Simon Pures Spill Gore Freely in Upset of Coast Titles

PORTLAND, Ore., March 1. (AP)—Eight hours of boxing brought the Pacific coast boxing championship tournament to the end of the preliminary bouts at the auditorium here last night and set the stage for the 24 semi-final and final matches tonight.

The show started at 7:30 p. m. yesterday and came to an end in the small hours this morning, but in all this time there was hardly an unexciting moment, for the Simon Pures, with their eyes on coast titles, spared neither effort nor blood in their valiant efforts to win.

Knockouts Proliferated
Knockouts were sprinkled plentifully through the program, especially in the 135-pound class, where five of six bouts ended via the slumber route.

One of the outstanding bouts of the card was fought in the 147-pound class early in the program. Two collegians were the principals—Haupt of Gonzaga university and Malone of Oregon State. Haupt took the decision after four toe-to-toe rounds. Leather flew from the first and at the end of the initial stanza the fighters were as groggy they went to the wrong corners. Haupt suffered a broken nose as the price of victory, and was forced to default to Hurrell, Seattle, in a later bout.

All bouts were for three rounds unless otherwise specified by the two judges or ended with knockouts.

The auditorium was filled with a capacity crowd.

BOWLING

The worm turned and the Moose team showed the way in a manner that surprised all, at the Klamath Recreation, last night, in the weekly contests of the Fraternal Bowling league. They even surprised themselves when they took all four points from the Red-men.

The league leaders, Elks No. 2, kept up their merry pace, and took three out of four points from the American Legion. Driscoll's 254 in the second game was high for the evening. Other double centuries in the match were, McMillan 233, Rugh 205, Valente 222 and Schaal 211.

The Ouranoutangs broke even with the Elks No. 1, losing the last game by a small margin. 200 scores in this match were made by Jester 208, Houston 221 and 203, Barron 201. The scores:

He said he was undecided whether he would return to the ring and indicated he might make an announcement after the consultation.

"Right now," he said, "I don't know whether or not I will return to the ring. I would have to spend a long time training to see if I could get back into condition."

Although Dr. C. H. and Dr. W. J. Mayo were away, Dempsey was to consult other members of the clinic staff. He said he was in the best of condition and "feeling fine."

He will leave tonight for Cleveland.

Sportsmen Want Commission Member
With the resignation of Ben Dorris from the state game commission and with the expiration of the term of Mr. Miller there has been agitation among the sportsmen in Klamath county to back a candidate for the post.

It has been several years since Klamath county has been represented on the commission, the sportsmen point out, yet this is a hunting ground for the entire state and probably is the greatest hunting and fishing ground in the entire state.

Several candidates for the position have been whispered among the sportsmen, but the association has not yet backed any definite candidate.

Pugilistic Hosts Evacuate Coconut Palms Battlefield

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI, Fla., March 1. (AP)—Bag, baggage and ballyhoo, the pugilistic hosts of Madison Square Garden prepared to beat a strategic retreat today from the disastrous scenes where the second battle of the coconut palms fouled and flopped.

There have been more artistic failures than this Scott-Sharkey affair. Tex Rickard had his troubles at Toledo in 1919 and the boom town of Shelby, Montana, was hard hit by the flop of the Dempsey-Gibbons bout there in the summer of 1923. But these, at least had glamor of a championship struggle, no matter what the sad tale in the box office.

Real Victory Would Help
The balmy setting of this winter's flistic fiasco had few, if any redeeming features to offset its financial shortcomings. These might have been overlooked with a more magnificent gesture by the Garden corporation had Jack Sharkey achieved a convincing and decisive victory over Phil Scott, the pallid Briton who seems afflicted with chronic difficulty in the right sciatic nerve. It was, the battle added no lustre to heavyweight history.

Scott Out of Race
Scott, all hands concede, no matter whether they think the Briton was fouled, has been effectively removed as a heavyweight title contender. Thus the field is at least reduced by one in the wearisome and unsatisfactory series of elimination bouts since the retirement of Gene Tunney in the summer of 1928.

Sharkey, the main American hope, though a three-round victory over Scott under extraordinary circumstances, remains an uncertain figure as a fighter of apparent great possibilities but distinctly erratic tendencies in the ring. Seemingly, Thursday was the night for this Jeckyl and Hyde of fisticians to wage one of his "bad fights."

Victory Shady
Not only did he fail to justify the long odds in his favor but actually he came within a shade of losing on a foul and spoiling whatever hopes he had of winning world's championship honors.

The expert consensus, as a result, is that Sharkey by no means figures to have any advantage over Max Schmeling, the German gladiator, when they meet on June 2 in the deciding heavyweight tilt at New York. This bout will feature the annual milk fund show, sponsored by the mayor's committee on which Mrs. William Randolph Hearst is chairman.

Schmeling, if he can reproduce the form he last showed in this country, is conceded an excellent chance to beat Sharkey.

"Strangler" Meets Equal in Ira Dern
SALT LAKE CITY, March 1. (AP)—Ira Dern, Salt Lake City heavyweight, and Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion, wrestled to a spectacular draw here last night.

Lewis won the first fall in an hour and 30 minutes with a body clutch but Dern took the second in 22 minutes with an airplane spin. Lewis weighed 235 and Dern 209 pounds.

In the semi-final, Howard Cantonwine, 225 of Iowa, and John Spellman, 209 of Texas, wrestled to a draw.

HUSKIES WIN CAGE HONORS FROM OREGON

Washington Squad Will Battle Trojans for Coast Title

SEATTLE, March 1. (AP)—The University of Washington basketball team will leave Seattle next Tuesday for Los Angeles where it will meet Southern California in a best two out of three series for the Pacific coast conference championship. The games will be played next Friday and Saturday, and Monday if necessary.

The Washington Huskies won the northern division title with a sensational 32 to 25 victory over the University of Oregon here last night and the right to represent that section against the southern champions.

Schedule Closes Tonight
The 1930 northern schedule will be completed tonight with a game between Idaho and Washington State college at Moscow, Idaho, and a contest between Washington and Oregon here.

The Oregon Webfoots had a chance to tie Washington for the championship by winning both games of the series but victory in the first tilt last night clinched the title for the Huskies.

Game Was Thriller
The game was a thriller from start to finish with Oregon capturing the lead twice and the score being tied on four occasions, three times in the last period. After Oregon had taken a 23 to 21 lead "Stork" McClary, elongated center, swung into action and garnered four field goals and a free throw in the last seven minutes to give Washington the coveted title for the third successive year.

If all the outlying possessions of the United States, exclusive of Alaska, could be combined into a single area, it would be less than that of the State of Montana.

Ben Dorris Hands In Resignation to Governor Norblad

EUGENE, Ore., March 1. (AP)—Ben F. Dorris, Eugene, member of the state game commission, today announced his resignation from the group in a letter to Governor A. W. Norblad.

Dorris gave as his reason for his resignation his decision to support Charles Hall in his campaign for the gubernatorial candidacy.

"As I am in active support of Charles Hall I feel that I cannot in justice to Governor Norblad and myself remain a member of the commission," Dorris said.

Governor Norblad, enroute to North Bend and apprised of the decision, said that in the event of the resignation of Dorris he would appoint a southern Oregon man to fill the vacancy.

Dorris was appointed to the game commission in June, 1923 and served to March, 1925. He was reappointed by the late Governor Patterson.

PELICANS TAKE ROUGH CONTEST FROM EAGLES

The Pelicans won their second game from the Eagles last night on the Pelicans' court. The score was 87 to 41. The game was fast and at times rough, but the display of sportsmanship was displayed by players on both teams. Tito MacDonald officiated.
