Zepha Rogers Guest Of Honor at Many Social Affairs

"Weather forecast—Just a little shower for Zepha Rogers"—was the message which invitations, sent to close friends of Miss Rogers' friends, bore. Mrs. Clarence Underwood and Mrs. Charles Martin were hostesses at the novel "Hobohemian Shower" which honored Zepha. It was given Thursday evening at the beautiful Underwood residence on North Seventh street.

The home was transformed into a hothouse, and each one of the guests was garbed in tattered and old clothing.

In the living room the home atmosphere was carried out. A cluster of yellow chrysanthemums was placed under a softly shaded light. In one corner of the room was a large basket of assorted flowers, in which the yellow tinge was predominant. On the other side of the room were vases and jardinières of autumn flowers of the same color tones.

The dining room was transformed as if by magic into a jungle. Silver maple was placed on the walls and ceiling of the room to carry out the effect. A long table occupied the center of the room, and the tinware and dishes were in true hobo style. Battered tin cups, plates, and other dishes were used for the guests.

The centerpiece of the table was a rock pile, under which there was a make believe fire. Over the fire was a steaming pot of weller. Bean pots occupied places at the end of the table, while down the center was a row of beer bottles in which lighted candles were placed. The place cards were on the cans.

After the guests had been served in the novel fashion it was announced that Zepha would serve dessert. In one corner of the room was a huge rubbish pile of assorted tin cans and all kinds of old battered up packages. These were found to contain scores of pretty gifts for the bride-to-be.

After luncheon the hoboes amused themselves "Rattling the bones," a game at which Mrs. Leslie Rogers and Mrs. Wilson. A Jones tied for first prize. Mrs. Rogers was awarded the prize after a play off.

The evening was concluded with several games of bridge.

Another lovely shower at which Miss Zepha Rogers was also the honored guest, was given Wednesday evening at the Hershberger home on North Tenth street. Miss Margaret Lindsey and Mrs. Babe Green were hostesses on this occasion.

Guests hidden to this shower were Zepha Rogers, Hope Gordon, Mrs. Steve Sabo, Mrs. Addie Maier, Mary Wilson, Glover Higdon, Miriam Wortley, Sybil Bamber, Dorothy Stevens, Mrs. Joe Knudsen, Inez Dalton, Ruth Van Doren, Marjorie Rich, Marjorie Lindsey, Ruth Green and Alice Hershberger.

Business Women Tell of Vacations
