Albion Visitor—

Mrs. A. E. Tomseth of Albion was a visitor in Klamath Falls Wednesday.

Much Snow on Pass—

Snow thirty inches deep blocked the McKenzie highway to traffic at the big cut on the eastern edge of the lava fields late yesterday evening. It was learned by the highway department maintenance crew working out of Sisters. The snow was drifted in the big cut and, so far as could be ascertained, no automobiles were attempting to cross the summit. Yesterday morning the maintenance crew reached Windy Point, where a car was found snowbound. This machine was pulled out. Because of wintry conditions, the crew moved into the lower country until the afternoon. There was much drifting of snow in the high Cascades yesterday and last night.

HOW DO YOU RATE?

LONDON—If your handwriting is legible, you've been destined to be honest and agreeable. That's the assertion by Justice Eve, according to an English magazine. It follows that poor writers are destined to be disagreeable and dishonest, but Mr. Eve has not as yet made the latter assertion.
