SUMMONS
No. 2004 Equity

If you fail to appear and answer said complaint on or before the 6th day of December, 1929, the plaintiff Doris Mourer will apply to the court for the relief demanded and prayed for in plaintiff's said complaint, to-wit: For a decree of divorce and from the said defendant Harry G. Mourer on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment, and for the care, keeping and custody of the minor daughter, Dolores Mourer, and for such other and further relief as to the court may seem meet and proper.
This summons is published in The Evening Herald, a daily newspaper, printed, published and circulated daily at Klamath Falls, in Klamath County, Oregon, by order of the Honorable W. M. Duncan, Judge of the Circuit Court of Klamath County, Oregon, dated the 4th day of November, 1929, the first publication thereof to be made on the 6th day of November, 1929, and the last publication thereof to be made on the 4th day of December, 1929, the said order providing that summons should be published once each week for four successive weeks in the Evening Herald, a daily newspaper, printed, published and circulated daily at Klamath Falls, in Klamath County, Oregon, and the paper designated as being most likely to give notice to said defendant.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE PINE TREE
Although Rin-Tin-Tin, Warner Bros.' famous dog star and the best-loved canine in the world, has now appeared in 18 motion pictures, his latest, "Frozen River," is said to be the most colorful and thrilling story in which he has starred. It will be seen at the Pine Tree for four days, starting today.
Filmed against the vast background of the frozen and icy north, "Frozen River" depicts the love of a dog for man, even though he has been reared from a puppy with a she-wolf. Many dramatic situations occur in this picture in which Rin-Tin-Tin saves the lives of three persons he has learned to love.

The adorable child, Davey Lee—famous for his acting in "The Singing Fool" and "Sonny Boy," is cast as the pal of Rin-Tin, saved by the latter from evil characters of the wilderness.

AT THE PELICAN
"Fast Company" came to the Pelican theatre yesterday amid gales of laughter. It is real amusement of the highest order with comedy of the best rib-tickling kind. Jack Oakie is the main reason for the laughter. He is a very clever comedian.
The plot is based upon a story of baseball players written by the great American humorist, Ring Lardner. The hero, played by Jack Oakie, is a boastful but lovable slacker who wins the league pennant. He falls into the fast company of smart city-bred folks, including a show-girl and some crafty gamblers, and he almost ruins his own and his team's chances for victory on the day of the final game of the world's series when something happens to change the whole aspect of the plot.

Oakie is a new type of comedian on the screen and he will add thousands of admirers to his string with his swaggering "big league" comedy capers in this one. Evelyn Brent, as the girl who spurns him but later warms to his naive charms, does a great job, as always. Richard "Buck" Gallagher, another young actor who has risen rapidly in comedy roles, gives a remarkable performance as the slacker manager of Oakie. Owen Lee adds a full quota of feminine charm and Sam Hardy as the manager of the Yankees is, as ever, equal to the demand upon his powers as a gifted actor.

AT THE LIBERTY
The most sensational tong war ever staged in a Chinatown scene was fought as one of the embellishments of "The Cameraman." Buster Keaton's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer comedy now being shown at the Liberty theatre. More than five hundred Oriental actors appeared as highlanders in a battle on a huge replica of a Chinatown street, and staged a tong war up-to-date, as machine guns were introduced.
The Chinese highlanders prefer their tong war, like their chop suey, "Chicago style," according to research experts. The machine guns were authentic; the modern Chinese gunman has learned this trick from the gangsters of the white race in large American cities.

ALTURAS TRAIN TO CARRY MAIL
Reasonable assurance that the Southern Pacific's Klamath Falls Alturas train will carry mail by December 1 has been received here. It was stated last night by Postmaster John McCall.
All mail to Alturas, Lakeview and towns in that section will be routed over the Southern Pacific instead of over the stage routes to Lakeview and then distributed as at present, it is thought.
At present 14 hours is allowed for the delivery of mail from Klamath Falls to Alturas. It will be attempted to cut this time to about five hours, it is stated.
A postal inspector has been studying the matter in this section and will make a report on which it is expected that the new schedules will be based.
