UHLAN COMES FOR CLEGHORN MATCH FRIDAY

Southpaw Slugger in Great Shape For Bout

Red Uhlman, the colorful California boxer, is in town and will work out at 5:00 o'clock this afternoon for the benefit of the local fans. The red headed southpaw is reported in great shape and the boxing enthusiasts are anxious to get a slant on his style.

Uhlman is noted for his willingness to mix it with his sparring partners and what goes in training is but a sample of his game in a regular fight.

Cleghorn's opponent has a great record. He has met the best boys of his weight in the country and has the rep of never having made a bad fight. The past spring Ace Hudkins was offered $10,000 to meet Red but the match was never made. He put up a hurricane fight during the summer with George Dixon. They slammed and slugged for full 8 rounds with Red's face cut to pieces, a deep cut over his eye causing the referee to stop the bout in the 9th and awarding Dixon the decision on technical K. O.

The Eskimo certainly has trained faithfully for the last 10 days. You see him doing his stuff at the Legion gym. He is hitting harder than ever and if he connects with that straight right that he shoots out like a bullet, Red will be finding himself on the canvas.

This is a big city attraction and from the way the fans are warming up to it a packed house can be looked for.

The betting on the most talked about match, the semi-windup between Spencer and Fugate, is 10-8, with Spencer on the long end, all on account of Fugate having been out of the ring so long. They are both training hard and both are confident of victory.

Steamboat Jackson and Pat McPadden should put up a real old fashioned slugfest, with "Row Boat" a slight favorite on his present form, he having won his last 5 bouts. In meeting Pat he stacks up against a tough hombre. A milling and game battler always puts up a mean scrap.

The heavy fight of the evening should be a wow. "K. O." Tiny McComber, the champion of Dair and Hurricane Harry Green of Klamath will try to put each other to sleep. K. O. has had only three bouts and showed wonderful hitting power, knocking out his opponents in short order. He is very game and seems to like the racket. He meets a fast and hard hitter in Green, who is a sweet boxer, very clever and hits hard with either hand.

The curtain raiser finds Milling Miller, the chap who made such a nice showing in his only start here against Lee Swope, picks Jesse Copeland of Chillicothe for his opponent. This will be a lively bout as both boys try hard at all times.

Dick Reed, popular collegian, will referee. Tickets are on sale at the Mecca, Phone 153.

Sub Tells Coach The Exact Time

By AL DEMANER
(Former Pitcher N. Y. Giants)
Knaute Rockne tells me a coach whose team was leading by a touchdown with a matter of minutes until the half ended.

The opposing eleven had the ball on his 25-yard line and he was very worried about the possibility of their scoring.

Unable to stand the suspense any longer he yelled at one of the second string men on the bench: "Hey, lad, run over and see about the time of the first half. What's the time?"

A few minutes later the boy, panting and all out of breath, ran up to the bench and said: "Say, Coach, it's just half past three."

Which almost ties that other classic of the boy who was taken out when the opposition was running through him like a sieve.

"What's the matter?" roared the coach.

"Oh, nothing," he replied. "Just forgot my signals!"

COLD WEATHER CHECKS GAMES

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
With a cold rain along the Atlantic seaboard preventing the few eastern games scheduled in the Major leagues yesterday, baseball action was confined to Cincinnati where the Reds nosed out the champion Cubs by a score of 3 to 2.

The game furnished Rogers Hornsby an opportunity to collect three singles in four times at bat, lifting his batting average three points to .350.

It was Lucas' nineteenth victory

Give Babe Hollingberry a Line, And The Cougars Will Trouble Every One

PULLMAN, Wash., Oct. 2.—"Babe" Hollingberry, coach at Washington State College, is in the same boat as Coach Schlatter at Oregon State. He'll have a football team if he can develop a line. His backfield material is plentiful and powerful.

But this year, Hollingberry's without Mel Dressel and Spidel, two wonderful tackles last year. He's trying several combinations to replace them, and several games may be played before final selection is made. Goodwin and Duncan seem to have the call, for the seventh-place Reds and Guy Bush's seventh defeat for the champions. Fewer than 500 fans paid to see the fun.

The Athletics will make another attempt today to close out their home season in a double-header against Washington. The Giants likewise will attempt to run off their final Brooklyn game at the Polo grounds.

Scientists say there once was a creature much like man, only it was smaller, had more hair, and wore more clothes. Probably a woman.

with Ahlskog almost a fixture. In the center of his line, Hollingberry has Mel Hein back again, and two capable guards in Hansen and Flechsig, both veterans, and like Hein, cagey Cougars. Harold Yap, end last year, has been moved back to quarter.

George Hill, Hurley, Hansen and Maskell are leading for ends. Graduation also hit the backfield hard, but Lathart, triple-threat halfback is expected to be one of the coast conference's sensations. Jones, Ellington and Guglielmo are other acceptable halves; Buckley and Tonkin lead for the quarterback spot, and Schwarz heads the fullback material.

There will be lots of things for this year's team to learn. But it will weigh around 135 pounds per man, and, as usual, is expected to play smart football.

This is not the first season Hollingberry has started with little material. But in the three seasons he already has tutored Cougars, his teams have a record of winning 17 games, losing seven and tying two.

November the weather is not sufficiently cold to make the furs prime. It is thought that the delayed opening of the season will react to the advantage of trappers in that the colder weather will make the fur of their catches more valuable. The commission has already issued 53 trapper's licenses at a fee of two dollars each.

DUCKS BLIGHT ACTORS HOPES WITH SHUTOUT

Mahaffey Hands Stars Goose Egg In Home Town

By The Associated Press
The Hollywood Stars, trying to pluck the feathers of the Portland Ducks in an effort to hold on to the Pacific coast league lead and stave off the advance of the San Francisco Mission Reds, found themselves in troubled waters today.

All the Stars were able to get from Portland in the nine inning battle at Los Angeles was a basketful of duck eggs. The opening of the duck hunting season meant nothing to the Stars, for the Ducks won with a 3 to 0 score. Leroy Mahaffey was the fair-headed lad who won for Portland, allowing the league leaders one tiny single for all their efforts. On the other hand, the Ducks gathered eight.

Meanwhile, the Mission Reds, winners of the first half of the season, cut the two game lead of the Stars in half by defeating the Seattle Indians 12 to 3 at Recreation park here, and thus conforming all expectations. It had been predicted that Hollywood would find difficulty with the Portland club while the Missions would have things their own way with the Seattle tribe.

The Seals, playing Sacramento in the capital city, were handed a surprise package in the form of a 3 to 0 defeat by the Senators. It was one of the rare occasions Sacramento has won from the San Francisco club.

Pete Dagila of the Oakland crew defeated Charley Horne of Los Angeles in a tight pitching duel at Emeryville which ended 4 to 3. The seventh inning was a lucky one for the southern team. Parker flogged one over the right field fence to ride around the park, bringing in three tallies.

LEINHART STOPS HILL
PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 2, (A P)—Fred Leinhart, Spokane light heavyweight had an easy time defeating Benny Hill, San Francisco, in the main event here last night. After Hill went down twice in the first round and was badly battered around in the second and third, Referee Loutitt stopped the bout in the fourth round. Hill failed to lay a glove on Leinhart during the engagement.

matches, Leo Lomski, Aberdeen light heavyweight, won a slashing six-round decision over Cowboy Jack Willis, San Francisco, here last night.

Battlefront Arranged for Iron-Man Pitching Exhibit

By ALLAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 2, (AP)—The world's series battlefront of 1929 is perfectly arranged for an iron-man pitching performance with George Earnshaw of the Athletics, or Pat Malone of the Cubs, picked as the leading candidates for the role.

These two fast-ball right-handers have thrived all season on plenty of work. They have finished stronger than any of their curving mates and the probability now is that they will face one another at the opening day at Wrigley field next Tuesday. Malone, at least, seems a certainty, although Connie Mack would not hesitate to switch to Robert Moses Grove if the willowy southpaw manifested a sudden return to his mid-season form.

The schedule for the series is so arranged that it would be altogether possible for Malone or Earnshaw, assuming they are the first games selections, to twist four games, still having three days of rest between each assignment. This, of course, would hinge on the series going the limit of seven games. Two days of traveling and the Sunday of rest in Philadelphia, give the pitchers more than the usual amount of time to recuperate.

The one certain thing so far as the pitching is concerned is that it will be a fast-ball series. The "Big Three" of the A's, Earnshaw, Grove and Rube Walberg, all have tremendous speed. So have the main Cub trio—Malone, Guy Bush and Charley Root.

Violet Rays of Sunshine

not "artificial treatment"—make OLD GOLD
... a better and a smoother cigarette

OLD GOLD brought about a great change in smoking habits. It gave smokers a new freedom of enjoyment ... without any forbidden limits.

The man who used to say "I can't smoke until after lunch ... my throat is sensitive in the morning" now finds that he can "light up" whenever he pleases. For his morning OLD GOLD has no more throat-scratch than his breakfast omelet.

Likewise all those who have to guard their throats ... salesmen, singers, actors, and the like ... no longer have to stint their smokes, for OLD GOLD is as free of throat irritants as a glass of spring water.

Better tobaccos did it ... naturally good tobaccos ... extra-prime leaf made irritation-free by the violet rays of sunshine ... not by "artificial treatment."

If you like food that is naturally good, instead of food made good by "artificial treatment" ... you're sure to prefer OLD GOLD'S natural tobacco smoothness. Try a package ... and get a vote of thanks from both your throat and taste.
