K. SUGARMAN
Celebrating 25 Successful Years

Twenty-five years ago with the vigor of youth and strength searching for an undeveloped country to make a start in life, K. Sugarman was informed of a town called Linkville, Oregon. On arriving in the small village he proceeded to locate in a lively barn. The population then being about twelve hundred people. Full of ambition, and civic pride he was determined to be numbered among the pioneers in helping Linkville grow. Today, after twenty-five years of uninterrupted success his fond dreams have become a reality. His business has grown from the small inconspicuous place in which he started to the largest store of its kind in this city. He still maintains his position as active head of the organization which he founded and which still bears his name, he is here devoting his personal and exclusive time as he has always done, to the affairs of business. . . . approachable on any matter . . . interested, vitally interested too in seeing that customers of the firm are accorded every courtesy, the best of service, and complete satisfaction in every respect.

K. Sugarman now growing older in the service takes this opportunity in heartily thanking all his loyal patrons who have helped him reach this twenty-fifth milestone of success. He pledges you further, until his expiration as a merchant, the same wealth of selection, the same helpful service, the same economy of prices, the same generous terms, which has marked his store the most outstanding firm in Southern Oregon.
