Dan Cupid Makes Inroads on Klamath's Teaching Force

Vacation Season Finds Several Couples Married and on Honeymoons, While Many of the Teachers Scatter to Different Sections of the Country on Various Missions, Some Just Resting, Others Taking Summer Work.

City schools of Klamath Falls have closed their doors for the summer, and the disseminators of learning have flitted far away from the staid halls of learning. Some, however, finding the lure of higher education too strong, will attend school themselves during the summer, while others will spend the time in rest and recreation.

Those who feel the wanderlust too insistently will travel far, by land and by sea, and a large percentage of this year's corps of teachers have set sail on the treacherous and uncharted sea of matrimony. These latter are, Ruth Forbes and Edwin Priest, both teachers at Fremont school. Mr. and Mrs. Priest were married on Saturday after the closing of school, and motored south on a honeymoon trip. Clara Jarvis, also teacher in Fremont school, became the bride of Thomas F. Thorne on June 6. Ebba Bennett, principal of Fairview school, was married to J. K. Reno on Sunday, June 8. Lottie Klezar, of Roosevelt school, became the bride of W. H. McMillan immediately after the closing of the school year, and Dams Rumer has whispered that several others from the ranks of Klamath teachers will relinquish liberty for marital bliss during the summer months.
