

PUBLIC WARMS UP TO DOUBLE MAIN EVENTS

Both Bouts Look Like Knockouts; Boys End Training

Frankie Warneke, the battling German who meets Roy "Crab" Smith in the last half of the double main event Wednesday evening at the Legion arena, finished his training Monday evening, working in hard rounds before a large crowd which left the stamp of its approval on his work.

Frankie is going to be well liked around here for he is the style of a fighter the fans like—a boring in hard punching boy who is willing to swap punches with his opponent, and how he looks with that right duke! He is fast developing into a knock-out king. Scotty Cruikshank who has been looking after the German here in training has him in the pink and is confident that the "Landman" will stop Smith in less than five rounds. Frankie wants to defeat Crab as a win means a shot with George Dixon, the colored flat from Portland.

Roy Smith showed at his best last night when he stepped two rounds with Kid Capley, a main eventer from San Francisco. How they did to the mark! Both stepped out and put on an exhibition that almost tore the roof off of the arena. Crab is O. K. with a blackface capital O. He's a smart boxer and carries a damaging punch in either hand. He will give Warneke a tough fight. The betting along the rattle is even money. Take your pick.

Steamboat Jackson, in the best condition of his career, is ready for Jack Kentworth. Steamboat is a crowd pleaser and will fight the best of his career Wednesday evening for he realizes if he gets over this stoppage from Portland he will be classed a first rate as a real topnotcher. One thing the cash customers are sure of when Steamboat is in "there" is a real honest-to-goodness fight.

Jack Kentworth has a nice reputation as a fighter. He likes the game so well that he walks right in from the tap of the gang and mixes it. He showed himself a good boy when he beat Young Sam Langford at Lakeview. He will arrive tomorrow morning.

Three fast preliminaries complete 33 rounds of fighting that will please the crowd. Tickets on sale at Walder, Spar and Mecca.

PEARS ROUTED THROUGH CITY

(Continued from Page One)

blocks. The fruit blocks are sent to the great eastern cities, a certain number of cars for each city on the fastest freight trains which pick them up in this city.

The Klamath Ice and Storage company will ice all fruit cars in the Klamath Falls yards, and for this purpose has installed larger machines to take care of the increased business.

The picking of the pear crop started in the Rogue River valley today, and some of the first cars are expected in Klamath Falls early Wednesday morning.

GIRL FLYER IS GIVEN WELCOME

(Continued from Page One)

cabin of the ship into the presence of the reception committee, which included her parents and three cabinet ministers, Lord Thomson, minister of air, Miss Margaret Bondfield, minister of labor, and J. H. Thomas, lord privy seal. A microphone was fitted for her to make a speech but the roar of thousands cheering drowned out all except the words, "I am very glad to be home again."

Wild cheers and shouts greeted the young heroine as she was driven to her hotel, the crowds swarming in front of the car and onto the running boards where many attempted to shake hands or kiss her. Police had a lively time protecting her from too enthusiastic attentions.

In an interview with reporters she said she had received many proposals of marriage from various parts of the world, but was "not likely to accept any. They don't interest me," she said.

N. D. MERCHANT REVEALS SECRET

(Continued from Page One)

houses were spending millions of dollars for catalogues and direct mail advertising while 75 per cent of the independent merchants did not advertise at all," he concluded.

Three hundred buyers from western states and Alaska have registered here for the week. A thousand more are expected.

FIRE HAZARDS GREATEST EVER

(Continued from Page One)

Hill creek, Lane county, had spread over 700 acres but loss was nominal. Mill operations ceased and the fire confined to old slashings.

L. C. Morehead, fire warden, reported 13 fires in the Unadilla national forest, Oregon. Five slashings were started by lightning. All were reported under control, Jack said.

Frisco Papers to Report on Local Net Ladder Squad

The Klamath Falls Tennis club ladder will be noted in the "Frisco" papers the week of August 10th. Miss Pearl Collier, Miss Myrtle Collier, Miss Marian Worley and Miss Sybil Hamer will be vacationing in the Bay city at that time and have received permission to play off their ladder matches at the Golden Gate Park tennis courts. They will turn in their scores to the newspapers there.

New Player Enrolls

The tennis ladder welcomes a new lady player, Mrs. Robert Q. Constans. Mrs. Constans is a veteran of many tournaments in Idaho and will doubtless soon have climbed to one of the top rungs. New members continue to join the ladder, first, because it is a lot of fun; second, because it keeps them fit, and third, because it is so easy to join. No red tape or qualifications. One merely leaves his name and 50 cents at Connolly Brothers sporting goods store on Main street and starts to play. The few rules are typed on the ladder which is on display there. One phones a challenge to either of the two names above him and agrees upon the hour and court. There are two city courts in town and four at Moore Park, all in fine condition. If the challenger wins his name goes up and the other name goes down to the vacant space. The tennis club in picking its team, for each inter-city tournament is governed by the rank of players on the ladder as it is their earnest desire to put into the field at all times a team representing the best tennis talent available in Klamath Falls.

The present rank of the Klamath tennis players is as follows: Robertson, Richmond, Hastings, Huls, Dixon, Walker, Hall, Carter, Blackmer, Shehorn, Merryman, Wilson, Elliott, Geth, Gentry, Boyd, Austin, Derby, Sheraton, Crawford, Currin. The ladies are: Miss Jones, Miss Johnston, Mrs. Dixon, Miss Pearl Collier, Mrs. Hatt, Miss Collier, Mrs. Wilson, Miss F. Collier, Mrs. Lambert, Mrs. Derby, Miss Fidler, Miss Richardson, Mrs. Constans, Miss Smith, Mrs. Hall.

Matches Played Sunday

A number of ladder matches were played over the week-end in spite of the tournament with Grants Pass. The name of the winner occurs first:

Blackmer vs. Shehorn, 3-5, 6-1.
Huls vs. Dixon, 6-4, 6-0.
Floyd vs. Bliss, 6-4, 6-2.
Caseman vs. Bliss, 6-4, 6-3.
Christopherson vs. Bliss, 7-5, 6-4.

Mrs. Constans vs. Miss Smith, 6-4, 6-5.

Miss P. Collier vs. Mrs. M. Collier, 6-4, 7-5.

Mrs. Lambert vs. Mrs. Derby, 7-5, 6-3.

Mrs. Constans vs. Mrs. Hull, 6-1, 6-2.

NORBLAD PAYS KLAMATH VISIT

(Continued from Page One)

deal of comment on the present situation. It is an extraordinary political year.

"This campaign is going to mean one of the most drastic political moves ever seen in Oregon. I would not care to hazard a guess as to its outcome."

Stronger than ever in his praise of Klamath Falls, the governor stated that he considered this city one of the best business cities in the state. "I am naturally partial to Klamath Falls, having extensive interests in the lumber business and make it a point to visit here once or twice a year. It is a wonderful city and will continue to be so. Klamath Falls is going to grow and is just now getting into its stride."

"I am strong for Klamath Falls," he concluded.

Cunning Chairman House Committee

E. M. Bubb, president of the Klamath county chamber of commerce, announced the appointment of the house committee at the regular Tuesday luncheon today. George A. Cunningham was appointed chairman, the others on the committee are E. B. Hall and H. N. Moe.

This committee is delegated to find available new quarters for the chamber, and to submit a report of their findings to the board of directors in the near future.

OBITUARY

J. H. RENSCHKE

J. H. Renschke, age 47 years, passed away late Saturday night, following an illness of one month. He is survived by his wife, Margaret, of Texas, and two children of this city. His last services have been entrusted to the care of the Klamath Funeral Home, Pine Avenue at Eighth. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.—pd.

VOX THEATRE

Now Playing

"SWELLHEAD"

James Gleason
Johnnie Walker
Marion Schillings
Laughs Thrills Romance
Knockouts.

Coming Soon

Around the World Via
Graf Zeppelin. The picture you can't miss.

Always a Good Show
at The Vox

CALL BILLINGS FOR TESTIMONY

Clash Over Examination Of Estelle Smith Provokes Order

(Continued from Page One)

on for Mrs. Smith's repudiation of the Older affidavit, questioned her as to her association with the newspaper editor. The questioning switched to her attitude toward radical doctrines of government.

"Do you believe in revolutions?" Judge Preston asked.

"I believe in the United States of America," was the answer.

At this point McKenzie jumped to his feet protesting heatedly.

"This question is solely designed to slander Mr. Older and I demand he take the stand to confront this witness," McKenzie shouted.

Judge Preston explained he had the highest regard for Older but was solely seeking possible undue pressure brought to bear on the witness in obtaining the affidavit, which repudiated her original identification of Billings and other vital testimony at his trial.

Not Narcotic Addict

She said she said in the affidavit she was a narcotic addict and was under the influence of narcotics when she identified Billings as the man who carried a suitcase into her office on the day of and just before the Preparedness day bombing.

The witness admitted testimony had been rehearsed with all the witnesses, herself included, before the Billings trial but denied she had been forced to testify by District Attorney Charles M. Fickert under the threat of imprisonment. To other of Walsh's questions regarding the affidavit she gave vague answers, explaining she did not remember.

Received Small Fee

She admitted the affidavit was taken in the presence of herself and Mr. Older by a woman stenographer. A woman said to have been the stenographer was brought before her but she denied she had ever seen her before. She said she had received no gifts except a few Christmas presents from Older and a small sum from the city as witness fees for her attorney against Billings.

Judge Preston's questioning then began and the heated discussion was precipitated. Walsh joined McKenzie in protesting, declaring such questions might raise unfounded prejudices in the mind of the court and governor against his client.

FUNERAL NOTICES

HAROLD VOSS

Funeral services for Harold the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Voss were held Tuesday afternoon at the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home, Pine Avenue at Sixth with Rev. M. T. Wire, pastor of the First Methodist church officiating. Two vocal numbers were rendered by Mrs. Marjorie Olds accompanied by Mrs. M. Helena Joyaux. Interment was made in Linkville cemetery.

WILLIAM BAIRD PORTER

William Baird Porter, a resident of this city for the past two months and late of Raymond, Wash., passed away Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock following an illness of 5 days. He was born in the state of Maryland, Feb. 7, 1883 and aged 47 years, 5 months and 27 days at the time of death. He is survived by his wife Cora Porter, his father Albert Porter of Raymond, five brothers, Roy, Arthur, Able, James and Ernest and one sister, Mrs. Edith Reddington. He was a member of Raymond lodge of Elks, the barbers union and the musicians union. The remains will be forwarded by the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home to Raymond, Wash., where funeral services will be held and interment made in the family plot in Fern Hill cemetery.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Wrestling matches between women are the latest exhibitions offered to sensation seekers in Paris.

Laboratory Unit Of Oil Company On Display Here

One of the laboratory unit automobiles sent out by the Standard Oil company of California arrived in this city Sunday, and has been giving demonstrations Monday and Tuesday, leaving Klamath Falls late Tuesday afternoon.

These Laboratory units are equipped with certain pieces of laboratory machinery and are sent out to gas and oil dealers, to give demonstrations showing the reaction of oils under certain conditions.

The idea behind these demonstrations is to clear up certain mistakes of ideas of oils and how they work, and to give demonstrations of lubricants.

G. P. Texaco was the chemist in charge of the laboratory car in Klamath. He lectured and gave demonstrations at the Oatendorf Motor company this morning.

FEDERAL HELP PROMISED EAST

(Continued from Page One)

In each area in the country. The information so far indicates great variation in the effect of the drought, both as between states, between counties in those states, and even between farms in the same counties.

"There can be no doubt as to its most serious character in many localities, and that unless relieved there will be real suffering. The maximum intensity seems to lie in a belt roughly following the Potomac, the Ohio, and the Mississippi rivers.

The measures of assistance that the farm board and the other agencies of the federal government can and should undertake are being determined. "It is evident already that large measures of feed movement to livestock in the drought areas or movement of animals out of the worst areas will need be undertaken later in the fall. It is too early to determine the precise character of relief; much depends upon the further spread of the drought; now no stone will be left unturned by the federal government in giving assistance to local authorities. I have asked the railways to investigate the situation from a transportation point of view."

CHICAGO, Aug. 5. (AP)—Farmers throughout the grain belt have begun to feed their wheat to the hogs and to cut it for hay, reports in the grain trade here indicated today, and Lasalle street hailed the news as an indication Old Sol is having his turn at producing some farm relief.

To the offices of the government-sponsored farmers' national grain corporation, came a report that in sections of Montana wheat fields were being bought up to be cut for hay, where the hay fields and pastures have been burned out.

The loss to the corn crop from drought during July has been estimated here by grain brokers at about 400,000,000 bushels.

"Nature seems to be settling the farm relief problem," said Bernard Snow, former assistant United States secretary of agriculture, now a member of the grain firm of Bartlett, Frazier and company here. "The tremendous loss of the corn crop during July," he said, "a loss which is still continuing, is likely to prove a blessing in disguise."

Pointing out the heat and drought were accomplishing "such a reduction of the crop surplus as was proposed by the federal farm board," Snow said that "it looks as though the losses in corn will accomplish the needed readjustment between supply and demand in all products, and incidentally emphasize the fact that acreage is not the only factor to be reckoned with in determining volume of crop production."

Return From Trip To Eastern Oregon

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Veatch and son have returned from a tour of Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington. They attended the Oregon Title Men's convention at La Grande. From there they went to Walla Walla where J. Ross Leslie, formerly of Klamath Falls, served them with mountain trout breakfast and showed them the beauties of the Walla Walla Lake resort and its surroundings. Mr. and Mrs. Veatch then went to Walla Walla, Lewiston, Idaho and visited Mr. Veatch's brother at Dayton, Washington. They had a very pleasant journey. Sunday Mr. Veatch, who is Exalter Ruler of the Elks will leave for Portland to attend a meeting of the Elks' state convention. A number of other members of the lodge here will also attend this meeting.

All sixteen of Missouri's representatives were asking to be sent back to Washington. Four democrats who were swept off the political mountain by the Hoover avalanche, also wanted their old seats in the house. There was more interest in the drought than the election and an extremely light vote was expected.

Five Out for Senator

Five candidates were seeking the republican senatorial nomination in West Virginia. They jumped into the race after Senator Goff decided to retire. The winner will oppose a former senator, M. M. Neely, in the November election. Senator Hatfield, republican, had a hard time beating Neely in 1925.

Prohibition only slightly tinged the contest, although Benjamin L. Rosenbloom, former representative, favors modification of the Volstead act.

Ralph Snyder, who thinks like Reed on wheat reduction, has tried to make this an issue. The senator replied he regretted that Chairman Legge of the farm board has failed to deal directly with the wheat emergency.

Copper Unopposed

Senator Arthur Capper, republican, had no opposition for the nomination for a third term. Neither did Jonathan Davis, democratic senatorial candidate.

In Virginia where the fact that some democrats did not support Alfred E. Smith, democratic nominee, has not been forgotten, Senator Carter Glass had no opposition for the democratic senatorial nomination.

The liquor question and rumblings from the presidential campaign were heard in contests for the house.

All sixteen of Missouri's representatives were asking to be sent back to Washington. Four democrats who were swept off the political mountain by the Hoover avalanche, also wanted their old seats in the house. There was more interest in the drought than the election and an extremely light vote was expected.

Five candidates were seeking the republican senatorial nomination in West Virginia. They jumped into the race after Senator Goff decided to retire. The winner will oppose a former senator, M. M. Neely, in the November election. Senator Hatfield, republican, had a hard time beating Neely in 1925.

Prohibition only slightly tinged the contest, although Benjamin L. Rosenbloom, former representative, favors modification of the Volstead act.

Ralph Snyder, who thinks like Reed on wheat reduction, has tried to make this an issue. The senator replied he regretted that Chairman Legge of the farm board has failed to deal directly with the wheat emergency.

Copper Unopposed

Senator Arthur Capper, republican, had no opposition for the nomination for a third term. Neither did Jonathan Davis, democratic senatorial candidate.

In Virginia where the fact that some democrats did not support Alfred E. Smith, democratic nominee, has not been forgotten, Senator Carter Glass had no opposition for the democratic senatorial nomination.

The liquor question and rumblings from the presidential campaign were heard in contests for the house.

All sixteen of Missouri's representatives were asking to be sent back to Washington. Four democrats who were swept off the political mountain by the Hoover avalanche, also wanted their old seats in the house. There was more interest in the drought than the election and an extremely light vote was expected.

Five candidates were seeking the republican senatorial nomination in West Virginia. They jumped into the race after Senator Goff decided to retire. The winner will oppose a former senator, M. M. Neely, in the November election. Senator Hatfield, republican, had a hard time beating Neely in 1925.

Prohibition only slightly tinged the contest, although Benjamin L. Rosenbloom, former representative, favors modification of the Volstead act.

Ralph Snyder, who thinks like Reed on wheat reduction, has tried to make this an issue. The senator replied he regretted that Chairman Legge of the farm board has failed to deal directly with the wheat emergency.

Copper Unopposed

Senator Arthur Capper, republican, had no opposition for the nomination for a third term. Neither did Jonathan Davis, democratic senatorial candidate.

In Virginia where the fact that some democrats did not support Alfred E. Smith, democratic nominee, has not been forgotten, Senator Carter Glass had no opposition for the democratic senatorial nomination.

The liquor question and rumblings from the presidential campaign were heard in contests for the house.

All sixteen of Missouri's representatives were asking to be sent back to Washington. Four democrats who were swept off the political mountain by the Hoover avalanche, also wanted their old seats in the house. There was more interest in the drought than the election and an extremely light vote was expected.

Five candidates were seeking the republican senatorial nomination in West Virginia. They jumped into the race after Senator Goff decided to retire. The winner will oppose a former senator, M. M. Neely, in the November election. Senator Hatfield, republican, had a hard time beating Neely in 1925.

Prohibition only slightly tinged the contest, although Benjamin L. Rosenbloom, former representative, favors modification of the Volstead act.

Ralph Snyder, who thinks like Reed on wheat reduction, has tried to make this an issue. The senator replied he regretted that Chairman Legge of the farm board has failed to deal directly with the wheat emergency.

Copper Unopposed

Senator Arthur Capper, republican, had no opposition for the nomination for a third term. Neither did Jonathan Davis, democratic senatorial candidate.

In Virginia where the fact that some democrats did not support Alfred E. Smith, democratic nominee, has not been forgotten, Senator Carter Glass had no opposition for the democratic senatorial nomination.

The liquor question and rumblings from the presidential campaign were heard in contests for the house.

All sixteen of Missouri's representatives were asking to be sent back to Washington. Four democrats who were swept off the political mountain by the Hoover avalanche, also wanted their old seats in the house. There was more interest in the drought than the election and an extremely light vote was expected.

Five candidates were seeking the republican senatorial nomination in West Virginia. They jumped into the race after Senator Goff decided to retire. The winner will oppose a former senator, M. M. Neely, in the November election. Senator Hatfield, republican, had a hard time beating Neely in 1925.

Prohibition only slightly tinged the contest, although Benjamin L. Rosenbloom, former representative, favors modification of the Volstead act.

Ralph Snyder, who thinks like Reed on wheat reduction, has tried to make this an issue. The senator replied he regretted that Chairman Legge of the farm board has failed to deal directly with the wheat emergency.

Copper Unopposed

Senator Arthur Capper, republican, had no opposition for the nomination for a third term. Neither did Jonathan Davis, democratic senatorial candidate.

In Virginia where the fact that some democrats did not support Alfred E. Smith, democratic nominee, has not been forgotten, Senator Carter Glass had no opposition for the democratic senatorial nomination.

The liquor question and rumblings from the presidential campaign were heard in contests for the house.

All sixteen of Missouri's representatives were asking to be sent back to Washington. Four democrats who were swept off the political mountain by the Hoover avalanche, also wanted their old seats in the house. There was more interest in the drought than the election and an extremely light vote was expected.

Five candidates were seeking the republican senatorial nomination in West Virginia. They jumped into the race after Senator Goff decided to retire. The winner will oppose a former senator, M. M. Neely, in the November election. Senator Hatfield, republican, had a hard time beating Neely in 1925.

Prohibition only slightly tinged the contest, although Benjamin L. Rosenbloom, former representative, favors modification of the Volstead act.

Ralph Snyder, who thinks like Reed on wheat reduction, has tried to make this an issue. The senator replied he regretted that Chairman Legge of the farm board has failed to deal directly with the wheat emergency.

Copper Unopposed