for several days and would continue to do so in substantial amounts at "levels which we believe represent sound investment values."

The statement issued from Mr. Rockefeller's home at Pocantico Hills, N. Y., was one of the very infrequent comments that he has issued on business conditions in recent years. It said:

John D. Talks

"Believing that fundamental conditions of the country are sound and that there is nothing in the business situation to warrant the destruction of values that has taken place on the exchange during the past week, my son and I have for some days been purchasing sound common stocks. We are continuing and will continue our purchases in substantial amounts at levels which we believe represent sound investment values."

Vote On Closing

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Governors of the New York exchange voted today to delay the opening tomorrow until noon and to close the exchange on Friday and Saturday. The exchange will be open Monday, the day preceding election day.

Tourists Returning

PARIS, Oct. 30. (AP)—The break in prices in Wall Street and the consequent stock market losses are sending home in a hurry many Americans who have been "joy riding" in Europe on paper profits.

The United States liner George Washington, which sails tomorrow has a waiting list of twenty five and the Leviathan's next sailing is being rapidly booked. Other steamship lines report the same condition, and scores of Americans who do not have to economize on cabins must wait two or three weeks to sail.

that he go before customs officials and endorse free entry of steel for farm implements.

Third Appearance

It was Grundy's third appearance before the committee and a full crowd had gathered to hear the further testimony of the white haired man who so far has frankly told the committee he raised campaign funds for the republican party and then came to Washington to see that party pledges on the tariff were carried out.

The committee discussion today shifted to the wool tariff. Grundy defended this and insisted it was "one of the best ways of helping the farmer outside of giving him $500,000,000."

"Who is giving the farmers $500,000,000," asked Blaine.

"You fellows did it."

"We proposed to loan the farmer $500,000,000 more," answered Blaine, asking: "you mean the farmer is a poor creditor?"

"No," said Grundy, "but I think everyone is willing to let them have it if they can't pay it back."

Constant Visitor

Senator Caraway called at attention to Grundy's constant attendance in the senate gallery during the tariff discussion.

"Yes, I thought the show was worth the price of admission."

"Yes, I guess you did," Caraway retorted, "Did you rent that seat up there?"

Caraway asserted Grundy was able to divest himself of his various offices in a manner like the Ku Klux Klanman taking off his white robes, and the witness replied:

"You come from a section where you ought to know about that."

Caraway countered that Pennsylvania had had considerable Klan disputes.

HALEY SPEAKS ABOUT THRIFT

associates everything done by him with money. He explained how a few cents saved a day would send a boy to college, how a little more saved would make a man independent at the age when a man is no longer able to do hard work. Money saved, he said, made for love and contentment in the home where the lack of money might cause one to think in terms of crime and eventually lead to serving time in a prison. Mr. Haley told of how the schools of higher education taught a boy how to make money through a number of professions taught, but not any of them taught a boy how to save money. It doesn't make any difference how much you make if you can't save you are not much better off than the man working for small tipend.

Fred Olin played several selections on the piano and accompanied Mr. Haley when he sang his songs and yodled. Mr. Haley and Mr. Olin were well received.

SIR HARRY WILL DINE ON TROUT

Sir Harry Lauder will have mountain trout for his tea this evening after the matinee, and before the evening's performance.

When it was learned that Sir Harry was a great lover of the sport of fishing, Harry Poole sent a message to his care-taker at "Sunnybrook" to bring some of the speckled beauties to town for Sir Harry.

Sunnybrook is the name of the Poole country place above Chiloquin, where Mr. Poole has one of the largest and best fish hatcheries in the United States.

The trout will be cooked and served to Sir Harry at the Willard hotel.

STUDENTS PAY FORUM VISIT

Acular last quarter with a final touchdown. The speaker told of the fifty men, including only seven lettermen, who were put into shape and composed the first and second squads and Wildcat team for this year. The first team has played five games so far this year, winning three, losing one and one was a tie. The field has been improved for this season's games, having been plowed and sawdust spread on the ground.

Tells of Clubs.

One of the high school girls talked about the school activities and organizations. The work of the Pep Peppers, girl's pep organization, Klamath Knights, boy's club, Y club, Girls' Athletic Association, Girls' Letter club, Hi-Y club was outlined and discussed. The music department, consisting of the band, orchestra, glee club and elementary band and orchestra which are studying under the direction of Miss Baldwin and Mr. Derry was lauded by the speaker. Scholarship work of the high school students was brought out and the various awards given for the best students were presented for examination.

Over 600 Students.

Ben Wilson, president of the student body, was another speaker. He explained that the average attendance at the high school so far this year has been over 600, placing the school in Class A division for the first time. The Hi-Y club is working in an effort to secure a Y. M. C. A. for the school to give the young boys a chance to spend their spare time profitably. Mr. Wilson stated that the policy of the athletic associations of the high school was "never give up."

Play Medford Monday.

The next football game on the schedule for this conference is next Monday when Klamath Union high school meets Medford at the local field. This is the most crucial game of the year and the students who spoke gave assurance that they really meant to win this year. Medford was defeated recently by Corvallis by a 14 to 3 score and this gives the local boys encouragement. All the business men of the town were urged to attend this game and get back of the team to help them win.

Wilson Wiley, district attorney, presided at the meeting.

NAMES DRAWN FOR PLAYERS

Last night at the Pelican Community club, Walter Peterson, Walter Wakeman and Louie Anderson, three of last year's regulars, on the Pelican basketball team, made a drawing for their respective teams for a plant league, with the following results: Walter Peterson drew the following: Hunt, Dingler, Brunner, Herman Wakeman and Jerry Everett. Louie Anderson drew the following: Plano, Lamer, Al Howard Wakeman, Rustian and J. Boyd. Curly Wakeman drew the following: Plano, Lamer, Allen, Thompson, Cornett, Beyer and Wines.

Last year this league was called the "Nut" League but that was changed at the meeting last night to the "Monkey" League. Peterson's team will be known as the Baboons, Curly Wakeman's as the Gorillas and Anderson's as the Apes.

Red Wenner, last year's star forward, will referee all the games. Wenner will be out of the game this year due to dislocating his knee early this season. It happened last year also.

ROBBED POSTOFFICE.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 30. (A. P.)—Elliott Henderson, 36, said to be a member of a prominent Tillamook, Ore., family, was sentenced to a year and a day at McNeil Island prison and fined $1 today on his plea of guilty to the robbery of a postoffice.

Henderson broke into lock boxes in the Tillamook postoffice and burned letters which he took except two checks.

HAD THREE ALSO.

PORTLAND, Oct. 30. (AP)—"But I have three children to support," Mrs. N. E. Schwed-fager protested when a robber held her up last night.

"If I didn't have three children to support I wouldn't be doing this," replied the robber as he took $1.05 and a lipstick and Mr. Olin were well received.

Requests in the will of the late Jasper Bennett were made known recently when the will was filed in the office of the county clerk by Wilson S. Wiley, attorney.

Bennett left a gift of $500 to the I. O. O. F. lodge of this city and also $500 to the Knights of Pythias of Vancouver, Washington.

Mr. Bennett died in Humboldt county, Calif., on October 21 and was a former resident of this city. Two of his brothers, F. M. Bennett and J. T. Bennett have been appointed executors of the will by County Judge Fred R. Goddard. The estate is approximately $18,500 with real property amounting to about $15,000.

LAUDER FINE PERSONALITY

Klamath Falls which he got from his hotel window, and said that he was already familiar with the town because he had walked up from the Southern Pacific station this morning. He arrived on the "Cascade," and when he saw what a beautiful, crisp morning it was, he couldn't resist the walk. All the other members of his troupe walked, too.

Much of Sir Harry Lauder's time is devoted to keeping himself fit, for, as he says, he is the only actor in the world who cannot have an understudy. There is only one, and there never will be but one Harry Lauder.

Returned Money

A year ago last September, Sir Harry was playing in his native town of Glasgow, Scotland. Unfortunately, he contracted an attack of laryngitis. The house was completely sold for his performance, the receipts from the seat sales being 3500 pounds, or $17,500. Sir Harry was unable to appear, and every cent was refunded to the purchasers of tickets. The return of the money little compensated, however, for the disappointment of missing Sir Harry. He says that he can take more money from Glasgow, and fill the theatre for more capacity houses than he can any other city in the world. This is quite a record for a Scotchman in a Scotch city, and a star who always packs his houses.

Circling Globe

Sir Harry has just returned from a trip around the world. This is the first time that he has played the small towns. When asked why he had decided to do so this time he said, "I am playing the small burroughs because I have many friends in them, because I can go to them and they cannot come to me." Sir Harry has been known throughout the world for his wonderful records, which he has been making for 27 years.

Sir Harry Lauder said, apropos of his long tour over the country, "I am having a whale of a trip, and I am having a whale of a time. I leave my audience intoxicated with enthusiasm and mirth. I fill people with fun and mischief, but I do no mischief."

Sir Harry goes from here directly to San Francisco, where he always plays to capacity houses.

SEWER UNITS NEARLY DONE

Donald and Fulton streets, has been constructed with asphalt macadam pavements, sidewalks, curbs and storm sewers, at an approximate cost of $12,000. Unit No. 81 is the same type construction, and comprises Mortimer avenue, Eldorado avenue and Wall street, will also cost approximately $12,000. Unit No. 72, Lincoln street, has just been started, but will be completed if the weather permits.

The 12th Unit in Hot Springs, and the 13th Unit in Mills addition, will be finished in about a month. R. H. Stock of Aberdeen, Wash., is the contractor.

Unit No. 53, about seven miles of asphalt pavement in Mills addition, is under construction, and while work is going on satisfactorily, and progress is being made, the contractor cannot complete the pavements this fall. However, crushed rock will be laid on as many of the streets as possible before the weather prevents further construction.

PAIR ROB MAN AND TAKE CAR

PORTLAND, Oct. 30. (AP)—Clackamas and Multnomah county officers were searching today for a taxicab stolen from a Portland driver, and for a man and a woman who held up the driver, robbed him, and drove away in the car.

The couple engaged the cab near Grand Avenue and East Morrison street, last night, directing the driver to go to Oregon City. There, E. D. Barnes, the driver, was told to go to a ranch farther on. Then there was silence until Barnes felt a revolver pressed against his back. "Stop but leave the motor running," the man ordered.

Barnes was then robbed and the couple drove south.

Police first heard of the case today after Barnes was deposited in Oregon City by a truck driver who had picked him up after a weary walk.

ad permission to visit his wife's bedside. Upon his return to the county jail in custody of deputy sheriffs, he appeared downcast and expressed belief she was "going to die."

Suffers Relapse

Mrs. Pantages, herself under conviction for manslaughter in connection with the death of Juro Rokumoto, Japanese gardener, after an automobile collision, has been in ill health since the accident. She suffered a relapse when informed of her husband's conviction on statutory charges brought by Miss Pringle, and although her physicians denied they feared for her life they said that she is in a "very critical condition."

Probation Postponed

Hearings on her probation petition, now set for November 8, previously have been postponed twice on recommendations of physicians who said her appearance in court might result in permanent impairment to her health.

Reports that Pantages was to be removed to the jail hospital because of illness following his conviction were offset by Jail Physician Benjamin Blank, who said the showman was suffering minor chronic ailments none of which were serious at the present time.

No Irregularities

Questioned by District Attorney Buron Fitts concerning reports of irregularities in the Pantages case jury room, Mrs. Christina Ulrich, jury member, swore to affidavits specifically denying the rumors. Pantages' attorneys had indicated they would take a plea for a new trial on the asserted jury actions. They said also they would cite a statement attributed to Mrs. Ulrich to the effect that "no vote was ever taken directly on the subject of acquitting Pantages."

ALLEY SEASON ALMOST HERE

turn in a reasonable time, started the motors of the plane, and this noise was an auditory beacon to the wandering pair as darkness crept over the land.

Get Warm Meal

Consuming what food they had in the plane, the party later found a cabin nearby that had been noted in circling for a landing. The night was spent there before a roving fire.

Mrs. Bessie Mason, a woman living about five miles from where the plane landed, discovered the flying party. She cooked them a meal of eggs and ham and biscuits, fortifying the men against the cold and snow.

ELDERLY WOMEN HIT

A great many elderly women have been among the throngs filling the brokers' offices, wealthy dowagers who arrived in cars with liveried chauffeurs and retired school teachers risking their savings on the turn of the market.

Four richly dressed women toured uptown brokerage offices in a party. One of them announced she had lost $15,000 and led her companions out, remarking: "This place is depressing."

Brokers said the women were more voluble than men in discussing their losses, confiding to casual strangers what their fling in the market had cost them.

Denver, Colo.—"I have taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and will take more.
