

YOUNG WOMAN PLUNGES FROM SOARING PLANE

Nebraska Co-Ed Drops
1200 Feet to Death
At Lincoln Port

LINCOLN, Neb., July 8, (AP)—A plunge from an airplane soaring over the municipal airport late yesterday cost the life of Miss Alberta Brinkerhoff, 21-year-old University of Nebraska co-ed.

A few minutes before the pilot of the low-winged monoplane, Pete Orr, had pulled the young woman back into the cockpit of the ship after she had stepped out on the wing. He was circling the ship when the young woman again climbed out on the wing and fell to earth from an altitude of approximately 1200 feet. Her body was found on the flying field.

Friends of the university senior said she had not been despondent, and could advance no cause for her actions. Meanwhile, C. A. Hugart, acting coroner, expressed the belief that it was a case of suicide and County Attorney Max U. Towle said inquest probably would not be held.

Arriving at the airport in a taxi, Miss Brinkerhoff arranged to make a brief flight. Orr, pilot for a flying school, began warming up the motor of the ship, and Miss Brinkerhoff laughingly remarked that she was getting nervous.

The plane roared down the runway and was soon high above the airport. Before the take-off, Miss Brinkerhoff had been strapped in the cockpit.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brinkerhoff, were expected today from their home at Mount Crale, Neb.

Evangelist Argue To Talk on Bible As Word of God

"Why We Believe the Bible to Be the Word of God," will be the subject of Rev. Watson Argue, young Canadian evangelist, at the big wooden tabernacle, corner Seventh and Oak streets, tonight. In announcing this subject, the speaker stated that he believed the most important question in religion was whether or not the Bible was the word of God.

The sermon will be preceded by a song service led by Rev. Argue with his slide trombone and accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Argue. They will be assisted by an orchestra and large chorus choir. At each service the evangelist plays a trombone solo and introduces a new campaign song.

Eight converts responded to Rev. Argue's plea to start the Christian life last night. As the choir softly sang "Ask the Savior to Help You," the evangelist met the converts at the pentecost rail, greeting each one with a handshake and a "God bless you."

Establish Post Office at Lake

Before departing for Lake o' the Woods with the Klamath Hi Scouts this morning, G. D. Hoover left the information that a postoffice has been established at the camp for the summer. The mail is routed through Ashland. Parties wishing to communicate with people at the camp by mail will be able to do so by addressing the letters to "Lake o' the Woods, Oregon."

The trucks carrying the equipment of the scouts this morning also carried a boat which will be at the lake, the gift of G. A. Krause.

Inventory Clerk arrives—W. A. Getz, inventory clerk for the Great Northern, has arrived in Klamath Falls from St. Paul, and will remain here indefinitely.

AT THE PELICAN

Corporal Bob Ingleston in person describes the different pictures and enlivens the entire program by a humorous lecture in the language of the doughboy. The scenes taken on the battlefields of France and participated in by western troops, include the battles of Chateau Thierry, Alsace, Marne, St. Mihiel, Argonne and Champagne.

Never forgotten war scenes are shown in this picture. Klamath Falls is fortunate to be listed for this showing of this picture and the occasion should be liberally

SIDE GLANCES

By George Clark

"—and that's the only shade tree in the neighborhood."

AT THE PINE TREE

A beautiful woman who must fight for her honor against a hostile soldier on her own wedding night provides an interesting situation in "Bride of the Regiment." First National's all-Technicolor operetta commencing today at the Pine Tree Theatre. Her husband captured by Austrian forces, the countess must submit to the handsome Austrian leader or witness the death of her husband. The story is laid in Italy during the Austro-Italian war of 1859. It is based on the German novel and the New York musical hit, "The Lady in Ermine."

Vivienne Segal and Allan Prior, stage stars, sing the leading roles of Countess and Count Beltrami. Walter Pidgeon is the Austrian Colonel, Louise Fazenda, Ford Sterling, Myrna Loy, Lupino Lane and Harry Cording are prominent in the large cast.

Doran, Tyler Brooks, Helene Millard and Helen Johnson.

AT THE LIBERTY
Court procedure as carried out in the trial of a criminal is said to be more or less of a mystifying process to the average layman.

Audiences who have seen "The Last Performance," Universal's drama of a criminal magician, showing at the Liberty theatre, have learned a lot about the law's course once the suspect is brought to trial.

Dr. Paul Fejos, who directed under the supervision of Carl Laemmle, Jr., designed the trial sequences that bring to a climax the surging romance mystery, to show many of the details. He

AT THE VOX

George Fawcett, who has perhaps the most extensive background of stage and screen experience of any actor now before the public and who has been prominent in theatrical work for nearly 50 years, plays a prominent role in "Ladies of Leisure," the Columbia all-talking drama of night life playing at the Vox theatre. The film, adapted from a David Belasco stage play has been brought to the screen on the most pretentious scale. A distinguished cast including Barbara Stanwyck, Lowell Sherman, Ralph Graves and Marie Prevost interpret the principal roles.

Fawcett went on the stage immediately upon his graduation from college. He first appeared in pictures in 1914 at the old Morosco Studios. His productions are too numerous to mention. It is enough to say that he has been recognized as an outstanding member of his profession by 12 clubs in Hollywood and New York.

He is a member of the famous Beefsteak club in London, which boasts of many celebrities.
