

FIRE LOWERS LAKE FOREST CANINE HOME

83 Dogs Lost In Blaze At Irene Castle's Dog Reuge

LAKE FOREST, Ill., Feb. 13. (AP)—The 83 dogs burned to death when fire destroyed Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin's dog refuge "Orphans of the Storm" Wednesday, did not die in vain. Mrs. McLaughlin donated today that a new and even better refuge for homeless dogs would replace the $10,000 kennels that burned. She furthermore declared that she would demand a thorough investigation if it were found the fire was of incendiary origin, as she believes.

Phone Wires Cut.
The theory of incendiaryism was borne out, she said, not only by the nature of the fire itself, starting as it did in the early morning hours, but by the fact that telephone wires leading from the keeper's dwelling were cut, preventing the summoning of firemen.

There have been several complaints to the Lake county prosecutor recently against the refuge which the complaints describe as a nuisance.

The barking of the keeper's own dog, Hum, raised the first alarm. The keeper, Tom Webster, released 40 dogs while his wife drove a truck several miles to summon aid, which arrived too late to be of value.

Great Humanitarian.
Mrs. McLaughlin's crusade against cruelty to animals on several occasions brought her into sharp verbal tiffs. Once she challenged the Chicago health commissioner's order for all dogs to be inoculated against rabies. She publicly objected to horse show harness that forced the horses to hold their heads erect.

Rabies, she advised Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, the health commissioner, was a rare malady, and what were called "mad" dogs more likely were sick dogs. The commissioner reminded Mrs. McLaughlin that she had been an exceptional dancer, and without equal as a style originator.

Stage Wants Here.
In the eight years that Mrs. McLaughlin has lived here she has had many tempting offers to return to the stage which she left a few years after Vernon Castle, her first husband, was killed. He died in an airplane crash during the world war.

"I'm not so blind that I do not know I have slowed up," she once remarked. "Maybe not so light on my feet or so willowy."
She may be more matronly, but not less comely than when her dancing, her walking, her dress, her hair, even her manures, were copied by women around the world.

"I couldn't have my husband if I went back to the stage. Barbara and I have great times in the country. The Major and I ride three times a week and when the hunting season is on we have a gay time."

The McLaughlins are home folks, occasionally visiting the opera or the hockey games, going south for the winter, or to Europe for the summer.

More often they sit at home playing double solitaire. The actress who eight years ago could not go to sleep before 2 a. m., now is the matron who says she can't stay awake after midnight.

Many of the high school folks of the valley attended the basketball game at Bonanza between Bonanza and Malin.

Mrs. Hollis Himes returned home Friday from Klamath Falls where she has been for the past week.

A band of cattle, owned by Mr. Owens of Hly, came through the valley last week on their way to Poe Valley.

Mr. Galford Loomis delivered a load of cheese to Klamath Falls from the cheese factory on Friday.

Mrs. Cooke Would Pay Obligations Of Bankrupt Firm

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 13. (A P.)—Mrs. James P. Cooke offered to J. G. Gillingham, trustee in bankruptcy for the defunct firm of Overbeck and Cooke, the payment of $45,000 in cash and the surrender of virtually all her personal property, including her home and jewelry, in settlement of two pending suits against herself and her husband.

Gillingham yesterday filed an application for an order from A. M. Cannon, referee in bankruptcy, authorizing the acceptance of the offer. Decision of the application will not be made for 10 days.

The suits, asking judgment of $125,000 against Mr. and Mrs. Cooke for money said to have been withdrawn from brokerage firm funds for personal uses were filed several months ago in circuit court.

J. P. Winter, attorney for Mrs. Cooke, made the offer contingent on the promise that all litigation against herself and Cooke and all other members of the family would be dropped.

Bok Award Given To Connie Mack For Best Service

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13. (A P.)—Connie Mack, veteran manager of the world's champion Athletics, has received the 1929 Edward W. Bok award, presented annually to the man or woman who, during the preceding twelve months, "rendered the most outstanding service to Philadelphia."

$10,000 Check
The gift, a $10,000 check enclosed in an ivory case, a gold medal and a scroll, was presented last night at a private dinner at which Mack and 59 prominent citizens were guests of the board of trustees of the award.

Mack, who had been in Florida awaiting the beginning of the baseball training season, made a hurried trip from the south to receive the honor, heretofore bestowed upon artists, scientists, educators and philanthropists.

Charles E. Fox, former district attorney, made the presentation speech and lauded the gray-haired manager for his "years of effort devoted to the honesty, decency and efficiency of the National game."

Mayor Baker and Commissioners in Danger of Recall

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 13. (A P.)—Members of the citizens' recall league today were prepared to circulate petitions for the recall of Mayor George L. Baker and four city commissioners. Hugh C. Krum, executive secretary of the league, said if the necessary 20,000 names are obtained by the circulators the recall will be submitted to the voters at the May primary.

The four city commissioners are John M. Mann, C. A. Higelow, A. L. Barber and S. C. Pier. Mayor Baker, as commissioner of public safety, completes the city's governing board.

Krum last night said circulators would first canvass residential sections of the city in their quest for names. He declared the petitions were based on charges of unfitness of office and "an utter disregard for the interests of the taxpayers."

The United States mints turned out 46,651,000 coins for foreign governments the last fiscal year.

Grants Pass May Not Get Building

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 13. (A P.)—The Oregonian said today that construction of a new federal building at Grants Pass, Ore., depends upon the results of a survey which will be undertaken by the interdepartmental committee on public buildings following enactment of the Elliott bill. Senator McNary has been thus advised by Assistant Secretary Heath of the treasury department.

A new list will be prepared of cities having postal receipts of more than $20,000 and according to Heath Grants Pass is not included on the list.

REAL MOTHER LOVE

NEW YORK.—An instance of mother love that shielded her son from murder was brought out here in the trial of Mrs. Margaret Kujler, who was being tried for the murder of William Studeman, after a confession. At the trial, however, her son, only 16, told the judge that he killed the man in defense of his father. The son and mother were freed.

GOITRE NOT A DISEASE

Milwaukee Doctor Makes Remarkable Discovery

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — It has been brought to light by scientific research that goitre is not a disease and is not to be treated as such. Dr. A. A. Rock, Dept. P. 9, Box 717, Milwaukee, Wis., a prominent goitre specialist for over 24 years, has perfected a different method of treatment for his patients that has proved remarkably successful. This same method is now being used for a home treatment of goitre cases all over the country with astonishing results. The doctor states that goitre is a condition which grows worse with neglect and recommends immediate attention no matter how small the growth may appear. He strongly opposes needless operations. Dr. Rock is the author of a book that tells in a simple way about treating goitre at home. He has published this book at his own expense and will send a copy free to anyone interested. Wire-Haired Fox Terrier Made Grand Champion of Dog World

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. (AP)—Pendley Calling of Blarney, a swanky little lady whose tribe is as much a part of the Manhattan scene as was Grover Whalen's top hat, last night trotted out of Madison Square Garden as grand champion of the biggest dog show in America.

Before a gallery of nearly 10,000 chuckling spectators, she was judged the best dog in the 54th annual show of the Westminster kennel club. And that means just about the best dog this side of London. There were nearly 3,000 dogs in the show, from all parts of the country.

Typical Specimen

Pendley Calling of Blarney—possibly "Pen," for short, although "Blarney" fits better—is a wire-haired fox terrier, with a hammershaped head, mutton chop whiskers, tan ears, curly white coat with a black spot here and there, and the waggiest stub of a tail that ever beguiled a judge.

Tugging at a leash along Park Avenue any fine Sunday afternoon you'll see two "Pen's" to one of any other breed.

Owner Showed Her
"Pen" belongs to John G. Bates of Morristown, N. J., who showed her himself. She won prizes in Europe before carrying off everything in the terrier class and finally the grand championship in this show.

No one could look at "Pen" without grinning, and the way she would cooly cock her head and look up at the judge, W. L. McCandlish, a tall and solemn Englishman with a monocle, was irresistibly funny.

An Aristocrat

But flirtatious and flippancy though she may be at times, "Pen" is every inch an aristocrat. She showed it when, as grand champion, she posed for endless minutes under the kilig lights in a forest of cameras. She was tired, and she was nervous, and the lights were hot, but the only part of her that moved was her tail. And, after all, what are tails for if not to wag?

JUST A BIT LATE

DAMARISCOTTA, Me.—In 1913 Rufus F. Genthner mailed a postal to Herbert Hawes at Wiscasset, eight miles away, quoting prices on dry goods. The card has not been delivered. The prices quoted by Genthner have changed somewhat in the past seven years, but he doesn't care, for he has since retired.

Noah Beery's Life Held In Jeopardy

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Feb. 13. (AP)—Noah Beery, motion picture bad man, today in real life is waging a desperate battle against the death he so ably portrayed in numerous make-believe villainous roles on the screen.

At the Hollywood hospital where the film "heavy" yesterday afternoon underwent an operation for appendicitis, his condition was described as dangerous. Operating physicians said that a gangrenous condition of the appendix was found and that it yet was too early to tell whether the infection had spread.

The actor's two brothers, Wallace and Will Beery, his son Noah Beery, Jr., his wife, Mrs. Marguerite Beery, and his parents Mr. and Mrs. Noah Webster Beery, were with him shortly before the operation.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Feb. 13. (AP)—Scarcely a chimney remained standing tonight in Porangahue, area of Hawke Bay, after an earthquake had shaken towns in the southern part of North Island. The shock was said to have been the worst experienced in forty years, but no serious damage was reported elsewhere.
The largest statue ever cast in glass was that made of William Shakespeare for a London park.
