ped the house with nine one-pound shells, but Fioehr held out. Finally a citizen, whose name was not learned, crept inside and planted eight sticks of dynamite. The discharge shattered the upper story to bits, and attackers rushed in to find Fioehr dying. A bullet wound in his head indicated he had determined upon suicide.

Maternity Clinic To Open Monday

Miss Anita Jones and Miss Elora Thompson will arrive in Klamath Falls to conduct a maternity and infant clinic for nurses at the Willard hotel. The series will be held in four sessions, Monday afternoon and evening and Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The first afternoon session will be open to the women who are interested and will be held from 2 until 4 o'clock. The Tuesday afternoon and both evening sessions are for nurses only. It was announced.

Miss Jones is from a prominent New York maternity home and her assistant, Miss Elora Thompson, is from the University of Oregon.

The evening meetings will be held from 8 until 10.

situated, should secure for us fully as much support for it as we would obtain, were it a general measure. No Sum Specified

One of the reasons that the refund of a specific sum to Klamath county, to cover expenditures for roads, schools, law enforcement, etc., was not named, was the difficulty in arriving at a sum that could be certified as correct.

While the county records have been most efficiently kept, no effort has been made to segregate expenditures made on the reservation, nor the moneys received from the reservation in taxes.

While the summary of expenditures, as compiled by our auditor, is approximately correct, it was thought best by all to use it only for evidence in connection with our claim for tax refund.

Also, in asking for a specific amount, incorporated in the bill, we might be unable to get consideration for the bill for a long time on account of the budget.

Oregon Fortunate Indeed in being represented in Washington by such men as McNary and Stetson in the senate, and Hawley and Butler in the house, and I am sure that every effort will be made to secure justice for us.

In conclusion, I want to say that, while it may mean a long struggle, we are right, and I am confident that eventually we will win. We as members of the county court appreciate the wonderful help that has been given us, not alone by the official staff of Klamath county, but by private citizens as well.

In Family for Century. The necklace, which Napoleon gave to Maria Louisa at the birth of their son, the Duke of Reichstadt, in 1811, had been in the family of the archduchess for over a century.

Last year, according to Mrs. Anna Eisenmenger, who described herself as an intimate friend of the archduchess and who filed the complaint with the federal authorities, Marie Theresia decided to sell the necklace. She met a man representing himself as a colonel in the British colonial service who said he could dispose of it for her.

American Hens Spoil Plans of Chicago "Bulls"

CHICAGO, Mar. 1. (AP)—The great American hen had something to cackle about today—sort of a hen coup.

Samuel A. Sugar, head of Sugar Brothers Inc., gave some of the details. He was a member of a group of egg dealers which claimed to have made a quarter of a million dollars in recent weeks through their confidence in the nation's favorite fowl.

"Early in February," he said, "the wholesale price of eggs ranked from 27 to 30 cents. Then the price broke to 25 cents. The 'bulls,' confident that prices would go up, tried to corner the market so they might control prices."

"The trouble was that the hen kept right on turning out eggs. February was a month of spring weather. Hens laid as they never had laid before at this season of the year. As fast as the 'bulls' bought, new trainloads of eggs poured into town. The retail price went down to the lowest it has been since 1924."

Sugar estimated that the unexpected activity of the American hen cost the 'bulls' on the Chicago market more than half a million dollars.

Lovers' Quarrel Ends in Tragedy

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1. (AP)—A lovers' quarrel had its ending late yesterday in the fatal shooting of Marie Lacaze, 23, of Napa, by William Foley, 30, her fiancé, who then turned the gun on himself and inflicted wounds from which he died at a hospital a few hours later.

The shooting took place in the home here of John C. Piver, wealthy insurance and shipping weekly publisher, who employed Miss Lacaze as a maid.

Piver's son, Arthur, a student at Menlo Park Junior college, told police he saw Miss Lacaze and Foley, whom he knew as her sweetheart, in an affectionate embrace as he passed the living room. A few minutes later, he related, he heard loud voices and then two shots. He found Miss Lacaze lying on the floor with Foley prostrate across her body.

Minnesota Woman Succumbs at Keno

Mrs. Charles Parker, resident of Dermidji, Minnesota, passed away at an early hour this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. Reun of Keno, whom she had been visiting for a short time.

Death came as the result of several days illness. Mrs. Parker was 65 years of age at the time of her death, and had been called here by the illness of her daughter.

In addition to three young daughters, Nellie, Irma and Dollie of Minnesota, Mrs. Parker is survived by her husband who accompanied her to Keno; Mrs. Reun of Keno, Mrs. Agnes Kroeg and Mrs. William Parker of Bend.

Funeral arrangements will be made later.

State Chamber of Commerce to Meet

The annual meeting of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce will be held in Portland on March 27.

The yearly meeting is an interesting one, and it is probable that there will be several business men in Klamath Falls, who will avail themselves of an opportunity to attend.

The forum committee of the local chamber of commerce reports that all forums are taken until April 23. During this time four gubernatorial candidates will speak to the membership.

College Observatory Destroyed by Fire

CRETE, Neb., March 1. (AP)—Fire starting from defective wiring late last night at Doane college observatory here, destroyed the building and many valuable law books and instruments.

In the building was the transit used by Colonel John Doane, an engineer and founder of the college, to survey Housatonic tunnel in Massachusetts. The building also housed the largest telescope in the state.

car Rosell of Pomeroy, Ohio. Dr. Snook's close friend, and Mrs. Frank Landrum of Junction City, Ohio, a cousin of Mrs. Snook.

Ate Heartily

"We might have been at a picnic," Rev. Miller reported later. "Dr. Snook ate heartily and we talked of pleasant subjects. No reference was made to death, murder or electrocutions."

Rev. Miller administered communion to Dr. and Mrs. Snook and Mrs. Snook took leave of her husband. Snook remarked later to Rev. Miller that "it was too bad it took a bump like this to make him realize how wonderful she was." Neither was hysterical.

Mrs. Snook went to Warden Thomas' residence to wait. Warden Thomas, too weak to rise from his sick bed to officiate, delegated the task to Deputy J. C. Woodward.

Walked Firmly to Chair

Three guards and the two ministers escorted Dr. Snook the few steps from his cell to the chair. He walked with firm steps and erect head. He said not a word. His eyes took in the crowd and his teeth were clenched behind tight lips. He stepped briskly into the chair.

Rev. Miller said, "The Lord be with you" and Woodward signalled to three guards in another room who threw three switches, two of them blanks. Three times the current was turned on, and after a three-minute wait five physicians pronounced Dr. Snook dead. Thousands of automobiles roved streets adjoining the penitentiary.

Mrs. Snook received comfort from the warden's wife.

Dr. Melvin T. Hix of Bradenton, Fla., father of the slain girl, received word of the execution in the office of his lawyer here.

Confessed to Warden

Dr. Snook confessed, Warden Thomas admitted yesterday, that he planned to end his three-year friendship with the girl after she threatened to expose him. He "feared disgrace and loss of position," and he cut her throat and battered her skull with a hammer to make the deed look like the work of a fiend.

He was convicted in common pleas court here last August 14 after giving testimony to acts of degeneracy which he repudiated yesterday. The Ohio state supreme court gave him three reprieves but successive appeals which reached the highest tribunal in Washington, failed to save him.

BURIED THIS MORNING

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 1. (AP)—Dr. James H. Snook, 50, former Ohio State university professor who was electrocuted last night for the murder of Miss Theora Hix, was buried at 6 a. m. today in Greenlawn cemetery.

The body was taken to the Snook home last night from a funeral director's parlors. Brief private funeral services were held at the home.

Embezzling City Treasurer Draws Three Year Term

OREGON CITY, Ore., Mar. 1. (AP)—E. E. Teeple, former city treasurer of Gladstone, Ore., was sentenced to three years in the state penitentiary today after Teeple pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny of city funds.

Teeple was arrested Thursday and jailed in lieu of $10,000 bond. He resigned his position as treasurer December 8. An audit of accounts revealed a shortage of $7,000, city authorities said.

Teeple was prominent in Clackamas county. He had been in the real estate and insurance business for many years.

10-CENT FARE MAY BE LEVIED

Limit on 8-Cent Fare Extension Expires and Raise Is Up to Franklin T. Griffith

POTLAND, March 1. (AP)—PORTLAND, March 1. (AP)—state public service commission, today said over long distance telephone that the limit of 8-cent fare extensions granted the city having expired, there is nothing the commission can do now to prevent the Portland Electric Power company from levying a 10-cent fare.

Griffith Waiting

Franklin T. Griffith, president of the power company, when informed of Miller's statement, said he would not issue a note of fare increase to 10 cents until he received authorization from the public service commission.

Miller declared that an order from the commission was not necessary, and that the commission would not issue such an order. He said a boost in carfare from 8 to 10 cents here tested entirely upon the word of Griffith. Griffith refused further comment.

The city was granted a six months' extension on the proposed fare increase to enable city authorities to consider it.

Yesterday the city council decided to place the "service at cost" plan of operation of the trolley system before the voters in November.

Motion Picture Travelogue To Be Shown Here

At the Wednesday forum luncheon of the chamber of commerce on March 5, A. E. Schrader, traveling passenger agent of the American Mail line, will show a motion picture travelogue.

The pictures were taken on a recent round-the-world tour, and show scenes from Japan, China, the Philippines, Ceylon, Egypt, Palestine, Europe, Havana and the Panama Canal.

Dr. Ralph W. Stearns, who has recently made a round-the-world tour, will act as chairman, and J. J. Ralph, accompanied by Mrs. Thorne at the piano, will sing for the forum.

At 2:30 Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Schrader will show his pictures at the Klamath Falls library, under the auspices of the American Association of University Women and the Library Club. There will be no charge for admission, and all women are cordially invited to attend.

Reljic Sentenced To Year in Prison

PORTLAND Ore., Mar. 1. (AP)—Mike Reljic, who was arrested for the seventh time by federal prohibition agents while he was at liberty under police generosity, was sentenced today to serve one year in the state prison.

Reljic will go to Salem at the conclusion of his sixth sentence, the sentence that caused a police shakeup here after it was alleged he had been released after serving three days of a six months term.

War Predicted to Start in Few Days

AHMADABAD, India, March 1. (AP)—Valabhai Patel, who is Mahatma Gandhi's chief lieutenant, in addressing a public meeting today, prophesied that an Indian war would begin soon.

The meeting was to inaugurate the all-India national congress civil disobedience campaign. Patel said:

"War unprecedented in the history of the world will begin in a few days and the beginning will be made at Gujarat (division of Bombay)."

"Those who are afraid of death should go on a pilgrimage and those of riches should go to foreign countries."

Judge Questions Value of College Education to Him

EVANSTON, Ill., March 1. (AP)—Good old Alma Mater is a weakness with James M. Corcoran, justice of the peace.

When Miss Virginia Fling was arraigned yesterday for speeding she told Justice Corcoran she was hurrying home from classes at Northwestern university.

"I'll make it a low fine," said the court, for here was a student of the good old Alma Mater. "Two dollars."

"Make it as low as you will, your honor, and I still can't pay it," said Miss Fling. "I'm broke."

Justice Corcoran drew forth a wallet, and with a show of resignation, paid the fine himself.

"That's what I get," he said sadly, "for going to college."

LONG TERMERS ESCAPE PRISON

In the photograph room and the office of the record clerk.

Holden, who is 33 years old, and Keating, who is 31, were received at the penitentiary from Chicago May 5, 1928, and had excellent records while in prison. They were sentenced in United States district court in Chicago March 24, 1928, for the mail robbery, in which $133,000 was stolen. Two men boarded the train, held up the mail clerks, seized a bag containing the money consigned to a Chicago suburban bank, and escaped.

Iron E. Barger also was charged with the robbery, but was acquitted.

Loot Never Found.

CHICAGO, Mar. 1. (AP)—The $133,000 loot, which Thomas (Red) Holden and Francis Keating grabbed in a Grand Trunk mail car holdup at Evergreen Park in 1926, has never been found and is believed by Chicago police to be closely entwined with the two robbers' escape yesterday from the federal prison at Leavenworth.

Has Long Record.

Holden has a long page assigned to him in the Chicago police records. Once before, in 1918, he escaped from two deputy sheriffs while being led from the courtroom to the jail after pleading not guilty to another spectacular holdup. With Keating he was identified by three waitmen as the Grand Trunk robbers.

Jury Acquits Vargo Youth of Murder

GRANTS PASS, Ore., March 1. (AP)—Tony Varga, 17-year old Grants Pass high school youth, was acquitted last night on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Robert Ingalls, Josephine county farmer.

When the verdict was read by Judge H. D. Norton, former Grants Pass high school mates of Varga broke into a cheer.

The acquittal of the youth did not come as a surprise to those who had followed the taking of testimony, the instructions to the jury by the court and an apparent loop hole left by the state in failing to establish legally the cause of the death.

It was never established that the bullet in the body of Ingalls was fired from the gun which Varga is alleged to have dropped on the ground after his host had been shot down.

Richmond Accepts Manager Position

G. B. Richmond, who was right of way man for the Great Northern railway at the time it entered Klamath Falls, has resigned his position, and accepted the management of the Klamath Development company.

Mr. Richmond is bringing his family to this city and will reside here permanently.

COALITION IN WAY OF BILL

27, the proposal was defeated and oil retained upon the free list.

Charge Vote Trading

The roll call came as the climax of a drastic session in which there were charges of vote trading on sugar and oil, allegations that the American Independent Petroleum Producers association had attempted to foster such an exchange and had "even" been "willing to trade the President of the United States on this deal."

This assertion was made by Senator Blaine, independent republican, Wisconsin, a member of the Caraway lobby committee, which during the day had questioned Wirt Franklin, president of the association, on its activities in behalf of the oil tariff. Blaine declared the methods of the association "nefarious and damnable."

Franklin Supported

A group of half a dozen southwestern senators, both democrats and republicans, came to Franklin's defense. Allen of Kansas, a republican, asserted that the independent producers were endeavoring to stabilize a "stricken industry," and had sent representatives to Washington to seek "influence in a perfectly proper way."

Seven democrats deserted the coalition to vote for the oil tariff, all representing Mississippi valley or southwestern states. Eight republican regulars, five of them from New England, however, voted against the proposal.

For the second time, Chairman Smoot of the finance committee, the leader of the old guard republicans in the tariff battle, voted with the coalition. He also opposed the lumber duty, a proposal for which was defeated Thursday night.

By agreement, the long staple cotton schedule came up today, debate centering upon an agreement by Senator Shortridge, republican, California, to take this commodity off the free list and impose a tariff of 7 cents a pound.

ENGLISH TESTS GIVEN

Three different groups of English tests were given all students of Klamath Union high school last week.

They were given primarily for the purpose of determining the knowledge the students have in grammar and punctuation as well as to note comparisons among classes.

Park to Have Naturalist—

Beginning with the coming season, Crater lake national park will have a permanent year-around naturalist, whose duty it will be to study the natural phenomena of the park, its flora, geology, and everything educational, and give lectures on these features to tourists.

The park budget for this year contains an item of $2200 for the park naturalist. Among the candidates for this position and who will likely receive the appointment is Earl U. Hornuth of San Diego, Cal., professor of biology in a California educational institution, who has filled the position the past two summers.

OBITUARY

MRS. CHARLES PARKER

Mrs. Charles Parker of Dermidji, Minn., died at the age of 65 at an early hour this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. Reun of Keno. She is survived by her husband who is in Keno at the present time, six daughters, Nellie 17, Irma, 13 and Dollie, 15, of Dermidji, Minn., Mrs. L. Reun of Keno, Mrs. William Parker of Bend and Mrs. A. Kroeg of Bend.

Funeral arrangements are in care of the Klamath Funeral Home and will be announced later.

Fines Collections Small in February

Only $7.75 in fines was collected by the police department in the month of February, according to the official report made out this morning, whereas 71 arrests were made during the month. Keith Ambrose, chief of police, attributed this to the fact that the bootleggers were unable to pay their fines and showed two instances where the offenders are being held in jail since they were unable to pay fines of $100 each.

The following segregation of arrests was made in Chief Ambrose's monthly report:

37 drunks, 26 vagrants, 3 for possession and sale of intoxicating liquor, 2 for driving and disorderly conduct, 3 reckless driving, 1 held for the county, 6 disorderly and disturbing the peace, 2 possession of intoxicating liquor, 1 immoral conduct, 1 stealing gasoline, 1 maintaining a restaurant without a permit, 1 carrying a concealed weapon, 1 for breaking glass on street, 2 for petty larceny.

CIRCUIT COURT NOTICE

Judge W. M. Duncan announced this afternoon that the case originally set for Monday had been discontinued and that the jury need not report for duty until March 6.

March's Entry Gentle; Weather Prophet Worries

March has "come in, like a lamb," and to justify the familiar old adage, she must go "out like a lion." For years this old superstition has had as much credence as the myth of the ground hog.

March is such a treacherous month that if it is a pleasant one, it follows, as a matter of course, that it must be foul the next.

Such a mild lamblike day as the one just experienced, proves without doubt that March will go into April roaring and ramping like the king of beasts.
