Attending Rotary at the Biltmore in Los Angeles is like attending an International Gathering—German Speaks on European Peace—Mexico, Canada, Germany Represented at Meeting—Two Men, 70 Years of Age Each, Sing and Play.

By BRUCE DENNIS

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 12. (By Mail)—Attending Rotary at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles is like attending an international gathering. We heard an address from a German that was extraordinary at Rotary. He says Rotary International is young in Germany, but growing.

At the Rotary meeting Mexico, Canada and Germany were represented, as were about half the states of the Union. The list of guests when standing almost equalled the attendance of the regular members.

This luncheon is on Friday the same day Klamath Rotarians meet, so if you are in the south and fail to make up your attendance until Friday remember you can always make it up at the Biltmore hotel.

To see a man 70 years of age make his bow to Rotarians and then sing two numbers in the richest kind of a trained voice, and to be accompanied by a man of the same age at the piano, was one of the sights of Rotary.

To show the magnitude of this Rotary club two young ladies with typewriters are kept mighty busy for a half hour before lunch making out attendance cards of guests.

BURON FITTS, who prosecuted Pantages and others during his career as prosecuting attorney is running for governor of California. He has a chance to beat Governor Young, according to the wisecracks. It is argued that this is a day for reform officials and Fitts has received the advertising necessary for him to make a race to win.

BERLIN, March 13 (AP)—Paul Von Hindenburg, Germany's venerable president, today set his hand and seal to the Young plan despite the urgent appeals of his one-time followers—of them men who had fought shoulder to shoulder with him and others who had helped elect him president.

The president, who otherwise is extremely punctilious about not mixing in political situations, cast aside his reserve at this critical hour and penned a declaration in which he gave clear indication of his devotion to his duty as he saw it.

Denied War Guilt Only once before did he thus expose himself politically—when in conjunction with the unveiling of the Tanneberg monument on September 8, 1927, he told the world that he rejected the charge of Germany's war guilt.

His present declaration, in which he made an appeal to all Germans for co-operation in the common task and to results in (Continued on Page Five)

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Alonzo Stagg, who has won his way to prominence by coaching the big maroon eleven of Chicago university, was recorded today before the house judiciary committee along with a group of prominent business men of Philadelphia as sharing the same view—that the eighteenth amendment should stand.

The white-haired athletic director, whose voice has barked sharp commands to youthful athletes for 33 years, said that it was his observation that the young men and women of today were fortunate in getting up in a land where the sale of intoxicants was prohibited. "With the breaking down of home life, and with all the complexities of new opportunities for being misled, I tremble to think," he said, "what this revolt of youth might have led to were prohibition laws not in effect.
