

CHILL, RAIN GREET HOOVER

(Continued from Page One)

train moved along at a fair pace over the two mile stretch of track to the entrance of the early American village.

Edison "Butchered."

During the trip on the old train, Mr. Edison turned time back more than half a century to retrace his boyhood role of mews butcher. He had a basket of fruit which he sold for real money, insisting on collecting from his customers.

Is Reproduction.

Upon the arrival at Smith's Creek station the President and Mrs. Hoover inspected the old train which is a reproduction of the old Grand Trunk train from which Mr. Edison in 1862 was forcibly ejected because chemicals with which he experimented in the baggage car when he was not selling newspapers in the other cars, spilled on the floor of the car, set it on fire and incensed the train crew.

The locomotive with its bulging smoke stack and two enormous drivers was called the "Sam Hill" and on each side of the headlight were the words "The President."

The name on the tender was "Atlantic and Gulf R. R."

The President and Mrs. Hoover then posed for pictures with the engineer, William T. Black, whom Mr. Hoover greeted warmly.

Off to Search Northland for Missing Geologists

Off to join in the million-dollar aerial search of the barren northwest territory near the arctic circle for a lost party of geologists, two flyers here are shown as they left North Beach, N. Y. Left to right above are Lieut. George Rummell, pilot; Harry Busky, mechanic and radio operator; Capt. Thomas King, airport director, who wished them luck. Below is shown the take-off of the amphibian plane, bound for the wilderness where Col. C. D. H. McAlpine and his scientist-prospectors are feared to be facing starvation.

was evident to all that he felt the call of God and his message came from a sincere and humble heart.

Taking his message from the story of Peter walking on the water, he announced his subject, "How to Get to Jesus," and stayed close to it through his half-hour discourse, making definite steps as he went along.

Edward, Richard's five-year-old brother, pleased everyone with his songs. Tonight he will give a negro spiritual, accompanied by his father, Edward B. Headrick. Richard announced that tonight's service will be a get-acquainted meeting. He will give a special sermon, "Kindness." An opportunity will be given to all to shake hands with Richard and his brother.

These remarkable meetings will continue every night this week, ending Sunday evening.

LODGE HONORS PAST OFFICERS

Complimenting the past matrons and past patrons of the Aloha chapter of Eastern Star, the members will meet tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock to exemplify the work as it was put on sixty years ago.

This is an annual event and will be carried out in costume this year. The chairs will be occupied by the past matrons of the club.

Mrs. Frank Ward and Mrs. L. F. Willits, only living charter members of the Aloha chapter will be especially honored at this meeting Tuesday evening.

The following past matrons and patrons will fill chairs for the evening and participate in the work and program: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Van Emon, worthy grand matron and patron; Mrs. Jennie Hurn, associate matron; Mrs. Jessie Momyer, secretary; Mrs. Nelson, treasurer; Mrs. W. P. McMillan, associate conductress; Mrs. C. E. Dennis, conductress; Mrs. Wilbur A. Jones, organist; Mrs. George Chastain, Adah; Mrs. Marion Hanks, Ruth; Mrs. Oscar Peyton, Esther; Mrs. J. F. Penrod, Martha; Mrs. R. E. Wattenburg, Electa; Mrs. C. L. Harvey, warden; Marion Hanks, sentinel.

Mrs. F. Hill Hunter, worthy matron, specially invites all past matrons and past patrons in Klamath county to attend this meeting.

BEETLE RUSHES RAILROAD LINE

(Continued from Page One)

ber company, owners of the adjoining timber, was the successful bidder.

S. P. Pushed Line

Then came the problem of removing this timber from the woods before it all became beetle fodder, and the Southern Pacific was prevailed upon to hasten the construction of their contemplated line, so that the logs could be hauled to Alturas over a common-carrier railroad.

The rest of the story is well known to every one. The railroad was rushed to completion, and is now ready to meet the needs not only of the beetle-harassed owner of Modoc timber, but of the communities at both ends of the line and the country as a whole.

For once the pine beetle did Klamath Falls and Alturas a favor all unknowingly. Shall we curse them or thank them?

INVENTS SHORTHAND

LONDON, It has recently been brought to notice that Dr. Timothy Bright, physician at St. Bartholomew's Hospital in 1588, was the inventor of the modern shorthand system. A patent was granted to him which licensed him to "teach, imprint and publish, or cause to be taught, imprinted and published in or by characters not before this time commonly known and used by any other our subjects."

FORD REFUTES GIRL'S STORY

(Continued from Page One)

Pringle in one of the offices in the theatre at 4 p. m., August 9, but that the girl talked to no one.

"Was her hair mussed?" Stewart asked.

"No, she had her hat on," Mrs. Fowler answered.

"Was her dress torn?"

"I don't think so. She had a jacket on."

"You saw Pantages leave for the barber shop at 5 p. m.?"

"Yes; I'm sure."

"When you rushed to the cubby hole room (where the attack is alleged to have been made) did you hear the girl say anything?"

"Yes; she said, 'there's the beast!'"

"Did you see Roy Keene, (a prosecution witness) move a table into the cubby hole room?"

"No; we left for the police station at about 6 o'clock."

Keene had testified Pantages instructed him to move a table into the room, which he did at 6:10 p. m.

Superior Judge Charles Fricke, presiding, questioned the witness.

"When you heard the scream, did you run to the little room at once?"

"No; I was telephoning."

"When you finished, did you hear them?"

"Yes; and I ran down the hall."

"As you were running down the hall, did you hear them?"

"Yes; they continued."

Wise Recalled

Fred T. Wise, a state witness, who testified he arrived at the door of the little room to see Miss Pringle fighting to get out, her clothes torn and Pantages' clothing in disarray, was recalled by the defense.

Ford showed him a paper, described as insanity complaint issued against him in Denver, Colo., in 1925.

"Do you remember being confined for mental examination in Denver?" Ford asked.

"Yes; I think I remember," Wise answered.

Questions concerning the length of time he was confined met state objections, which were sustained, and Wise was excused.

Mickey O'Neil, an employee for eight years at the Pantages theatre, then was called to the stand by the defense.

GRANTS PASS WOMAN SUICIDE

GRANTS PASS, Oct. 21, (AP)—Mrs. Margerite C. King, 38, who shot herself to death in Chicago last night, was the daughter of the late Frank South, pioneer mining man of Grants Pass. Her first husband, Jack King, died several years ago, and she later married a Mr. Drake, salesman for a Chicago book company. The couple were divorced more than a year ago.

Mrs. King was here last summer, returning from Indianapolis, where she was to take charge of a book store. It is believed she stopped in Chicago to visit with friends.

Acquaintances of Mrs. King here were surprised at the reports that she committed suicide. Self-destruction, several of them said, would be "out of character" for her.

MINISTER IS BANKER

LONDON, Rev. F. J. Scroggie is a minister on Sundays and works as a manager of a bank in South London during the week. "In order to understand his people," he says, "a pastor ought to take part in the work of the world. My work as a business man improves my work as minister and contact with all kinds of men and women in business broadens my outlook."

TOMMY IN KILTS

LONDON, The English army is kilted. Shorts have been adopted by the army as a popular form of service dress. They are cut so as to allow about four inches to overlap the top of puttee. When the wearer sits they do not get baggy at the knee in the same way as trousers do. Hot weather brought on this form of dress.

ORPHANS THANKFUL

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., A big 600-pound moose crashed through the woods across the path of Frank Hanks recently. Hanks saw the animal fall and investigated. He found that the moose had broken his neck in the fall. Game wardens took the animal's meat and distributed it among the charitable institutions of the country.

HA! A BLESSING

VIENNA, For those who don't like their neighbor's attempt at playing a piano, it is suggested that one of the new pianos brought forth here be bought for him. It is a silent piano. The player wears special headphones which are connected to the instrument. When the player pounds the keys he can hear himself, but no one else can hear him.

FOR RESULTS USE THE HERALD WANT ADS.

SEWER SYSTEM IS INSPECTED

(Continued from Page One)

pumping plant, which is now completed and in use.

Units Nos. 3 and 4 will be completed within thirty days, according to work now being done under the direction of Mr. Hartenbrower, who has the contract. Unit No. 3 comprises part of the disposal plant, and will cost $43,650 when completed. This with unit No. 4, $66,970.50, will complete the work on the disposal plant.

Units 5A and 5B were contracted by Dunn & Baker, and are almost completed, according to reports made today. These sections take in the California and Conger avenue districts, and will cost $6,981.80 and $29,674.45 respectively when completed.

Mr. Kennedy expressed complete satisfaction with the work being done in Klamath Falls, and will make a complete report of the work in the near future. A more detailed inspection trip was being made this afternoon in company with C. C. Kelley, and the main trunk line and branch system is being gone completely and thoroughly over.

KLAMATH HIGH BEATS ALTURAS

Klamath High football team defeated Alturas 12-3 on the Modoc field at Alturas last Saturday afternoon. It was a hard fought game to the last. It was an offensive game, the yardage being made on both sides by line plunges and end runs. Only a few passes were completed. Klamath was penalized many times.

Alturas scored their two points on a safety in the second quarter when Radkey fumbled the ball and recovered it back of Alturas' goal line.

Guido Robustell made Klamath's twelve points in two touchdowns, one in the first quarter and one in the fourth quarter. In the third quarter Wakeman received a spectacular sixty-yard pass from Kende, but was tackled before he could run.

G. Robustell, R. Robustell, Grave and Kende were the stars of the game.

The lineups follows:

| | | |
|---------|-------------------|---------|
| Klamath | C. J. Whelan | Alturas |
| Coffman | R. G. A. Cram | Hale |
| Hale | L. G. Wm. Goulden | Thomas |
| Leonard | R. T. R. Methvin | Wakeman |
| Smith | L. E. F. Tylander | Minor |
| Grove | R. H. D. Smith | Kende |
| Whitney | F. B. Tierney | |

Substitutes for Klamath were: Redkey, Hall, Nicholson, Estes and Ulrich.

CONGRESS HAS LOBBY PROBE

(Continued from Page One)

photostatic copy of the memorandum said he did not remember it.

"Do you suppose," Walsh asked, "that Mr. Wulchet, a subordinate of yours, had such familiarity with the majority members of the finance committee as to obtain this information?"

"No sir," Eyanson replied. "I suppose we will have to ask Mr. Wulchet about it," Walsh observed.

Worked for Bingham

Eyanson's testimony to some extent duplicated that at the heated sessions of last week. He insisted that although the association had paid his salary while he was working for Bingham, he was an employee of Bingham, and did not represent the association.

Senator Blaine, republican, Wisconsin, asked if he was called from the finance committee room between July 23 and 27.

Eyanson replied he had been called over the telephone "a number of times," and might have been called out of the room.

"Don't you recall a very important telephone call?" Blaine asked.

"From whom was it?"

Blaine did not give the witness any enlightenment except to assert that Eyanson said during the conversation: "I cannot tell you now; I'll tell you later."

Eyanson was unable to recall the conversation.

Blaine then asked from whom he had received long distance calls, and Eyanson named several, including Frank Lee of Danbury, Conn., a Mr. Perkins, and the American Thermos Bottle company.

The witness said he did not

Patricia Caron, well known on stage and screen, has one of the featured roles in the new Pathé all-discipline picture, "Oh, Yeah!" A bystander on the set during the making of the picture was asked if he did not think Bob Armstrong, playing opposite Patricia in the picture, was not a lucky man, meaning luck in the sense of climbing so rapidly in pictures. The bystander looked at Patricia and replied "Oh, Yeah!"

Patricia Caron

recall making the statement attributed to him by Blaine, adding he would have been "very stupid" to have said that while newspaper reporters were present.

E. Kent Hubbard, president of the association, then was called. He asked to be permitted to stand during his examination.

"That's all right," said Chairman Caraway, "but you will be tried before you are through."

Hubbard said he received $10,000 salary and $5,000 for traveling expenses. He listed the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and the Scoville Manufacturing company of Waterbury as probably the largest contributors to the association.

Caraway inquired how much the railroad contributed, and Hubbard estimated it at $3,000 or $4,000 a year. The association had a reserve fund of about $4,000, he added.

The witness insisted that this year was the first time the organization had been interested in tariff legislation, and said this was due to the request of Bingham for a man to assist him.

This ought to be a pretty clean country, the way fires, mergers, hurricanes, reforms, etc., all seem to be "sweeping."

The High Spot of the Hallow'een Party

One-pound Boy $1.50

Add delicious flavor to the fun with this choice Bond Street Package of Artstyle Chocolates. Every tempting, dainty kind that lovers of fine sweets like—fruit, nut and cream centers. Sold only at Rexall Stores.

Star Drug Co.

The High Spot of the Hallow'een Party

One-pound Boy $1.50

Add delicious flavor to the fun with this choice Bond Street Package of Artstyle Chocolates. Every tempting, dainty kind that lovers of fine sweets like—fruit, nut and cream centers. Sold only at Rexall Stores.

Star Drug Co.

Patricia Caron, well known on stage and screen, has one of the featured roles in the new Pathé all-discipline picture, "Oh, Yeah!" A bystander on the set during the making of the picture was asked if he did not think Bob Armstrong, playing opposite Patricia in the picture, was not a lucky man, meaning luck in the sense of climbing so rapidly in pictures. The bystander looked at Patricia and replied "Oh, Yeah!"

CONGRESS HAS LOBBY PROBE

(Continued from Page One)

recall making the statement attributed to him by Blaine, adding he would have been "very stupid" to have said that while newspaper reporters were present.

E. Kent Hubbard, president of the association, then was called. He asked to be permitted to stand during his examination.

"That's all right," said Chairman Caraway, "but you will be tried before you are through."

Hubbard said he received $10,000 salary and $5,000 for traveling expenses. He listed the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and the Scoville Manufacturing company of Waterbury as probably the largest contributors to the association.

Caraway inquired how much the railroad contributed, and Hubbard estimated it at $3,000 or $4,000 a year. The association had a reserve fund of about $4,000, he added.

The witness insisted that this year was the first time the organization had been interested in tariff legislation, and said this was due to the request of Bingham for a man to assist him.

This ought to be a pretty clean country, the way fires, mergers, hurricanes, reforms, etc., all seem to be "sweeping."

Don't Miss! the Showing of FUR COATS at our store Monday and Tuesday

Misses, Women's and Large Women's Sizes

A Small Deposit Will Hold Any Coat

La Pointe's

CHRYSLER ON PARADE TODAY

Chrysler Road Show, putting before the public the parade of new Chrysler models, is attracting great numbers of people to the show rooms of the Howie Motor company, according to J. Ross Leslie, local agent.

More than 150 people have been given demonstration rides in the new models since the opening of the show yesterday. It was stated at the garage this afternoon.

The new models for 1930 are being shown at this time and the notable achievements of the Chrysler cars explained to those interested: 77 Sedan, 84 Coupe, 70 Roadster, are among the most popular numbers shown and being demonstrated.

C. W. Turner of Portland, Grant S. Murphy of Los Angeles, H. I. Crooks, Portland; Harold Cole, Portland, and Ernest Brown, sales service manager of Portland are in Klamath Falls with the Chrysler road show and are demonstrating the cars. The men will remain here until tomorrow when J. H. Alfred, Chrysler wholesale territory manager of Portland, will be here to conclude the feature.

Mechanical features and the improvements of the cars are featured and explained at this road show.

SCRAP OF THE AGES

BALTIMORE, A true battle of the ages, which drew one of the biggest crowds that ever saw a street brawl here, was waged between Joseph Rafiowski, 72, and his wife, Mary, 72. The two battlers were going at it hammer and tongs with tools intended for shoe repairing. Patrolman Slagle who arrested them, couldn't understand what it was all about, because the couple were indulging in a heated argument in Polish.

A British writer says he eats raw onions just like apples. That should be a great help in keeping not only doctors away but everybody else.

CORRECTIONS TO ERRORGRAMS

(1) On entering a harbor a ship picks up the pilot, instead of dropping him. (2) The officer at the left is standing at ease, when he should be at attention. (3) The same officer is a Lieutenant, but is wearing an ordinary seaman's hat. (4) There is no term "hine bells" in ship time, since this time runs in three periods of from one to eight bells. (5) The scrambled word is auctioneer.

GUARANTEED PLATES THAT FIT $20.00

This is the best set of teeth money can buy, none better. Double suction impressions, natural pink gums and guaranteed Trubyte Teeth. With the motto of this office with all dental work, "Perfect Fit" and "Satisfaction Guaranteed."

DR. W. C. THOMPSON
Phone 1637 712 Main St.

FOR SALE AN ATTRACTIVE 2-ROOM HOUSE

On Corner Lot
Lots of Built-ins. Good Garage.
$1250.00
Will take $200.00 down or a vacant lot.
Balance Like Rent.
H. E. HAUGER
Buick Garage.

BRIEF NEWS of KLAMATH

Enjoying Vacation—
J. S. Stafford, engineer of the Great Northern, is enjoying a week's vacation from his duties.

Mrs. Ferguson Improving—
Mrs. R. B. Ferguson is improving at the Klamath Valley hospital, where she has been a patient for the past fortnight with pneumonia. Mrs. Ferguson will probably return to her home this evening.

On Vacation—
Miss Della McGrath of the Evening Herald circulation force is enjoying a week's vacation. Miss McGrath plans to remain at home the greater part of the time.

Has Minor Operation—
E. M. De Spain submitted to a minor operation at the Hillside hospital this morning. According to reports his condition is reported as improving.

A college lad lost his pants, but won a flag rush. The customary thing is to win nothing but lose your shirt.

Cleveland motorist fined for going through a safety zone. There's no safety in them for motorists.

Corrections To Errorgrams

(1) On entering a harbor a ship picks up the pilot, instead of dropping him. (2) The officer at the left is standing at ease, when he should be at attention. (3) The same officer is a Lieutenant, but is wearing an ordinary seaman's hat. (4) There is no term "hine bells" in ship time, since this time runs in three periods of from one to eight bells. (5) The scrambled word is auctioneer.

TENT CROWDED TO HEAR BOY

A great throng crowded the big tent at corner of Seventh and Pine streets Sunday evening, to hear "The Little Minister," Richard Headrick. At first many were skeptical that a 12-year-old boy could bring a real gospel message, but as they listened to this gifted child preach on "How to Get to Jesus" their doubts vanished, for the best of theologians would have found it difficult to give adverse criticism on his sermon.

Richard speaks with a naturalness that is at once pleasing and convincing to his congregation. Although having a remarkable vocabulary, his talk was boyish to the extreme, delighting all with his quaint expressions and delightful phraseology. There was no attempt at play-acting, or playing up to his audience, for it