KO CHRISTNER TAKES COUNT FROM CARNERA

Ambling Alp Now One Of Foremost Heavy Contenders

DETROIT, June 6, (AP)—Primo Carnera, "The Ambling Alp," is one of the foremost among the heavyweight contenders today by reason of his impressive four-round knockout victory over Meyer (K-O.) Christner of Akron, Ohio, in Floyd Fitzsimmons' arena last night.

Had First Round
After a bad first round, in which Christner sent the crowd of 18,000 wild with a barrage of lefts and rights which the giant Italian could not ward off, Carnera began a systematic attack, directed principally at his opponent's bad left eye. He had the optic badly swollen at the end of the third, and set the blood to flowing freely from a cut over it with a brace of left jabs in the early part of the fourth round.

Right to the Chin
Then came a ponderous right to the chin, with one minute and 41 seconds to go, and the man whom Sharky, Risko and Knute Hansen couldn't tell, went down. Not until well after the count of ten was he able to rise.

Primo Outweighed the Akronite
by 64 pounds, scaling 265 pounds, compared with Christner's meagre 201, but it was the superior reach and height of the of the Giant Italian which decided the match. Time and again Carnera held Christner at arm's length and banged him with his free glove.

Christner Game
Christner fought gamely to the end. Almirig his blows high, he used both right and left to good advantage, several times making Primo sink perceptibly. Carnera remained calm throughout, however, absorbing punishment with a smile and smashing back at every opening.

Eighteen thousand skeptics who paid $76,000 to see Primo in action left satisfied that he can take and give.

TOM LOUITT WILL REFEREE STELLAR BOUT

Tom Louitt, referee ace of the northwest has been secured by the Klamath Falls boxing commission to referee the Dixon-Feldman bout next Tuesday evening. Louitt is a licensed referee and officiates at many of the best matches in the northwest. He is a fearless arbiter and gives his decisions firmly and without bias regardless of race or color.

Enthusiasm Runs High
Worlds of enthusiasm is being shown all over southern Oregon in the impending fight. This is attested to by the number of reservations coming in from surrounding towns and country and a sure sell out is predicted. Dixon will arrive tomorrow and will join the other fighters who appear on the card Tuesday evening in a big preview at the Legion pavilion Sunday.

Willie Feldman is rarin' to go and now tips the beam at 163. This will be the fight of the century so far as Klamath Falls is concerned, so you'd better not delay the purchase of your favorite seat.

Sande Injured in Car Accident on Eve of Big Race

NEW YORK, June 6, (AP)—On the eve of one of the most important races of the season—the $50,000 Belmont stakes—Earl Sande, famous jockey, today was suffering from minor injuries received in an automobile accident.

Sande was treated at the Jamaica hospital last night for lacerations of the left cheek, nose and hand and later went to his home. It was believed the injuries would not keep him out of the Belmont stakes tomorrow when he is to ride Gallant Fox, the horse on which he won the Kentucky derby and the preakness.

Three Others Hurt
Three other persons were injured in the accident in which three cars figured. Sande was in a machine with Edward Barnes, also a jockey, whose ribs were fractured. Henry L. Gross, a Brooklyn jeweler, suffered fractures of his kneecaps and Miss Betty Reifer, of Jamaica, Long Island, who was riding with Thomas Jackson of Hempstead, Long Island, received a possible fracture of the skull.

To Ride Tomorrow
NEW YORK, June 6, (AP)—Injuries Earl Sande received last night in an automobile accident will not prevent him from riding in the Belmont stakes at Belmont Park tomorrow.

Sande appeared at the Aqueduct track today to give Gallant Fox, the big colt he rode to victory in the Preakness and the Kentucky Derby, a last work-out for the stakes.

Playing Second Base Explained

FRANKIE FRISCH SHOWS HOW AN INFELDER SHOULD FIELD GROUND BALL AND MAKE THROW TO FIRST BASE

By AL DEMAREE (Former Pitcher N. Y. Giants)
The above illustration is an action-ograph of Frankie Frisch, the great St. Louis Cardinal second baseman, fielding a ground ball and making the throw to first base.

A second baseman should be a good judge of ground balls and an accurate thrower. It is important that accuracy in throwing be more considered than a powerful arm. Practice both overhand and underhand throws to first base. The underhand throw is the best time-saver the second baseman possesses. There have been old fellows in the major league whose throwing arms were not what they had been, who played seasons after seasons because they could snap the ball to first base underhand.

Have a distinct understanding with the shortstop as to which one of you is going to cover second base if the man on first starts for second on a steal or hit and run play.

Be sure you are in a position to cover first base when the first baseman is playing in for a bunt. Learn to go back on short fly balls that the center and right cannot reach.

Watch your catcher's signs to his pitcher so you can anticipate what is being thrown and where it will probably be hit. A right-hand hitter will more likely pull a curve ball to left field than he will a fast ball and the left-hand hitter vice versa.

THREE-WAY TIE COULD HAPPEN IN S. O. LEAGUE

Should Bend turn back the Pelicans here Sunday and Medford, by any chance, lose, the Southern Oregon League would have a three-way tie. This is not out of the range of possibilities for Bend is always a tough aggregation and might get rough with the Pelicans and take them down a peg. On the other hand, Lakeview is not apt to upset the Medford march toward the pennant, at least not until the beginners get more league experience.

Take No Chances
Manager Red Sanders is taking no chances on a slip-up and has his proteges out at the park every evening warming up and developing plays. One of the noticeable features of the team's improvement is the way "Big Boy" Moser is coming out of the kinks. The fat boy has it on the ball when he's in shape and he is running so good now that Red may start him in Sunday's game. Red is fortunate in having three star chukkers in his club, backed up by one of the best fields outside of big league baseball.

Turn out Sunday and see a real game of baseball played by two teams that don't love each other too tenderly.

Actions of Traded Players Against Former Team Mates Subject for Mental Research

By HUGH S. FULLERTON Jr. (Associated Press Sports Writer)
A student of psychology might well find material for research in the mysterious something which makes baseball players who have been traded from one club to another do their best against their former mates. This phenomenon has been remarkably evident in this season's games, and all the more noticeable because of numerous recent trades.

Giants Former Reds
The New York Giants, now composed to a considerable extent of former Cincinnati players, dispersed one great fear after another as they swept a three-game series with the Reds. Lacking the perfect combination of having an ex-New York pitcher opposed to them the Giants didn't do their best in this line as they won the final game yesterday, 7 to 4. But Hughey Critz, known as a light hitter before he came to New York, upheld the tradition by hitting a single and a home run and driving in two runs.

Wright Defeats Pirates
Glen Wright, whom the Pittsburgh Pirates sent to Brooklyn in exchange for Jess Petty two seasons ago, returned to action against his old team yesterday, and was instrumental in giving the Robins a 4 to 5 victory. Wright helped to drive Petty from the mound with a heavy batting attack that gave Brooklyn a good lead, then played the key position in a fast and close double play that ended the game when the Pirates seemed sure to tie the score.

Browns Stage Rally
The St. Louis representative of the American league, the Browns, had better luck with a ninth inning rally. Going into the ninth four runs behind the Philadelphia Athletics, they put on an uprising that called Jack Quinn into action as relief pitcher for the third successive day, scored five runs and won the game, 6 to 5.

State Trapshoot Tournament Opens At Capital Today
SALEM, June 6, (AP)—Marksmen from all parts of the Northwest are gathered here today for the eighteenth annual Oregon state trapshoot tournament.

The shotgun experts today are firing at 100 16-yard targets and 100 handicap targets. Champions of the state will be crowned to this tournament, and they will be eligible to represent Oregon in the Grand American tournament to be held at Dayton, Ohio, August 18 to 23. The five-man team which will represent Oregon at the Grand American will be selected during the tournament.

Great Marksmen Present
Outstanding marksmen who are entered in the tournament this year include Frank Troeh, Portland, who won the state singles last year with a score of 193 out of 200; J. Gibbreath of Lakeview, winner of the Northwest Championship handicap shoot at Portland last month, and H. H. Hollyfield, who ran a close second to Troeh last year, breaking 191 out of 200.

Yesterday was practice day, but included competition for the W. L. Lambert trophy. It was won by E. L. Ford, Ogden, Utah, in the 100-bird race with a score of 98.

PORTLAND HITS SACS HURLERS FOR 5-4 WIN

Beavers Appear to Have Found Stride in Home Series

By Associated Press
The Portland Beavers registered their eighth victory in eleven games in a bang-up contest with the Sacs yesterday. Finding themselves trailing as a result of three Sacramento runs in the seventh, they came back for two each in the eighth and ninth to win, 5 to 4. Fullerton, for Portland, had better luck for the Sacs, pitched stellar ball until the runs started coming in, when they were relieved by Cascarella and Gould, respectively.

Seals Real Threat
San Francisco reiterated that they are a Coast league first-half-season threat yesterday by turning the tables on the Missions, 8 to 7, while Los Angeles was throwing a real scare into the league leading Sacs by winning from Hollywood 13 to 4, and moving up to within half a game of first place.

Angels Going Strong
The Angels made it three straight over the Stars, opening by Fred Haney's homer with three on bases in the first inning, and never being headed throughout. Seattle made it two out of three from Oakland 6 to 2. Elmer Hanson pitched eight innings shut-out ball and Howard Craighead five, the longer stretch of the former being good for a Seattle win.

Klamath Youth in Chicago To Race Against Country's Best in National Association

By WILLIAM WEEKES (Associated Press Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, June 6, (AP)—The big parade of America's college track stars invades Stagg field at the University of Chicago today for qualifying tests in the ninth annual renewal of the National Collegiate Athletic association's championships.

Hill Represents Oregon
Possibilities for a world record performance in the mile run were dimmed by the necessity of running the race in four sections. The field was so large that it was decided to split it up, which left it to chance that such stars as Hill of Oregon, Klier of Washington, Swartz of Western State Teachers, Kalamazoo, Mich., and Jack Warner of Marquette, might be drawn in the same section and create proper competition for a record attempt.

Hamm Has Jump
Ed Hamm of Georgia Tech appeared to have the broad jump pretty much to himself, following reports last night that Edward Gordon of Iowa, the Big Ten's best, had been cut from the Hawk-eye squad. With the negro star, who was a member of the 1928 American Olympic squad, out of competition, Iowa's chances of placing high in the team battle, would be reduced by the loss of points in the broad jump, and also possibly in the high jump.

Galaxy of Sprinters
George Simpson of Ohio State, Frank Wykoff, Southern California sprinter, and Eddie Tolan, Michigan negro, will not use starting blocks in the finals of the dashes tomorrow—provided they all qualify—but planned to use them today in case the threat of rain was fulfilled.

Ten defending champions, three of them record-holders, were back to try for more honors. The record holders were Simpson in the Century, Harlow Robert of Stan-the 18 holes of the morning round in 70 strokes.

The Detroit's victory marked the second American triumph in two years in the French golf competition. Last year the title was won by Jack Westland of Chicago, who did not defend it.
