GRAIN MAN DENOUNCES FARM ACT

Secretary National Grain Dealers Assn. Says Plan Is Unsound

PRIVATE BUSINESS IS PLACED IN DANGER

Former Canadian Minister Speaks on Canada's Pool Methods

CHICAGO, Oct. 13, (AP)—Charles Quinn of Toledo, secretary of the grain and feed dealers' national association, today described the agricultural marketing act as wholly unsound and inadequate and denounced President Hoover's plan of farm relief in an address to 1,000 members at the thirty fourth annual convention.

"It will avail us nothing to denounce the federal farm board for what it has attempted to do," Quinn said. "One must go back to the marketing act itself to appreciate what has happened. The measure is wholly unsound, wholly inadequate and wholly unsuited to the psychology of the American people.

Business Jeopardized

"Making allowance for President Hoover's post election position, the fact remains his solution is no solution at all but a most dangerous advance toward the destruction of private business, and his plan strikes at its very heart.

"It is estimated that one fourth of the American business men are farm middlemen. The farm bill would eliminate them in a wholesale manner, driving them into other occupations and providing no compensation for the loss of their investments.

Near Sovietism

"Fairminded men in grain and seed trades recognize the right of producers to organize and distribute or process their products. Grain dealers know their protests would be unavailing. It is not the entrance of farmers in the handling of farm products that causes the protests, but it its the means employed by President Hoover and the unfair, unwarranted methods used to displace a system that has proved its value to the country.

"If the act is not Sovietism, it is at least its first cousin. Unless the act is repealed or declared unconstitutional, the nation may as well prepare itself for the ultimate destruction of the principles which have guided us in our attempt to sustain a government that would allow every man to build his own fortune unhampered and uncabined by government interference so long as he kept within the law."

Pools Unsatisfactory

The Hon. Frank Oliver of Ottawa, former Canadian minister of the interior, described the Canadian Pool, interspersed with criticism of its policy. He declared that under present world conditions of production and transportation the producer of no single country could permanently exhance world prices by holding crop surpluses off the market. The pool policy of raising prices by withholding supply through unified control, he said, had been tried with the result a collapse of prices to the point of agricultural disaster with far reaching injury to the economic structure of the country.

Girl Is Found Dead In Room Of Puglist

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13 (AP)—Sheriff's deputies launched an investigation today into circumstances surrounding the death of Hazel Cole, 20, whose body was found yesterday in a Culver City apartment occupied by Bobby La Salle, local pugilist. Culver City police reported La Salle was too intoxicated to be questioned and a physician said the girl apparently died of alcoholism. The boxer was held for questioning.

Neil Murphy, who notified the police, told them he and Miss May Lavine, 17, La Salle and Miss Cole attended a beach dancing party Saturday night. Afterwards they went to La Salle's apartment, where they had a "few drinks." Murphy said he left early Sunday morning to take Miss Lavine home, and returned to find Miss Cole apparently dead. Culver City police turned over to sheriff's deputies, eight bottles of liquor and numerous empty battles, which they found in the apartment.

The boxer has won three fights by knockouts here recently, and lost a decision last Friday night at Hollywood to Johnny Lamar.

Search for Lost Man Quickens As Clue Discovered

ROSEBURG, Ore., Oct. 13 (AP)—The search for Emery James Salem policeman, will be abandoned today or tomorrow unless some definite trace of him is discovered, according to word telephoned to Roseburg today by Fred Asam, district forest ranger in charge of the search.

ROSEBURG, Oct. 13 (AP)—Discovery of a small pyramid of stones in the Cougar creek canyoon yesterday spurred the search for Emery (Cherokee) James, Salem patrolman, who disappeared a week ago today while hunting in the Little river district. The rock cairn was about a foot high. Twigs had been laid across its top.

Bloodhounds were taken to the cairn but could not pick up the scent. The position of the branches on the rock pile were taken to indicate the direction James had taken. He had been there probably three days before.

Systematic search of the country was underway and forest service men have been maintaining a patrol. Searchers are convinced James did not leave the Cougar creek canyon.

a practical and technical viewpoint have never been more efficient. Commodity prices have declined drastically, it is true, but we are now apparently nearing the final stage of that readjustment.

"Our leading industries are in a sound financial and operating condition."

The committee on foreign securities reported to the convention that loans on foreign securities had increased in the first six months of 1930 nearly a hundred million dollars over 1929. The report pointed out that in 1929 loans on foreign securities dropped from $1,426,000,000 to $706,000,000, but in the first six months of this year they rose to $894,000,000.

The drop in 1929, the report said, was due to the abnormal condition of the American money market discouraging foreign loan seekers.

"This country's future prosperity," the report said, "depends upon the restoration of sound foreign credit conditions."

Dan Murphy Of Merrill Dies

Word of the death of Dan C. Murphy, pioneer resident of Merrill who passed away in a San Francisco hospital Saturday, has reached his friends here. Mr. Murphy had made his home in the Merrill district, where he was a farmer, for 15 or 20 years. Details of his death were not learned here but it was known he had gone to the south several months ago for his health.

Mr. Murphy is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nancy Murphy, and two children, all of whom reside at Merrill.

He was a prominent member of the Modern Woodmen of America, 10203 Klamath Falls, and was well known here and also in Merrill. Funeral services will probably be held in the south, where his family is at the present time, although definite information was not received.

Fame and fortune await the man who will arise in this crisis and show the country how to have liquor without saloons or drunks or grafters.

Two Men Appear

Miss Roberts, whose real name is Marion Strasnick, and who said her home was Boston, told police Diamond was in her room when the telephone operator called to say two men downstairs wanted to see Diamond.

She said they came up and Diamond took them into his own room. She said she ran down to the fourth floor and did not hear the shots.

Career Is Checkered

Mrs. Diamond, who came by plane from their summer home at Acra, N. Y., told police her husband had been in New York since last Thursday.

Diamond, who has been arrested 21 times on charges ranging from first degree murder to suspicion, arrived from Europe by way of Philadelphia where he was landed from a freighter after his deportation by German police.

Was Rothstein's Guard

His police record began when he was sent to a reformatory for burglary at 17. That was the only conviction against him despite numerous arrests and indictments.

For a time he was body guard for Arnold Rothstein, gambler, whose slaying in the Park Central Hotel in November 1928 was similar to the shooting of Diamond.

counter to their wishes, their tastes, their needs, or their prejudices. Something more is necessary.

Repeating the old quotation that "it is more important to form good habits than to frame good laws," Mr. Wickersham said prevention through education of the young and enlightened treatment of the young is the best remedy against crime.

Dissatisfaction Is General

"Everywhere throughout the land there are deep stirrings of dissatisfaction with existing conditions," he said, "with the laws and their administration, and with the prescribed methods of dealing with those found to have violated them."

"There is no doubt that the great volume and constantly widening catergories of legislative prohibitions, with attendant penalties for their disregard, tends to create a contempt for law," Wickersham said. "Yet much of this legislation is probably unescapable."

He suggested it "were well that public sentiment should be aroused to prevent unnecessary law making."

Hitler Is Hailed

When the first Fascist, Albrecht, was called he responded, "Present. Hail Hitler".

The first real climax came when, at 3:20 p. m., the Hitlerite Goebels, wanted by the police for failure to appear as defendant in a libel suit entered the chamber and called out to the Communists on the left, "Of course I am sabotaging your Bourgeois Justice."

As the names of the Communist women delegates were called the Fascists vented their contempt for "petticoat politics" with falsetto cries in imitation of the roaster's "kikerikee," which is the German way of saying "cock-adoodledoo."

(The Fascists had no women candidates in the September election).

Court To Pass On Federal Control Of Broadcasting

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13, (AP)—The supreme court announced today it would hear next month two cases challenging the constitutionality of federal regulation of radio broadcasting and communication.

The cases are those brought by the American Bond and Mortgage Company and Trianon Inc., and by Clinton R. White, both attacking federal control.

The White case will be reached in November and under the court's announcement of today, the other will be heard at the same time.

The question at issue is the validity of the act of congress which asserted federal control over radio broadcasting. This law under which the Federal Radio commission was established is based on the jurisdiction of the federal government over all matters relating to interstate commerce.

HOME DECORATION TALKS—NO. 15

by Fay Fraser

BOOKCASES

Mr. Dewees of Milpitas asked me to see if I could do something with his library. It was a rustic man's room with long rows of heavy, dark, cheerless bookcases. There were only two narrow windows in it.

We decided that the room could be brightened up by the careful application of color. The bookcases were a dark, dingy brown. Our problem was to introduce nothing frivolous in the color scheme, yet to make it more cheerful. We solved this by painting the bookcases with Dove Gray Flex trimmed with Ojai Gray Flex and a slight dash of brilliant Oriental Red Flex.

Mr. Dewees himself was the painter. He was afraid that the expense of having his bookcases painted would be too much. I told him that with Flex, he could paint them himself on Saturday afternoon and they would be dry that evening. He found out that I was right and that Flex requires no technical experience.

This new color finish is made especially for amateurs. It flows on as smoothly as water, yet dries in a few hours into a hard, tough, elastic finish, as smooth as porcelain. Flex is non-chipping. Water proof. It is ideal for woodwork, furniture and automobiles. I have been able to get it at most all good paint and hardware stores.
