Today in Klamath's Theatres

AT THE PELICAN

"Gameo Kirby" Fox Movietone romantic musical drama, will rank as one of the greatest and best screen productions of the year. As screened last night at its premier at the Pelican theater, before an audience which frequently applauded, this great play of the old south in its musical setting, surely surpasses the best in this form of entertainment previously seen here. J. Harold Murray and Norma Terris, the co-stars, are simply great. Murray's voice, perfectly reproduced, remains the delightful quality which made him such a great Broadway star before he cast his lot in Hollywood. "Romance," as sung by this great screen lover, has all the air and glamour of a great love song, which it is. The work of both of these players in the dramatic sense, also is very effective and is a great tribute to the directorial genius of Irving Cummings, who staged this production. Cummings may well be proud of his achievement, as he has far surpassed the work he did in "In Old Arizona" and "Behind That Curtain," previously the high spots in his directorial career. Stepin Fetchit, as a negro butler, is shown in his customary grotesquerie, but proves even more effective in his new style comedy role. His singing of "I'm a Peacocking Man," comes very close to being a classic. Spectacle, based on the Gershwin operetta.

AT THE LIBERTY

From national gridiron hero to screen idol! That is the achievement of John Mack Brown, who plays the lead opposite Mary Nolan in "Underdog," her current starring Universal production, now playing at the Liberty theater. A few years ago Brown was star half-back on the University of Alabama eleven, and the acclaim showered upon him because of his sensational plays made him a national hero. He came to Hollywood for a visit, and a screen test made more of a novelty than for any other reason led to his being immediately cast in "Bugle Call."

The reviews of his work in that picture, together with the very promising screen personality which developed out of his first appearance before the camera, caused the studio executives to immediately place him under contract in "Our Dancing Daughters" he became definitely one of the most popular leading men in the screen world.

national-Vitaphone picture, "Song of the Flame" national-Vitaphone picture, "Song of the Flame," all-technicolor operetta at the Pine Tree theater. In speaking of her studio experience, the famous opera star said: "When I look my voice test for 'Golden Dawn,' my first film, I found my punches, so to speak. Then the director told me to sing as I do on the stage. When I heard the record of my voice, it seemed to register every variation of tone and pitch. I am satisfied that talking pictures can record the finest voices without losing anything in the translation. "A faulty voice, however, is made even worse by the microphone. A singer, for instance, who has as much strength on her low notes as she has on her high notes, does not record well. Those with 'holes' in their voices find them exaggerated greatly in the recording. A voice of even tonal quality, is best for talkies. In "Song of the Flame," Miss Gentle appears with a group of noted singers, including Alexander Gray, baritone, Bernice Claire, soprano, and Noah Beery, bass. Gray and Miss Claire are appearing in their third musical talkie. Beery sang on the stage before entering films. This is his first film singing role. Inez Courtney and others, including a chorus of 1,000, will be heard in the color

ADVISE EVERYONE WITH GRAY HAIR TO USE LEA'S HAIR TONIC

Brings Back Youthful Color and Beauty and Makes One Look Younger

IT IS EASY TO USE AND WORKS LIKE MAGIC

"My hair first began turning gray when I was only 25 years old and it made me seem much older than I was so I used several preparations but none were satisfactory until I tried Lea's Hair Tonic. It is positively wonderful," declares Margaret Valinchus, well known photographer, room 22 Veltzmann Bldg., Wilkes Barre, Pa.

"After using Lea's for about four days I began noticing a change in my hair and so I kept it up for four weeks every night and it was just like magic the way it gradually changed right back to my old youthful color. I certainly advise anyone who is gray to use Lea's Hair Tonic. You look so much younger and better groomed," continued Miss Valinchus.

Thousands of men and women prematurely gray have found that Lea's Hair Tonic quickly stimulates and revives a vigorous growth and healthy condition of the scalp and hair. It is a clear, stainless preparation one may use at home.

If the reader's hair is thin, bald or of drought or of uneven color or gray in spots, let them obtain a bottle of Lea's Hair Tonic at the drug store and use per directions. Results are absolutely guaranteed or money refunded by the nationally known Lea Tonic Co., Grandwood, Md., who will mail you a bottle on receipt of dollar bill, or check or stamps, if your druggist hasn't it.

Despondent Woman Commits Suicide

PORTLAND, Aug. 13. (AP)

—Mrs. Genevieve Hurst, 26, ran into a neighbor's flower garden and shot herself through the heart yesterday. A moment before she had inflicted a slight skull wound in her bedroom. In health, authorities said, caused the suicide.

Her husband left for Seattle last night to obtain employment. Besides her husband, she is survived by one small daughter.
