Governor Issues Proclamation on Child Health Day

Governor Norblad's May Day Proclamation.

With a view to preserving Oregon's greatest asset—the children—as the first of May once again approaches it becomes my pleasant duty as well as a real privilege to call upon the citizens of the State of Oregon to join in the national observance of Child Health Day, which day has been set apart by congress and by proclamation of the President of the United States for the purpose of centering greater attention upon constructive health programs for fully developing the health and strength of the youth of the land.

The success and welfare of the state and nation depend upon the citizenry. The children of today are the citizens of tomorrow. Therefore it behooves us, each and everyone, to see that the future citizens are fully equipped with healthy bodies, strong and clean minds and sound education.

Good health is a vital part of the foundation for happiness and efficiency. This foundation may be more easily built during the impressionable years of the child. Let us not wait until some diseases or defects have impaired the health of our children, but rather let us wage a relentless warfare of prevention—let us plan and carry out a constructive program for child health—let us aid each child to obtain a real heritage of sound health and vigorous minds—let us do these things now and thus promote and safeguard the future of our state and nation.

Now, therefore, I, W. A. Norblad, governor of Oregon, in conformity to the action of congress and the proclamation of the president of the United States, do hereby designate May first of this year as Child Health Day in the State of Oregon and do invite and urge all citizens of Oregon to cooperate in carrying out a most successful conclusion, an observance of this day which surely will make itself felt throughout the year in the general recognition of the importance of that wonderful asset, the health of the children.

In testimony whereof, I have set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Oregon to be hereunto affixed this twelfth day of April, 1930.

A. W. NORBLAD, Governor.

Jingle Contest for Kiddies Starts in The Herald Today

Today is "Kiddies' day" in Klamath Falls. In this issue you will find the first week's jingles in the "Kiddies in Jingle Land" contest, which will run for eight weeks. Twenty dollars in cash prizes are being offered each week to the readers of The Klamath News and Herald.

More than a page will be devoted to the "Kiddies in Jingle Land" contest each week on Wednesday in both papers. Figure out a good ending for each one of the incomplete jingles, write your endings on each of the dotted lines you find in each ad, and return each whole ad to the advertiser. Be sure that you write your name and address on each ad before returning it to the merchant.

Your endings for this week's jingles must be in the hands of the advertiser not later than 9 a. m., next Monday. On next Wednesday in addition to a set of new jingles, the prize winning last lines in this week's contest with the names of the winners will be published. If you find your name appearing in any ad next Wednesday, you will be awarded $1 cash from that firm. All endings submitted will be judged on originality and neatness. A contestant has a chance to win one or all of the cash prizes each week by figuring out real attractive, original endings.

Children contestants may have the help of their parents and older brothers and sisters in preparing suitable final lines for the incomplete jingles. The adult members of the family will find it great fun to form a "Jingle Party" with their friends each Wednesday night. There is no doubt that by putting several old heads together each week that you would find yourselves richer by a few dollars at the end of this contest. You'll have a pile of fun anyway so join in on the jingle contest. Turn to it now and get busy.

A CLEAN GIVE-AWAY

It's a trade secret not generally known, but a number of leading hairdressers use White King Granulated Soap for shampooing—even though it's specifically designed for household use!

That's because White King Granulated Soap is the purest, safest soap made. It contains no "filler" nor foreign matter of any sort. It's made of vegetable oils good enough to eat! If water won't hurt it, White King won't. Blankets, dishes, or lingerie.

And it's economical too. Because it's condensed, a little goes a long way. A teaspoonful in the basin of water, or a cupful in the wash tub, and your washing troubles are over. Your grocer has it.
