

NEWS IN BRIEF

Gene O'Grady Discussed—Providing he doesn't take his bicycle along, Gene O'Grady, local Irishman whose fighting moods seem to be spasmodic, may make himself a popular figure in northern California Saturday night when he heads a card at Yreka. Following the Klamath Falls fight, when Gene drew a draw instead of a victory, with the crowd with his opponent, he did not ring up so well with the Pelican city fans as he had in the past. Gene is a good fighter—has the sort of stuff of which champions are made in him, but his moods are enough to drive his supporters to drink and destruction. He is anything but a constant fighter—one time fighting the sort of battle which keeps the fans off their chairs most of the time, and the next time doing a lot of Gene Tanney footwork.—Ashland Tidings.

HE LAY AWAKE SUFFERING ALL NIGHT AT TIMES

"I only wish I had the money to buy Sargon for every one of my friends who are sick and run down, for I know they would thank me as long as they lived. I suffered for over a year with stomach trouble and indigestion. Many nights, I had to get up and drink hot milk, then take a hot water bottle to bed with me, to ease the pain and sometime I suffered so much I could not sleep a wink. I actually lived on bread and milk for months. I was emaciated and bilious; my skin was yellow and I had blinding dizzy spells. Nothing gave me more than temporary relief until I started taking Sargon. It's wonderful the way Sargon brought back my health. I'm hungry all the time now and eat anything I want. My stomach trouble is gone and I've already gained six pounds. I just feel stronger and better in every way. Sargon Pills regulated me perfectly. Now my color is healthy and my biliousness and dizzy spells are over. I'll be glad to tell anybody what Sargon did for me."—Fred O. Beachie, 91 E. Portland Boulevard, Portland, Oregon.
