need Tanlac! For more than 10 years Tanlac has restored to vigorous health thousands who denied themselves their favorite foods just as you have to. Mr. Lawrence R. Barnes, of 5018 4th Ave., S.W., Seattle, Wash., says: "I couldn't eat a meal that didn't cause me distress. But Tanlac relieved me almost immediately, and I could eat anything."

If you suffer from indigestion, gas, dizziness, headaches, constipation or torpid liver—give Tanlac a chance to help you! The first bottle often brings the needed relief. Tanlac is a good, pure medicine, made of roots, herbs, and herbs that are recognized by the United States Pharmacopoeia. Get it from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

Tanlac
52 MILLION BOTTLES MADE

Senate a bill with bigger and better agricultural duties than the House bill. That will tend to appease the farmers and make the bill look more like the measure President Hoover intended it to be. On top of that the finance committee will undoubtedly toss overboard quite a few of the tariff-seeking interests whose resultant squawks will be politically unimportant.

The subsequent history of the bill will depend on how many Democrats and Progressives turn out to be willing to trade. There is a rumor that the Republican committee members plan to knock out various southern agricultural products from the House bill in order to make some of the Democrats come to terms.

CHICAGO POLICE HAVE ANOTHER "RIDE" MYSTERY

CHICAGO, Aug. 29, (AP)—A little fellow, swarthy, furtive and fleet, delivered a dead man to Henrotin hospital last night. Chicago police had another gang "ride" slaying to solve.

There were five bullet wounds in the body of the dead man, later identified as John F. Bowman, 36, racketeer and hoodlum. The man who carried Bowman into the hospital apparently believed him to be still alive.

When an interne pronounced Bowman dead, the man muttered, "This is no place for me," and crawled through a second-story window and fled down a fire escape just as police were entering the hospital.

The interne said the man told him he had found Bowman lying in the street; but police believe he knows how the gangster was shot and perhaps who shot him.

POLE, PILING RATE MAY BE LOWERED SOON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29, (AP) Rates on fir poles and wooden piling, single and multiple carloads from Oregon points to California destinations, have not been unreasonable in the past, the Interstate Commerce commission declared today, but should be revised for the future. The commission said that rates have been higher than charges on lumber for a number of years and that this had led to a complaint that rates were prejudicial and unjust. The commission added that cents in excess of corresponding rates were from 5.5 cents to 8.5 fir lumber charges, and said that it would issue an order in the near future eliminating the differential between poles and piling rates and those on lumber.

MISS ELDER MARRIES
NEW YORK, Aug. 29, (AP) Walter Camp, Jr., president of Inspiration Pictures, Inc., and Ruth Elder, flapper and motion picture actress, were married at noon today in the municipal chapel by City Clerk Michael J. Cruise.

QUIPS AND QUIRKS OF AMERICANS

Robert Quillen's Pointed Satire and Broad Humor Gives Refreshing View of Human Traits.

A hypocrite is one who pretends to be what he isn't. See man.

Maybe the idea is to make prisoners more homelike so people will stay away from them.

Enforcement hint: When the sun is drying fruit, it dries the outside edges first.

Still, it costs the government no more to defend a dry agent than to drag the river for him.

To be wicked, fruit juices must be intoxicating in fact. That's clear. But when is a man intoxicated in fact?

And now when you greet an acquaintance by asking how he's making it these days, he probably answers that he's using a little less sugar.

Fortunately, Heaven doesn't judge the worth of men by the relative size of their tombstones.

The saw hasn't talked since Bible times, which shows that one voice test was conclusive, even then.

Yet the commonplace section you live in would seem as wonderful as any if written up by an enthusiastic columnist.

AMERICANISM: Minding your p's and q's in painstaking effort to imitate the noise of those who are at ease because they never mind their p's and q's.

Large families are a nuisance. It's so hard to remember which one is responsible for which dents in the car.

What a modest creature is man! "I'm so glad to meet you," the stranger says to him, and he never wonders why.

If it isn't possible to get something for nothing, how do you explain so many rich widows?

You will remember that electric vibrating machines didn't appear until the old model seven flier went out.

If she washes dishes for pay, she's a menial; if she does it for nothing, she is—Feminine voice from the rear: "A sap."

Some concerns have only one vice-president, and in other cases the boss has as many as six married daughters.

The installment plan isn't new. There hasn't been a time since the revolution when Americans weren't making payments on some old war.

It is suggested that America adopt titles to explain the importance of great men. Doubtless something like "Mr. Three Million Dollars Coal Mine Smith."

Correct this sentence: "I really want to marry him, dad," said the flapper, "but of course you know best."

NO DECISION REACHED

PORTLAND, Aug. 29, (AP)—Without arriving at any decision, the state highway commission met yesterday for a hearing on a petition for creation of a super road district. The proposed district is intended to provide funds for a short cut road reducing mileage between Portland and Tillamook by way of Yamhill.

Well, It's Just too Bad.....

We've been so darn busy looking after the needs of our customers in the way of classy Commercial Printing, orders for special ruled stock, bookbinding, office equipment, issuing the city telephone directory, and doing a lot of other things that keeps a first-class printing plant "hitting the ball," that we just simply couldn't get time to write an advertisement for this paper.

We're just tickled to death the way our efforts are appreciated by the business men and others of Klamath Falls to place at their disposal a commercial printing institution second to none in the state. Your printing, special ruled orders, bookbinding, in fact, anything produced by the large printing plants of the state can now be had from us, and at a price leaving only a reasonable profit.

Smith-Bates Printing Company

(Incorporated)
The Boys That Put Ink in Inkdom
132 South Fifth Street Telephone 98

THE NEW Dictator Six

CHAMPION PERFORMANCE, STYLE, COMFORT

...the lowest priced Studebaker closed car in history

$995 at the factory

New prices effective August 5th on more than forty smart new Sedans, Broughams, Coupes, Convertible Cabriolets, Roadsters, Limousines and Tourers.

Straight Eight Power

at a new low price
DICTATOR EIGHT $1185

DICTATOR MODELS AND PRICES

Club Sedan, for five	$1035	$1185
Sedan, for five	1095	1235
Regal Sedan, for five	1195	1335
(6 wire wheels and trunk rack)
Tourer	1095	1235
Coupe, for four	1045	1235
Coupe, for two	995	1185

Prices at the factory

Dunham Auto Company

Sixth and Oak

Phone 52-W