MARKET QUOTATIONS

PORTLAND, June 11. (AP)—
The undertone of the butter market appeared easier today although there was no change in price. Receipts have been liberal and demand light.

Egg quotations looked weak, without announcement of official change. In some quarters it was reported that warm weather has begun to affect quality.

Reviewing the fruit and vegetable situation, the Portland bureau of the U. S. department of agriculture says:

"Vegetable shippers are competing actively for green peas, and outside demand from Puget Sound points and the east, far exceeds the present supply. Several truckloads move each night from Portland to the sound—thereby preventing freight car loadings, until supplies become more plentiful."

"Supplies of Oregon celery are increasing, and prices are lower, ranging from $1.25 to $1.75. Larger sizes are now available."

"Washington is shipping cherries in considerably greater volume than Oregon. Thus far, Portland's cherry supply consists of some good-quality express and truck arrivals from Columbia river points, and considerable volume of rejects from eastern Washington and Umatilla county car loadings."

"Cantaloupes and tomatoes are still in heavy supply; the demand is moderate, but not sufficient to assimilate the offerings."

"SUGAR (sacked basis): Steady. Cane, fruit or berry, $4.70 cwt. Best sugar, $4.55 cwt."

"FLOUR (city delivery prices): Steady. Family patent, 49s, 57; whole wheat, 49
