ALAS!
Beneath a juniper I sat
And gazed toward Mt. Shasta
white,
The sun was low; I grieved at
that,
Because I had to work that night.

A little lower, and the sun
Would tint the sky with shades
of red,
Alas, my work was just begun
That night; I could not go to bed.

I gazed below upon the plain
Or dried-up apuds, and cursed
the date
I struck this land, devoid of rain;
That night I had to irrigate.

EDITORIAL

Keep Them In Order

Nothing is more disgusting than dirt and disorder. There is a certain town in Washington that is known because of its filth. It is occupied by supposedly white people. Most of them are not clean enough to be called white.

It is pleasant to be famous, but it is not pleasant to be notorious, and it would be very unpleasant, indeed, to be notorious for your filth.

How can you help living in a disorderly place? It is not enough to merely desire to be clean and orderly. You must try to better others also.

For example, in your town you are not expected to walk down the street with a broom and waste-basket and clean up the town. If matters need attention, get others interested in cleaning up the town, get a committee to go before the city council and ask that arrangements be made to keep the town clean.

In the vicinity of your school pick up crumpled paper on the floor, instead of carefully stepping over it. Keep the floor clean near your desk; keep your desk in line, and the contents of it neat. When there is chalk on the floor place it on the chalk rail. It may be pleasant to feel the power of your body, and hear the crunching sound as you step on the chalk, but it leaves an unsightly mark. When you take a book from the library, put it back in its place.

All this will save time and labor and add to the attractiveness of the building. It will be worth the time you spent on it, and will justify the one that put forth that time on it.

Neatness in body and surroundings might well be one of the essentials of life. Why not do our best to make it so?

More Social Affairs

We need many more social affairs connected with our school. What I mean by that is: We should have a party or some sort of social gathering at least once every two months.

It is not fair to those who do not make the athletic teams if we don't have something of that sort. Those on teams have their enjoyment, but the others haven't.

It is true we go to school to work and gain an education, but every student must have some enjoyment or they are not going to work.

I think the main reason why we are not having more social activities is, in the past, when the school or some organization within it gave a party, a few of the students didn't attend. They told their parents they were, and then went off to a show or rode around in automobiles, not thinking that they were taking the privilege of having these social affairs away from the rest of the students who want to have a good time.

The next time a party is given let's all take part in it, and it will probably result in more of them.

Malin High Needs New Library

Why can't we have a new and better library? Other schools do. For several years we have had the same old books, and most of them have been read by all the students. No wonder none of the pupils want to read the books.

If we would get in some new books more students would be interested in reading them, and more would be read by all the students.

There should also be some one appointed to take care of the library and keep it in order. When we do try to find some decent book we can't find it. All the books are mixed up and scattered all over.

So let's all try and see if we can get some new books and keep the library in order, and get some good out of it.

Schools and Better Attendance

High school students should be more interested in coming to school than they are at the present time. We students are disappointed with the six weeks appointed with the six weeks grades we have received. But that is all the more reason why we should come every day possible, to bring up our grades.

Some students stay out because they have a hard lesson; while others have good excuses.

Staying out of school lowers our grades because we are not there when the instructor brings out a point, and then gives it in the next exam.

So let us all try to be at school every day that is possible during the year.

Get Enough Sleep

Late hours should be overcome by students and teachers during the five days of school. We may say this: "I don't see why we can't stay out to a party as long as we want, if we are having a good time."

That is not the way we should look at it. When we stay up late we don't feel like getting up in the morning to do the chores. At school we feel sleepy, and

MALIN SQUAD TO TAKE TRIP

The Malin football squad will make their first trip out of the county to play a football game, when they go to Lakeview on the morning of the 26th to meet the Lakeview team.

The student body is glad they are able to send the team on a trip this year. It is the first time it has ever been done.

Those making the trip are: Richard Jackman, center; James Bradshaw, Delmer Williamson, Edwin Stastny, guards; Stephen Kandra, Wilford Hundley, Jack Chapman, Oscar Streeter, tackles; Willie Rajnus, Claude Layman, Enoch Petrasek, Billie Streeter, ends; Mervyn Wilde, quarterback; Frank Kamarad, Louis Kalina, halfbacks; George Havallina, fullback, and Paul Petrasek, manager.

Coach Fisher, Principal A. E. Street and Ivan Petrasek will accompany the team. There are also a few people of Malin planning to make the trip with the team.

FAREWELL PARTY GIVEN AT MALIN

A farewell party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Klabs and family on October 14, at the Bohemian hall. They are leaving for California and then to Oklahoma, where they have relatives.

The pupils who attended returned to school the next day, resuming their school work as if nothing had happened the night before.

JOKES

Miss Judy: "How did you get hurt, little boy?"
Benny Layman: "Boo-hoo. I tried to stop a b-bumbly-bee, and the d-darned thing b-back-fired."

Rudolph: "Hey, you! Don't stop your car in front of my house."
Mervyn: "Don't worry, I know the rules: 'Don't park in front of a plug.'"

Mother: "Now, children; don't quarrel. What's the matter?"
James: "We're playing ship wreck, and Agnes won't go into the bath room and drown herself."

SCRAMBLE DATE

He: "Do you love me, darling?"
She: "Of course I do, Enoch."
He: "Enoch! My name is Mervyn."
She: "Why, so it is; I keep thinking today is Monday."

The hardwood floor at the community hall is being oiled and fixed up for basketball.

don't accomplish very much. If the teacher stays out she gets cranky and doesn't care to help anyone.

If we do want to stay up at nights we should do it either Friday or Saturday nights, so that we can get a good night's sleep before we come to school.

Typewriters Are Repaired

The typewriters of Malin high school were repaired by Jos. K. Cole, manager of Un-ferwood Typewriter company, October 14.

The typewriters had not been repaired since some time last term, and were not in very good condition. Since the improvements have been made, the students are able to do their lessons better and easier.
