THURSTON AIDS 'UNCLE BOBBY' IN FLAT RACE

Right Handers Supplies Needed Quality in Robins' Lineup

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Back up to the majors for his second trial, Hollis Thurston, age 21, has strengthened the National League pennant hopes of Manager Wilbert Robinson and his Brooklyn Robins.

With Harry Vance pitching only mediocre ball and the Robins badly in need of a good right hander, Thurston apparently has relieved "Uncle Bobby" of one less worry as the Robins continue to show the way in the hectic senior circuit race.

After waiting until June 29 to start his first game, the former White Sox hurler has suddenly rounded into sensational form.

Wins by Shutout

Yesterday he opened his third game of the season against the Braves and turned in an even more brilliant exhibition, yielding only two hits and no runs. Just 29 men faced the Brooklyn hurler, Maranville, who struck being thrown out in a double play. Needless to say, the Robins won by 2 to 0.

Just as impressive but in another style was the performance of Bill Terry in the Giant's 5 to 4 victory over the Phillies. The big first baseman's attics included two home runs, a pair of singles and a sacrifice fly, which drove in the winning run in the ninth.

Although the Robins won, the Cubs gained a half game on their rivals by taking a double header from the Cincinnati Reds. The score of the first game was 2 to 2 and the nightcap 5 to 2.

A's Win Overcome Game

The Athletics and Yanks renewed their American league argument at Philadelphia with the champions taking a 6 to 5 decision after 12 innings. To Gordon Cochrane goes the credit for driving in the winning run with a single but it was Jimmie Fox with his twenty-ninth home run in the ninth that made it possible for Cochrane to have his chance.

Red Lyons defeated a temperature of 197 degrees and the Browns to give the White Sox a 6 to 5 victory. The Sox were a run behind going into the ninth but Cissell, Tate and Lyons put together a single and two doubles to win the game.

Cleveland also came from behind in the ninth of the defeat Detroit, 7 to 6. Elton Hogssett, Tiger hurler, broke the deadlock in the first half of the inning with a home run, but the Indians came back with two runs, Porter sending J. Sewell and Jablonowski across the plate with the needed runs with a double.

Big League Baseball Squeeze Play

"SQUEEZE" PLAY RUNNER ON THIRD STARTS WHEN PITCHER DELIVERS BALL

BY AL DEMARCO
Former Pitcher, New York Giants

The "squeeze" play is a play only to be used in a close ball game in the later innings when it looks like one run will win the ball game and there is one man out.

The runner on third base, by a prearranged sign with the batter, usually the latter's regular "hit and run" sign, knows in advance what the batter intends to do and starts in for the plate just before or just as the pitcher is delivering the ball. Almost any kind of a bunt scores him, as he has a flying start from third base. The danger in the play of course is the batter missing the ball entirely, or the runner and the batter getting their signs mixed.

Many big league managers have the runner taking a flying start, while others play "safe," which means that while the baserunner is looking for the play, he can scramble back to third if the batter misses the ball.

The opposing pitcher usually catches naturally are looking up by the play and can break it up by throwing a ball at the batter's head that he can't reach. Therefore the signs between the batter and runner must not be too openly made.

Save the Big League Baseball Series, another will appear Friday.

Al Demarco has prepared a new illustrated leaflet on "Bunting" which he will gladly send you upon request. It addresses Al Demarco in care of this paper, and be sure to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Stribling Tosses Caution to Winds and Smashes Way into Forefront As Heavy Prospect

LONDON, July 29 (AP)—W. L. (Young) Stribling has tossed aside the caution that used to mar his efforts in the ring and smashed his way once more into the forefront of challengers for the heavyweight championship.

Just five weeks after his sensational one-round knockout of Otto Von Porat, lantern-jawed Norwegian, Stribling stormed through the weak defenses of Phil Sway, English champion, at Wimbledon stadium last night, floored the London fireman four times in the first round and knocked him out in the second.

A crowd of 35,000 roared approval of the Georgian's ferocious attack and jeered their fallen champion as the fatal count found him sitting on the floor of the ring and vainly trying to get to his feet.

Heavy Favorite

Stribling had been a heavy favorite to win but few expected the Macon heavy to turn in so workmanlike a job of it. The American leaped to the attack with the first bell, never gave Scott a chance to make use of his "undoubted boxing" skill, lashed away at the Briton's body with an educated left hand and had him groggy and staggering almost before the bout had started.

"Pitiful," "disgusting," "humiliating," the press called the bout today, making no attempt to vindicate Scott. "He was outclassed, outboxed and out-punched," Sporting Life's expert said, who added Stribling was the "best and clearest heavyweight in the world, not excepting Schmeling."

Among the stinging comments on Scott's showing was the following from the Express: "British boxing has never so much as last night. Stribling, of course, is due for praise but even that praise is lessened by the remembrance he had nothing to boast of."

Four Knockdowns in First

It was apparent early in the first round Stribling was out to end the match as quickly as possible. He smashed Scott all over the ring, using left hooks almost exclusively. Before the round was over he had Scott on the floor for counts of five, seven and nine and the Briton was swaying on the canvas for the fourth time when the bell came to the rescue.

The second round was only a minute old when Stribling rifled home a right to the jaw and a thundering left hook to the body that sent Scott to the floor for the long count. Scott, an agonized expression on his face, quickly got to one knee, vainly tried to rise at nine and fell back on his haunches as the referee counted ten.

Stribling weighed 188, Scott 204.

Gertrude Ederle, Conqueror Of English Channel, Wonders If Great Effort Is Justified

BY LORENA HICKOK
RYE, N. Y., July 29, (AP)—She teaches swimming in a Boardwalk pool, a bronzed young woman with a determined grin.

Unless you raise your voice she cannot hear you, and looks at you with an expression that has embarrassment, bewilderment, fear.

Across the back of her bathing cap is lettered: "GERTRUDE EDERLE."

Four years ago this august Gertrude Ederle swam the English channel and came home to receive a Broadway welcome, congratulatory messages from President Coolidge and Governor Smith, and vanderbilt offers said at the time to amount to nearly $1,000,000.

"Wasn't worth it," she said today as she pushed her hair back behind her ears—a gesture characteristic since she began to lose her hearing two years ago as a result of those 14 hours in the English channel—and said a little wistfully:

"It wasn't worth while."

"I'm not sorry I did it. Only if I'd known how it was going to be, that I'd lose my hearing—I don't think I'd have done it. It wasn't worth it."

Four years ago Gertrude Ederle rode up the bay on the Macomb and up Broadway in an open car, while crowds cheered and ticker-tape and paper snow filled the air.

"Sometimes I kind of wonder if all that really happened to me," she said slowly.

Song Cheers Her

"But sometimes at dances the orchestra plays 'Let Me Call You Sweetheart,' the song I kept humming while I was in the channel—the song the bands played when I came home.

"And then it all sort of comes back to me again, and I have to sneak away or somebody will see me cry."

A year ago last fall, at the end of two years in vanderbilt, Gertrude's hearing began to fail. Last winter she could not hear at all. It's better now, but already her voice has begun to take on the flat quality of the voices of the deaf.

"The doctors say it was the swim that did it," she said, "plus those two terribly strenuous years when I was in the water too much and never had any chance to rest."

When Gertrude came back from Europe there were many stories

NEW TONIC DID WONDERS FOR MY HAIR AND SCALP SHE SAYS

Considerable Dandruff, Itching and Bleeding Scalp and Her Gray Hairs All Vanish After Using Lea's Hair Tonic

ANOTHER LADY SAYS IT IS WONDERFUL

"My scalp was in terrible condition and broken out badly, and considerable dandruff worried me too. Besides that, I had quite a few gray hairs, so I began using Lea's Hair Tonic, and by the time I had used the first bottle my scalp felt much better, and after four months I found my scalp in perfect condition and all dandruff and gray hairs gone. It is wonderful and I am sending a photo so you can see how nice and beautiful my hair is, thanks to Lea's," writes Mrs. Sabina Villa, 1917—11th Ave. Tampa, Fla.

Whether one's hair is blonde, red, Auburn or jet black makes no difference in using Lea's. Daily massaging of the scalp with a few drops brings the scalp, hair roots and circulation into vigorous condition and gradually the gray hair

Pelz Awarded Nod Over Dolan After Ten Rough Rounds

PORTLAND, Ore., July 29 (AP)—Benny Pelz and Mickey Dolan, Portland's flashy lightweight, staged another furious 10-round bout at the auditorium here last night. This time Pelz was awarded the decision by a narrow margin. Dolan scored the only knockdown of the contest in the tenth round, when he sank a right cross under the chin. Pelz went to his knees, but was up before Referee Tom Loutitt could start a count. In their last meeting, which ended in a draw, each scored two knockdowns against the other. It was another give and take affair last night, but the pass-tired Dolan in the latter rounds, Pelz weighed 133½ pounds, Dolan 135½.

Newboy Kayos Tiger

Johnny Hanson, the fighting newboy, scored a knockout over Tiger McGlone in the second round.

Eddie Edleman, the Eskimo southpaw, knocked out Soldier Daguis, Vancouver Barracks, in the third round.

Tuffy Wing, veteran Albin scrapper, took a hard six-round battle over Joe Coffman, Buffalo. They are junior welterweights.

Johnny Garvey, won a close four-round decision over Johnny Snell in the curtain-raiser.

TENNIS CLUB PLANS DANCE AUGUST 22ND

Committees Prepare For Social Event at Hotel Willard Ball Room

A committee of the tennis club is working on details of the big tennis dance to be held at the Willard Hotel ballroom probably on August 22. The committee consists of Clifton Richmond, A. Austin, Gordon Dixon, Pearl Collister, and Katherine Gaylord.

Meantime the tennis ladder members are gayly challenging and playing. Indications are that there will be some new blood on the tennis team for the next tournament. Finlayson has fought his way up from the bottom, to 12th place by winning 6 out of 8 matches. It took him two matches to beat Merriman, and then Blackner stopped him. Boyd is going up, having won 3 and lost none so far. Seth has the same record. Richmond is second place and has stood off the attack of both Hastings and Huls, who are just below him. Dixon has managed to work up from 13th place to 5th. Miss Johnston caused some surprise by winning from Pearl Collister and going into 4th place on the ladies ladder. Mrs. Hiatt has challenged Mrs. Dixon and if she wins will step into first place.

Library Adds Guide

The city library has added a 1930 lawn tennis guide to their list of books. This book contains the official rules of the game.
