AT THE PINE TREE

Rin-Tin-Tin's love of a scrap is quite as violent as that of any alley mutt. His bump of pug-nacity is over developed if anything, and that is why "The Man Hunter," his latest Warner Brothers and Vitaphone feature, showing now at the Pine Tree theater, is a talkie after his own heart. In it he has several of the best free-for-all tussles of his career.

Inexperienced players are frequently alarmed at the realistic way in which Rinty goes about even a make believe fight. At no time during the making of a picture does this remarkable dog understand more thoroughly his part than during a general commotion. He assumes the most vicious expression and appears to be literally determined to tear his victims to pieces.

"The Man Hunter" is one of the most dramatic stories ever given to Rin-Tin-Tin. It deals with love and villainy on the African Ivory coast, where passions are strong and dangers many. Those who love a thrilling story as well as the millions who know Rinty as the master of all dog stars, will welcome his new contribution to the screen.

Ross Lederman directed "The Man Hunter," and Charles Delaney, John Loder and Nora Lane head the impressive supporting cast. Hundreds of jungle savages are in the scene.

AT THE PELICAN

Once upon a time Frederico March was the husband of Ruth Chatterton. Now he is a bachelor in love with her.

For anything can happen in the films. March was Miss Chatterton's husband in "The Dummy," famous comedy-drama of nearly a little doubt in our mind that Junior Coghlan is the logical successor to Jackie Coogan. This 12-year-old youngster has remarkable ability that expresses itself in thorough naturalness on the screen and a personality that wins you from the moment he is introduced as the sturdy little leader of a "gas house gang." Later, when he becomes a student at a military academy he is the type of youngster of which any parent would be proud.

It was a happy thought when the decision was made to feature Junior and Louis Wolheim together. Wolheim, who heretofore has been one of the finest "heavy" in pictures, proves that he has the ability to bring a tear as well, for there are scenes between him and Junior that rank with the finest bits of sentiment that the screen has ever afforded.

AT THE VOX

"Party Girl," the Tiffany all-talking production now showing at the Vox theatre, is an intriguing film, showing the "party girl" method of American salesmanship which has grown up since the War. Here is something different at last after a perfect deluge of hackneyed journalistic and backstage films.

What happens when a young boy and girl get mixed up with the kind of women who make professional whoopee for pay in order to get business for mercantile houses, is revealed in this frank feature production. The direction by Victor Halperin was handled with brilliancy and finesse, a job to be proud of.

Outstanding performances are offered by Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., as the boy, Jeanette Loff as his sweetheart, Marie Prevost as a "whoopie queen" and John St. Polis as a righteous manufacturer seeking to stamp out the evil "party girl" system. But the outstanding performance is given by a newcomer, Judith Harrie, one of the most famous artist's models in America, who year ago. He is her lover in "Sarah and Son," Paramount's newest romance-drama, which is being shown on the talking silver screen at the Pelican theater.

"Sarah and Son" is a story of a poverty-stricken young singer who is deserted by her husband and who is forced to suffer separation from her infant son, whom she loves very much. She shapes her destiny for one purpose—the reunion of herself and her boy. After years of toil she becomes a successful operatic singer. With the means to support her child in luxury she finds herself confronted with the intrigue of a married couple who have adopted the boy after the death of her errant husband.

In her battle to retrieve the child she is aided by a young lawyer who soon becomes her lover. It is their final heroic effort to gain custody of the child, now 11 years old, which forms the exciting and engrossing climax for this powerful film.

Miss Chatterton plays the role of Sarah. Philippe de Lacy is cast as her 11-year-old son.

AT THE LIBERTY

Crammed with action and drama of the sort that appeals to young and old alike, with Junior Coghlan playing a real two-fisted representative of Young America, "Square Shoulders" opened a two-day run at the Liberty theater yesterday.

WAS SLAVE TO LAXATIVES

If YOU have constipation, read this letter from Mr. John J. Mulligan, 800 So. Cicero Avenue, Chicago, Ill.:

"I tried numerous remedies in vain. Finally in desperation, I turned to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. The results were remarkable—in fact the next day long-hoped-for relief became a happy reality."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is now improved in texture and taste. As good to eat as it is healthful. Two tablespoons daily are guaranteed to prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. In stubborn cases, use ALL-BRAN with each meal. ALL-BRAN also supplies needed iron to the system.

Delicious with milk or cream, fruits or honey added. At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

essays her first film role in this appearance, and from whom, doubtless, much will be heard in the future.

"Party Girl" is a courageous and unique film, exposing a very prevalent evil in our present-day business life.

Boy Injured When Struck by Motor

Rodney Gravelle, age 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gravelle, was struck by a motorcycle on the corner of Tenth and Main streets about 5 o'clock last evening.

When taken to a nearby physician's office by Irwin McKenzie of the Weyerhaeuser Timber company, the child was unconscious, but apparently was not seriously injured since a check of the city hospitals last night disclosed that he was not a patient in either.

The motorcycle was driven by Meri Sydman, 17, of Olney, and Gordon Brunton was riding with him.

The average yearly income of India's population is about $40.
