

Jackson-Breedlove Go Promises Sensation

All-Around Good Card Arranged For Fight Fans

McCumber-Beebe 6-Round Semi Final Arouses Interest; Good Preliminaries All Through Suggest Possible Knockout or Two; Packed House Looked For.

As a rule an extraordinary fight card packs the house in Klamath Falls. That's why Tex Bickerstaff took the pains to arrange a strong card for tonight. The fans have been loyal and the matchmaker and boxing commission want to give them their money's worth. After all, pleasing the 'cash customers' is the prime object of promoting the bouts.

In presenting Dave Jackson and Billie Breedlove in the 10-round main event, the fight sponsors are offering one of the fastest bouts in recent months. Both of these boys are in the "pink" and "rarin' to go." Breedlove has confided to his friends that he will take his opponent by the seventh round, at least, and if confidence means anything to a fighter the plucky Bend boy will give the Arkansas fight of his life.

Jackson Ready
Jackson has been working faithfully and will be prepared for any kind of an assault Billy may make. An additional week here has given the southern boy better wind and he is expected to show up even better than he did with Chuck Berden. Having seen that fight the "customers" know he is a tough boy and his more extensive ring experience may count against his younger opponent in the long run. With his approaching match in San Francisco in mind, the "Flyer" isn't going to be caught napping.

Heavies Arouse Interest
Second only to the main event is the six-round semi final between the local heavy hope, Tiny K. O. McCumber, and Earl Beebe of Portland. These boys put up a sweet fight last Friday night and they will both be after a knockout tonight. Beebe came from Portland last night where he spent the week putting the finishing touches on what he expects will be the battle of his career. He found that the farmer boy can sock like a mule

BOWLING

The Booster league bowled last night at the Klamath Recreation and there is a certain bunch of fellows keeping away from the vicinity of The Spar Cigar store, said fellows being members of said Spar bowling team. They looked for a cinch in Copco No. 1 and got it where the chicken got the ax. The Copco boys took the first, lost the second and proceeded to show the "smoke" boys just how the game should be played and in doing so, took total pins, as well as the odd game.

Union Oil is still working smoothly and managed to break even in their battle with Klamath Sporting Goods Co. One more good man on that team and they will give a good account of themselves from now on.

Copco No. 3 lost a splendid chance to get a tie for first place by dropping their first game to I. O. O. F. Had they not taken a whole game to warm up they would have been tied with Spar for the lead and in a better position to make that dash for the flag as the race draws to a close. The scores—kick and so wholesome is his respect for that old right that he aims to put in everything he has in the first few wallops with the hope of ending the battle before Tiny gets thoroughly warmed up. This will be Tiny's greatest fight and he may work harder for a haymaker than he has for several bouts.

Main Event Promised
Regardless of the outcome tonight, Tiny has the promise of a main event at The Dalles in the near future. If he scores a knockout tonight his prestige will be just that much stronger. Beebe is the best man he has ever fought and it will be a feather in the big boy's cap to score a knockout. Don't miss the card for this fight alone. It will be worth the money.

Other Prelims Hot
Two other red hot fights are listed on the card. Lee Hall of Pelican City and Frank Colgrove of Chiloquin, and Billy Huff of Chiloquin and Sammy Bass of Klamath Falls will mix in two four-round bouts. Bass disposed of Eddie O'Conner in his time last Friday night and will give the old veteran a merry little tonight. Hall has shown up well in his previous bouts here and he can be relied upon to deliver the goods any time. Colgrove is recommended as an aggressive fighter, always there to put up a good show.

The matchmaker and commission submit this fast, well balanced card for the approval of the fans. The tickets are on sale at the Mecca and Spar pool rooms. Get yours early.

Clock Watchers

Everywhere you go you find them; people who are constantly watching the clock, to see if it is not nearly time to quit work. They get the least done of any class of employees. They are the least wanted, as well. In the school room it is about as prevalent as in the business house.

Let us put ourselves in the place of an employer who is managing a large business organization. He is about to employ a stenographer, let us say. To be safe he is going to take one trial. He soon discovers that she is continually trying to do the least work in the most time. She is turned down and cannot understand the reason for it.

We cannot expect any one to employ us if we will do nothing but watch the clock. We will never get anywhere if we do. This practice is so futile, anyway—time passes much faster if a person uses it as it is supposed to be used.

Doing nothing gets very tiresome, and it is the worst thing on earth. People get lazy, and can't adapt themselves if they try. They don't know how to distribute their time.

Suppose by some accident or slip a person should succeed enough to get a business of his own. He wouldn't spend his time to sufficient advantage to run it as it should be run; eventually it would fail. There is no place in the world for clock watchers. Let us train ourselves correctly now.

ASHLAND PLAYS FINAL GAME IN STATE TOURNEY

Baker Sweeps Lithians From Floor by 39 To 26 Score

SALEM, March 21, (AP)—Showing a wonderful lack of coordination in their maneuvers through out the entire season, Ashland high this morning played their final game of the tenth annual inter-scholastic tournament when the Lithians were put out of the running by Baker high, 39 to 26, in a consolation affair.

Lead First Quarter
Ashland had the better of the first quarter's play, with goals by Howell and Reeder for the Southern Oregonians figuring in the scoring. The end of the period found Ashland in the lead 11 to 10. Its lead was short-lived, however, for starting the second frame Baker was put into the lead by a clean shot by Howard. From that period on Baker was not to be denied. It increased its lead to 23 to 17 at half time. By three-quarter time the score was 32 to 24 for the winners. The final period found Ashland putting up a futile battle after Howell, big Lithian center had been benched on personal fouls.

Baker Guard Strong
Crawford, Baker guard, put in a strong bid for all-state team by his work in the Ashland game. He garnered four field goals in the first half, but was held to one basket and two free throws in the second half.

Eugene Rout's Tillamook
The second game of the consolation rounds played this morning resulted in a win for Eugene over Tillamook after the latter had annexed a one-point lead, 9 to 8, at the half. Borg, flashy Eugene forward, put the game on ice for his team by his sensational work in the second period when he shot four field goals.

The teams battled on even terms throughout the third period for the most part, with Eugene having a three-point lead at the end of that time.

Tillamook missed several "set-ups" during the closing minutes. These misplays, together with the inability of the Cheesemakers to cash in on free throws, cost them the contest. White, center for Tillamook, played one of the best pivot games of the series.

This afternoon at 3:30 Dallas will meet North Bend in a consolation game, while Astoria will battle Pendleton in a semi-final contest in the championship series.

Meets "Dixie Flyer"

BILLY BREEDLOVE popular boy from Bend meets Dave Jackson, sensational fighter from Little Rock, Arkansas, in the 10-round main event at the Legion Pavilion tonight.

Tonight Salem and Commerce of Portland play a semi-final championship game, while Baker and Eugene meet in a consolation affair.

MAJOR LEAGUE PROSPECTS

Different Manager and Choice Crop of Rookies Only Real Strength Exhibited by Chicago White Sox in Spring Practice, Morale High, However, Even if Shires Hasn't Enrolled, and Donie Bush Figures on Birth in First Division.

(This is another of a series of first hand Associated Press stories on prospects of Major League Clubs.)
By GAYLOR TALBOT, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 21.—Possessing little strength that they did not have last year when they finished just one jump ahead of the American league cellar, the 1930 Chicago White Sox are strangely confident and hopeful for a first division berth.

Different Manager
A different manager and a choice crop of rookies is the only real strength exhibited by the Chicagoans. The natural supposition would be that they are not quite ready to win a pennant, but the Sox, apparently, never heard of such a line of reasoning.

They are whooping it up over the likable Donie Bush. There is a spirit, a spark in camp you can't miss. Even the continued absence of Art Shires, who, it appears, might be permanently absent, has failed to diminish their enthusiasm. The players, to a man, believe they are headed for the first division, and Bush is not the kind of a fellow to tell them differently.

Hitting Greatly Improved
"We've got a fine looking bunch of youngsters," said Donie. "It's too early to do any predicting, but I believe the boys are going to play some great baseball for me. I think it's safe to say we'll finish higher than last year. Improved hitting will do that."

Partly responsible for the fine morale of the Sox is the manner in which they have cuffed the Giants about in the exhibition series. Excellent pitching by veterans and rookies alike and hard hitting gave the Sox men three victories before the New Yorkers took a verdict. A young team, the Sox rounded into shape early and are about ready to go now.

Shires Missed
Except at first, where the veteran Bud Clancy has filled in for Shires during the great one's prolonged correspondence with headquarters, the team looks at least as strong in every department as last year, and its pitching and hitting should show an improvement. Although a great spring batter, Clancy neither can field as skillfully nor hit along with Shires for a full season.

In shifting Chalmers Claxell from short to second, Bush has solved his keystone problem. The expensive boy from the coast looks like a "natural" on the right side of the diamond, and is hitting the ball hard. His change of scenery, however, left a fine, large vacancy at shortstop, and that is where the real battle has raged.

Shortstop Station Unfilled
Irvin Jeffries, a grinning youth from Dallas, and Ernie Smith, up from Birmingham, are scrapping it out with Bill Hunnefeld, a hold-over, with no decision yet in sight. Both Jeffries and Smith hit over .300 with championship clubs last year, and one of them likely will get the nod, with Hunnefeld again booked for the utility role. Willie Kamm at third completes the infield. John Kerr, who held down second last year, finds himself in a precarious position.

Francis Sluger Added
Smead Jolly, a strapping slugger from San Francisco, who has hit around .400 regularly for several years, is the prize addition to the outfield. He reported late, and has yet to prove that he can do big league pitching that way, but Bush expects him to break up a block of ball games. Between him and a regular trick in the pasture patrol are the fleet Carl Reynolds, John Watwood and Alex Metzler, regulars last year, and Jimmy Moore, George Blackery and Dave Harris, three hard-hitting newcomers.

Rookies on Mound Staff
Two youngsters from lesser leagues are being counted upon to bolster a somewhat wobbly mound staff. They are Vic Frasier, a cool right-hander, whose pitching featured Dallas' drive to the 1929 Texas league flag, and Pat Caraway, a southpaw, who compiled a remarkable record with Topeka of the Western league.

Forming the backbone of the staff are the aging Urban Faber, Alphonse Thomas and Ted Lyons, who know what it is all about. If they have a good year, and Frasier and Caraway live up to their promise, the Sox should be capable of doaling some misery. Other holdovers, none of whom did extensive pitching last year, are Grady Adkins, Harold McKale, Ed Walsh Jr., Ted Blankenship, Bob Weiland and George Connolly. Two, maybe three of them, seem due for the fall and uncut.

Women Bowlers of Northwest Invited To Seattle Meet

SEATTLE, March 21, (AP)—Women bowlers of the northwest are forming an association similar to the Northwest International Bowling congress and plan to stage a tournament here during the period May 2 to 11 when the masculine pin smashers get together in their annual meet.

Women bowling teams from Portland, Spokane, Walla Walla, Vancouver, B. C., Everett, Tacoma, Olympia, Bellingham, Aberdeen, Bremerton, Hoquiam, Centralia, Yakima, Wenatchee, Mount Vernon, Longview, Eugene, Klamath Falls, and Missoula, Mont., have been invited to compete. Six teams are expected to enter from Portland.

The same rules and prize divisions will govern the northwest women's bowling congress as governs the men. Mrs. Charleen Dunway, acting secretary for the new organization announced.
