LEGAL NOTICE

SUMMONS
No. 2215 Equity
In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Klamath.

Marjorie A. Salts, Plaintiff, vs.
Coscar J. Salts, Defendant.

To Coscar J. Salts, Defendant:
In the Name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before the 25th day of September, A. D. 1930, and if you fail to so appear and answer, or want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for in her complaint.

To-wit: For a decree of absolute divorce of and from you upon the grounds of desertion continuing for a period of more than one year immediately preceding the filing of the complaint herein, and that she be awarded the care, custody and control of Conley Salts, and for such other relief as the Court may deem meet and equitable.

This summons is served upon you by publication thereof for four successive weeks (five insertions) in The Evening Herald, a daily newspaper of general circulation in Klamath County, Oregon, pursuant to an Order of the Honorable W. M. Duncan, Judge of the Circuit Court of Klamath County, Oregon, made and entered on the 22nd day of August, 1930, the first publication to be on the 23rd day of August, 1930, and the last publication thereof to be made on the 20th day of September, 1930.

Today In Klamath's Theatres

AT THE PELICAN

George Bancroft, the mighty thrillman, is coming to the Pelican Theatre again. This time the burly Bancroft, who has become a man among men in screendom, will be seen and heard as Joe Forliati, the steel worker who fights his way to success as a building construction contractor. The picture, "Ladies Love Brutes," is based on the original play, "Pardon My Glove," by Zoe Akins. It was adapted for the screen by Waldemar Young and Herman J. Mankiewicz. According to the fascinating plot, Bancroft, having attained a moderate amount of wealth, decides that he now needs social position. He makes a play for Mary Astor, young society matrou. But now comes the villain, purveyed by Stanley Fields, a racketeering labor agitator, and the critical moment finds Bancroft with a big decision to make. He must choose death for his own little boy or for the child of the woman he loves. It doesn't take the mighty George long to decide that momentous crises are best overcome by the fistcliff method, and he plunges into the battle with Fields and his toadies with telling and stirring effect. The climax is not what you imagine—for Bancroft does not win the girl. All in all it is a great picture, with a great cast. Stanley Fields played "Dorgan," the Detroit sambler, in "Streets of Chance." Mary Astor is the society girl. She was seen in "The Rough Riders." Fredric March, who played opposite Mary Brian in "The Marriage Playground" and opposite Ruth Chatterton in "Sarah and Son," is seen and heard here in the role of a young society blood. Others in splendid character parts are Freddie Burke, Frederick and David Durand as the two boys; Cloud Auland, one of the stars of "Three Live Ghosts," as a society tailor; Ferike Boros, a veteran of the legit, as Bancroft's mother, and Lawford Davidson, who played Tristan in "The Vagabond King." "Ladies Love Brutes" comes to the Pelican Theatre Sunday.

AT THE PINE TREES

Many sequences of "Tiger Rose" by Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production which comes to the Pine Tree Theatre Sunday are marked by their dramatic silences.

The picture was filmed for the most part out of doors, in the deep pine woods near Yosemite, and against the magnificent lakes and vistas and rushing streams of Arrowhead and the High Sierras.

At such moments the effects are greatly enhanced by the murmuring of the pines, the splash and rumble of the river rapids, the lapping of the waves against the shore, and the faint splash of a canoe paddle—all of these sounds being realistically reproduced by the Vitaphone.

Monte Blue and Lupe Velez are co-starred in "Tiger Rose," which was directed by George Fitzmaurice. It is a screen adaptation of Willard Mack's famous play, "H. B. Warner, Bull Montana, Gaston Glass and Rint-Tin-Tin are also prominently cast in this picture.
