

INDIVIDUALS TO SEEK RECORDS CLOSING WEEK

No Changes Expected In Major League Standings

By WILLIAM J. CHAPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The final seven days of the baseball season will hold interest chiefly for individual exploits and for the battle between Brooklyn and Philadelphia for the top of the National League's second division. After winning seven straight games which carried them into fifth place ahead of the Robins, the Phillies fell back into a tie for the position by losing to the Giants by 4 to 2 yesterday as the Flatbush flock shaded Boston by 3 to 2.

The Giant victory made it seven straight for Bill Walker, the young southpaw who came to the club two years ago from Denver. A double, a triple and a homer by Ed Roush, who drove in three runs, and a pair of singles by Eddie Marshall, the Bridgeport recruit, defeated Claude Willoughby and returned Walker a victor.

Melvin Ott and Chuck Klein took their home run race into the New York Polo grounds for the last time this season, but both failed to scale the right field wall. They are tied with 42 apiece. By getting two hits in four times at bat, Frank O'Doul, former Pacific Coast leaguer, not only strengthened his claim to the National league batting title, but also approached to within two of Rogers Hornsby's record of 250 hits, made in 1922. George Sisler holds the major league mark with 257, made in 1920.

Rogers Hornsby's thirty-ninth home run only placed him in a tie with his team-mate, Hack Wilson, for third place in the National league derby, but also enabled the champion Cubs to shade Ben Froy, Cincinnati recruit from Nashville, by a score of 1 to 0. Cold weather held the attendance at 12,000.

The Pirates divided two in St. Louis, winning the opener by 5 to 1 and dropping the nightcap by 10 to 2. The Pirates still could lose second place—but only by dropping all their games.

In the American league, the tall-end Red Sox slammed the champion Mackmen for a 10 to 0 victory, the Messrs. Grove, Yerkes and Rommel officiating. The red Sox got to Grove for eight earned runs in five innings, which will do Mr. Grove's official average no good.

George Piggas and Wesley Ferrell selected the same day to share honors with two-hit games. Piggas pitched the Yankees to a 3 to 0 victory over Washington, winning his eighteenth, and Ferrell turned back the Browns by 4 to 6 in Cleveland. The victory practically clinched third place for the Indians. Lou Gehrig hit his thirty-fifth homer in the Washington game.

Detroit outslugged the White Sox to win a wild game by 9 to 3 in eleven innings. Gehrig and Stone aided the Bengals with homers.

AS USUAL, IDAHO HAS GOOD ELEVEN, BUT—AS USUAL—RESERVES LACKING

MOSCOW, Idaho, Sept. 30.—As in the past, University of Idaho's football trouble this year is not lack of a strong first team, but scarcity of reserve material. That's Idaho's perennial weakness.

With a new coach, Leo B. Calland, All-American tackle in 1922, just up from herding the yearlings under Coach Jones at U. S. C., some good veterans and a small crop of last season's reserves and fresh on hand, Idaho's outlook is slightly better than last year.

ACTORS SEEM SCHEDULED TO GRAB PENNANT

Have Two Game Lead And One Week Of Play

By The Associated Press

Two full games ahead of the second place Mission Reds, the Hollywood Stars today led the Pacific coast league, with only a week left of the 1929 baseball season. The Reds gave the Stars a strenuous week ending with the Sunday doubleheader which the two rivals split, but the Stars won the series four to three.

Lefty Johns hurled his Hollywood team mates to victory in the morning game at Recreation park. The Stars won it by a 3 to 1 score. In the afternoon it was the Reds' turn to win, and Dutch Reuther pitched his mates to an 8 to 0 victory, showing complete mastery of the southern shiks. The record shows that Reuther is more than a match for the Stars every time he meets them.

The San Francisco Seals sank lower in the mire of defeat in Sunday's doubleheaders, losing twice in the day to the Los Angeles Angels in that club's last appearance at Wrigley field this season. The first game ended 7 to 5, and the afternoon game was 6 to 2. The double defeat blew up the chances of the Seals second half honors, establishing them firmly in fifth place. The day's play was marked by frequent homers.

Pennant chances of the Portland Ducks were blasted to naught by the Oakland Oaks, who took both games by the same score each time, 8 to 2. Heavy batting by the Oakland crew accounted for most of the scoring. The Oaks, in sixth place in the standings, won the series five to two. The Ducks today were in fourth place, five games behind the first place Stars. Lombardi, one of Oakland's heavy hitters, bagged four homers in the day's contests.

Both ends of the doubleheader at Seattle were sewed up by the Sacramento Senators. Thus putting the final touches on a four to three series win for the boys from the California capital. The score of the first meeting was 3 to 7, and that of the second was 4 to 2.

Upsets Out of Order in Coast Opening Saturday

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30, (AP)—Flushed with stunning preliminary game victories of last week end, most of the Pacific coast conference members settled down today to prepare for contests next Saturday that will begin to shape their destinies in the 1929 conference football championship.

The Trojans of Southern California turned their attention to an invading Oregon State squad after having satisfied a tremendous touchdown appetite at the expense of the University of California at Los Angeles last week. In their first game of the season, the only conference engagement to date, the Trojans crushed U. C. L. A. under a 76-0 score. Oregon State likewise captured its season opener but its 19-0 defeat of the California Aggies is hardly comparable to the Trojan triumph.

Southern California's decisive win sounded a warning that other conference eleven's will not take lightly.

Stanford's Cardinals, twice tested and twice successful in non-conference encounters, will begin the gamble for percentage standings against a University of Oregon eleven of undetermined power but of much promise. Against Pacific University last week, Oregon rolled up a 55-0 score. But the northerners will come to Stanford to face a team that two weeks ago swamped the west coast Army forces, 45-0, and last week beat the powerful San Francisco Olympic club, 6-0.

In the remaining conference clash, Washington's Huskies will entertain Montana's Grizzlies at Seattle. Each of these teams won their first games last week but Washington fixed its status as a championship contender in far more impressive fashion. Washington walloped Whitman, a rival it barely noted out last year, by a 47-0 count. Montana beat Mount St. Charles, 18-0.

The rest of the conference members will see action. California's Bears, winners over Santa Clara, 27-5 in their starting tilt, will meet and old time opponent—St. Mary's College. The St. Mary's team opened the season in the approved manner, Sunday, with a 28-0 win over the west coast Army boys.

Other games will bring together, Idaho and Whitman; Washington State and Mount St. Charles and University of California at Los Angeles and Fresno State. Idaho trounced Montana State, 39-6, last Saturday while Washington State battered College of Idaho into submission, 45-0.

KLAMATHS RUN OVER CAVEMEN

Klamath Falls high school football team beat the Grants Pass eleven, 24 to 7, Saturday on the fair grounds field. The Klamath team played a hard-hitting game on the offensive, and the Grants Pass men found it hard to stop the advance of the local eleven. The Grants Pass team made several successful passes which netted them a good many yards. Klamath tried only two passes, one of which was intercepted by Harman, who tucked the ball under his arm.

SUGAR A KEY TO TASTEFUL COOKERY

To Overlook This Wonder Flavor Is to Miss the Joy of Eating

Scientific authorities are alarmed that tasteful cookery has reached such a low ebb in the United States. Flavor affects diet and diet affects health. We can't keep well without eating the various foods that our bodies need. We can't be expected to force ourselves to eat varieties of food if we do not like them.

Every woman who is responsible for the diet of a family is to that large extent responsible for its health. Realizing this, a group of women cooking experts have been working to find what could be done to make meals more delicious. They concentrated on vegetables, for these important foods are so likely to be bland and unappetizing. They made a series of now notable experiments. They uncovered an old secret that had been lost. Use a dash of sugar, added to vegetables while they are cooking (preferably in a little water).

This addition of a dash of sugar does not make the vegetables taste sweet. It brings up all those poignant, natural flavors that mean so much to the sense of enjoyment.

Help your family to enjoy vegetables. Just try a dash of sugar in cooking peas, lima beans, string beans, corn, carrots, beets, parsnips, sweet potatoes, squash, onions and tomatoes—and taste the difference. Remember the value of something sweet for dessert. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.
