'TEX' MATCHES BEN HILL AND GENE O'GRADY

Medford Fans To See Light Heavies In Action

Matchmaker Joe Bickerstaff, for his first bout at the Medford armory, has scheduled Gene O'Grady of Ashland and Bennie Hill of San Francisco.

The Medford fans seem to want big boys and Joe feels that in presenting this combination they will not be disappointed.

O'Grady stands undefeated. While not making the showing against Tommy Bennett that Klamath Falls fans would have liked, it is felt he was not in condition at the time. Since then the Ashland battler has been going through regular practice and the old form is coming back in good shape.

Hill is a new boxer to southern Oregon fans. He has a rep for hitting like a kicking mule. He is training at the local Legion pavilion and is in great shape. His manager, John Flamer, predicts Bennie will K. O. Gene. He is the aggressive type of boxer and always willing to swap punches.

O'Grady, when he is at his best is a great fighter. He is a wonderful prospect and anyone who is anxious to swap punches with him had better look out for he carries T. N. T. in both hands.

This should be a whale of a scrap and the local fans who like to see a real scrap should make the trip to Medford Tuesday evening, October 8.

Johnny Spencer and Jack Davies of Chiloquin will furnish the 6 round semi-windup. This rangy chap Davies has always wanted to fight Spencer as he feels he is the one who can beat the "Speed Ball King."

The rest of the card is up to the standard that Tex puts on.

The special 4-round event should take the fans off their feet. Steamboat Jackson, who is going so good right now, takes on the veteran Indian, Boxer Billy Huff. Boxer is a fighter and this should be a great match. He is training O'Grady for his match so should be in great shape himself.

The Dairy sensation, "Tiny" K. O. McComber, takes on Battering Bunker of Dorris. This will be a wow.

Tex has rematched Milling Miller and Indian Jackson, the little redskin who put up such a good show on a minute's notice when he subbed for Jesse Copeland who failed to put in an appearance. Jackson is being trained by Jack Crim and will be in shape and the fans will see an improved boxer.

The card is well balanced and the fans are being treated to a big city fight program. Tex invites all his Klamath friends to help put over his first show in Medford. Tickets are on sale at Brown's in Medford and at Ninger's in Ashland.

THIEVES ROB WOMAN STRUCK DOWN BY CAR

PORTLAND, Oct. 7. (AP)—Struck by an automobile on a downtown street corner here yesterday and rendered unconscious, Mrs. John Mollitor of Bend was the victim of thieves who stole $1050 in currency which she was carrying wrapped up in an old newspaper. She had arrived in Portland Saturday, she told police, to deposit the money in a bank.

Two elderly women assisted her to the curb after she had been struck. It was then that she discovered her large roll of bills had been taken.

BROADCAST SERIES

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (AP)—The National Broadcasting company, and the Columbia Broadcasting system, each with a coast-to-coast hookup, will broadcast the world series, along with four Chicago stations. The Chicago stations on the air will be WGN, WMAO, WBBM, and WCFL.

HEAVY DAMAGE DONE BY FIRE NEAR COQUILLE

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Oct. 7. (AP)—Loss estimated at $50,000 was caused by a forest fire which swept the Middle Fork country of the Coquille river yesterday and last night. The W. J. Sweet Logging company suffered considerable loss, damage to the camp and to white cedar logs amounting to about $32,000.

After jumping the river the fire continued south toward Douglas county. Stage and other traffic was delayed and many motorists were pressed into service fighting the flames.

Success requires more than ambition. It requires the will and desire to succeed, backed by intelligently directed effort. One must not only know where to go, but how to get there. There is such a thing as running in the wrong direction.

Baseball's "Biggest Show On Earth" Starts Tuesday

By ALLAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Baseball's "biggest show on earth" comes to town tomorrow, featuring the highly trained White Elephants of Cornelius McGillicuddy and the battling Bruins of Joseph McCarthy in the main event of the game's colorful carnival.

Stripped of the billboard phrases it's the Philadelphia Athletics against the Chicago Cubs for the world's championship, the honors that go with it and perhaps the richest money reward for the participants in series history.

It will be another million-dollar party, the first since 1926, if the battle between the American and National league champions goes as far as five games, as it seems quite likely to do. Six games, at the rate of a shade over $200,000 per game and a sell-out already assured, might top the previous record "gate" of $1,207,846, set by the Yankee and Cardinals in 1926. A struggle to the limit of seven games certainly would establish a new money record.

Fully 50,000 fans, a record for any series game ever played outside of New York, are expected to jam Wrigley Field to the limits of its bleacher extensions tomorrow for the battle that renews a baseball rivalry between Philadelphia and Chicago of 19 years ago. It makes the re-entry of Connie Mack's

Athletics into the series for the first time in 15 years and the Cubs after a lapse of 11 years.

Nineteen years ago the proud Cubs of Frank Chance's era were heavy favorites, only to be trimmed in a five-game series.

Tomorrow the modern A's, still directed by the veteran Mack will go into the fray favored to win in the betting at 7 to 5 as well as by most experts, in spite of the favoring influences of home grounds and a home-town crowd for the clouting Cubs. History may repeat itself with another upset of the "dope," for the battling Bruins are unmistakably rarin' to go and die for the dear old National league, if necessary.

The batteries for the opening game were expected to be Earnshaw and Cochrane for the A's, Root and Taylor for the Cubs, thereby pitting two powerful right-handers against each other in the first pitchers' skirmish.

Weather Favorable
CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (AP)—The weather man, after going into a huddle with his various instruments today, held out promise of generally fair weather with not much change in temperature, for the opening game of the world series tomorrow.

If there is no drop in the temperature, it will be around 69 or 70 degrees at the start of the game. With chilling winds sweeping off Lake Michigan, however, light topsuits probably will feel comfortable.

PIRATE DRUBS CHAMPION CUB AS FINAL SHOT

Athletics Tune For Series by Taking Last Game

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.

The Major League closed yesterday.

The Washington comedian, Nick Altrock, horned into the lead of American league batmen at the last minute. He went into a game toward the end and got one hit out of his one time at bat. Two young Boston pitchers, Durham and Simmons, held the Senators in check to win by 2 to 1.

Connie Mack kept the regulars in the final game for a tuning up before the series and he needed them to beat the Yankees. Dusty Rhodes, late of Jersey City, held the champions under control until the seventh inning when Mule Haas tied the score at 2-2 with a freak homer.

The ball glanced off Paschal's glove into the stands. Simmons completed the 5-2 triumph in the ninth with his 35th homer of the year and tied Lou Gehrig for second place in the league standing.

St. Louis and Cleveland gave their younger pitchers a workout in their closing double header and the Brownie youngsters came out ahead each time. Staley, a newcomer from the Texas league, outpitched Brown to take the first, 4-2, and Kimsy conquered Shoffner in the second, 4 to 1.

Chicago's lowly White Sox slammed the ball like their National league neighbors to win the final from Detroit, 8 to 7.

The Tigers went ahead in the ninth on Dale Alexander's 25th homer but the Sox scored twice in their half to win.

Johnny Evers and Hank Gowdy, coaches of the Boston Braves, played against the Giants in the last half of the ninth. The total result of their efforts was one error for the former Keystone member of the infield combination of another generation of champions. New York won, 9-4.

Ivy Wingo of Cincinnati joined the ancients who were closing the season properly and caught part of the game against St. Louis. The Cards eked out a 3-1 victory.

The champion Cubs let Hank Gramp, who has spent the season pitching for batting practice, start a game. But he went out in the second inning when Pittsburgh hammered him for six runs. The Pirates closed with an 8 to 3 triumph.

Football Fever Seizes J. Fan Since Saturday Games

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7. (A

P)—Seized by a case of football fever in its most aggressive form, Mr. John Fan sat up today to ruminate on next Saturday's gridiron diet but meanwhile found nourishment in the memories of last week's nerve-ringing encounters.

Not in many years has an early-season week end been so crowded with spectacular struggles, upsets and disappointments as last Saturday's contests in the far west produced.

Those who find their thrills in the greatest of American college games will not soon forget that:

St. Mary's college, whose teams are moulded from the material fine-combed from a tiny student body of about 700, held the formidable University of California Bears to a scoreless tie.

Montana's Grizzlies, usually the weakest team in the Pacific coast conference but seemingly under-estimated this year, met and matched the Washington Huskies, 6 to 6.

Stanford's Cardinals, although favorites, crushed one of the strongest eleven University of Oregon has brought out in many seasons by the overwhelming score of 23-7.

Leaders, technically, of the coast conference through their second successive win, a 21-7 setback to Oregon State, the southern California Trojans turned attention today to preparing for Washington's next Saturday. Any possible Trojan fears were set at rest by Washington's unimpressive showing against Montana although there is no doubt the Huskies will be in fighting mood.

The California-Washington state game at Berkeley next Saturday had taken on added interest today because of last week's endings. Hopes of Washington State supporters were buoyed from a smashing 38-0 non-conference victory over Mt. St. Charles while California was being outplayed although not outscored, in its non-conference tilt with St. Mary's.

Other conference games next Saturday will pit Idaho against Montana and Stanford against University of California at Los Angeles. Idaho defeated Whitman, 47-7, last Saturday and U. C. L. A. trounced Fresno State, 56-0. One game is as good as another in the Idaho-Montana affair but Stanford figures on a "Roman Holiday" at the expense of its next opponent.

Oregon State will meet Columbia (Oregon) and Oregon opposes Willamette in non-conference engagements next weekend.
