

BAYONNE FIRE CONSUMES VAST AMOUNT OF OIL

Over 5,000,000 Gallons Destroyed for Gulf Refining Company

BAYONNE, N. J., May 9, (A.P.)—With chemicals virtually exhausted and a stiff north wind carrying the flames toward two large high pressure gasoline tanks near the main office building, the fire at the Gulf Oil Refining company, though under control today, was threatening the entire refinery at noon. The plants of the Standard, Tidewater and Vacuum Oil companies nearby, also were feared to be in danger. The last supply of special chemicals was brought from Syracuse, N. Y.

Loss $1,000,000
The estimated damage is $1,000,000. More than 5,000,000 gallons of oil have been consumed.

The storage yard today was a scene of desolation with crashed and twisted tanks standing like white spectres in the early dawn.

Chemical flakes covered every piece of equipment in the vicinity of the blast with a heavy white coating and made the ground underfoot a mire of slippery grey mud. Firemen working to hold the blaze to the great pool of oil in the center of this destroyed area had difficulty in keeping their footing.

Pool Still Burning
The pool which still is burning covers about two city blocks and is estimated to contain 50,000 barrels of oil.

The fire, which started from an explosion aboard a small motor tanker, destroyed in addition to the tanks, a warehouse, a power house, a pumping station and several locker buildings and stock houses. The flames were fed from 18 oil storage tanks which exploded one after another as the fire reached them.

Seven men, three of them members of the crew of the tanker Church, where the first explosion occurred, were seriously injured and about 200 others were treated for minor burns suffered fighting the fire.

Burning oil flowing from the tanks into the Kill Van Kull, made that narrow strip of water between the New Jersey and Staten Island, a sheet of flame and hampered the work of the fire boats.

Mary Pickford of the East

Proving all beauty didn't depart from the Nile with Cleopatra—here's Miss. Bebidja Hater. Called the "Mary Pickford of the East," she is the daughter of the director of King Faud's palace in Cairo. She speaks seven languages, sings, and composed the music for her latest film, produced in Europe. Now Hollywood will get her if she watches out!

the largest meeting of the year, aside from the annual banquet. About 55 members and guests will be present.

During the year prominent members of the service clubs of the city have met with the Grade Teachers' association, and made talks outlining the purposes of their organizations. At Saturday's meeting, Jackson F. Kimball, a representative of the Rotary club will make the address.

Officers will be elected for the ensuing year, and Miss Lillie Darby and Mrs. J. Percy Wells will present a duet.

BANDIT SLAYER ELECTROCUTED

August Vogel Says He Planned Holiday Which Resulted in Death of Perrenoud

CHICAGO, May 9, (AP)—August Vogel, 27, was electrocuted early today for the murder of Lyle Perrenoud. He left a "Mother's Day" telegram to be sent to his mother, who cannot read, and thinks her son is in jail for violation of a parole.

In a last-minute confession, Vogel denied he had been a "whim slayer."

Lied About Cause
"I lied when I said this killing was the result of gin and anger. I deliberately planned a robbery; I was watching for anyone worth robbing. I had a revolver and an automatic. I know how to handle revolvers but this was the first time I ever handled an automatic. As I pressed it against the man and told him to put his hands up, the gun exploded, although I didn't mean to shoot."

Care Callidiot
Perrenoud was killed in an argument that followed a minor collision between his car and one driven by Vogel.

George Vogel, serving a prison term for being a member of the robber gang of which August was leader, "confessed" last night it was he and not his brother who fired the shot, but he withdrew his statement when prison officials warned him he was putting himself in danger of the death penalty.
