Today in Klamath's Theatres

Una Merkel and John Holland in "The Eyes of the World"

Beautiful romance, powerful drama and natural scenic effects have been combined in an unusually entertaining motion picture by Henry King whose "Eyes of the World" opens at the Pine Tree theatre today with Una Merkel, John Holland, Nance O'Neill and Brandon Hurst in the featured cast.

The story is placed in the mountain country of California and unfolds the romance of a simple maiden of the hills who meets and falls in love with a young artist from the cities.

Gloria Swanson in "What a Widow"

Gloria Swanson in a modern comedy, with modernistic sets of revolutionary design, smart clothing, three new popular songs and a supporting cast headed by Owen Moore, Lew Cody and Margaret Livingston. The picture, many by the star herself, is the ingredients of "What a Widow" booked for showing at the Pelican theatre beginning today.

In the title role Miss Swanson appears as a young and attractive widow, filled with an ambition to make up for years of boredom, seeking romance in Paris. While Owen Moore has the featured role as a young attorney he finds himself with considerable competition, for among those eager to aid the widow in her determination to live and learn are a night club dancer, a Russian violinist and a Spanish baritone, played by Lew Cody, Gregory Gaye and Herbert Braggitt. The cast also includes, in addition to Miss Livingston, Adrienne D'Ambricourt, William Holden, Nella Walker and Daphne Pollard.

Miss Swanson's clothes establish a new high mark of magnificence and the wardrobe also is the most comprehensive she has ever assembled for a single picture. The widow Tam having been provided with costumes suitable for every conceivable sort of social activity. The various ensembles, including jewelry and other accessories, were specially designed for the picture, many by the star herself.

Vincent Youmans, Broadway composer responsible for such hits as "Hallelujah," wrote Miss Swanson's songs, with lyrics by George Wagner and J. Russell Robinson. The numbers are "Love Is Like a Song," "Say Out, Charlie," and "You're The One." Special orchestrations were written by Dr. Hugo Felix and Josiah Zero acted as musical director during recording.

AT THE RAINBOW

Janet Gaynor, Charles Farrell and David Butler, the combination which made "Sunny Side Up," the outstanding screen musical production of the past season, have done it again.

"High Society Blues," which had its first showing at the Rainbow theatre last night, is even better entertainment than "Sunny Side Up." It has Miss Gaynor and Farrell as its stars and Butler directed.

This latest starring vehicle for the most popular team of screen sweethearts, has a much stronger story than their last previous production and interest, aroused by the opening sequence, holds until the final fade-out undiminished.

Five song numbers are sung by the stars and everyone of them, to this reviewer at least, sounds like a potential song hit.

Miss Gaynor and Farrell sing charmingly; their rendition of "Just Like a Story Book" winning especial commendation from last night's audience.

A strong supporting cast includes the famous William Collier, sr., Hedda Hopper, Joyce Compton, Louise Fazenda and Lucian Littlefield.

"High Society Blues" is excellent entertainment which will prove pleasing to all classes of theatre goers. It is recommended without reservation.

WOMEN DRIVERS BEST—LONDON Women automobile drivers, according to Stenson Cooke, secretary of the Automobile Association, are better than men. "I am all for the women driver," he says. "We have 430,000 members and 50,000 women drivers. I'll put the 50,000 women drivers against any 50,000 of the remaining men drivers any time."

LONDON—The pen points in the Bournemouth post office were very unsatisfactory. So officials equipped the pens with non-corrosive and almost unbreakable points. That they were very satisfactory was shown the next day when only two of the points were left in about two dozen holders.
