Tobacco Company Places Advertising

The American Tobacco Company and its subsidiary the American Cigar company open the new year by placing in the newspapers of the country the largest Lucky Strike advertising campaign and the largest Cremo cigar advertising campaign in the history of either company.

"The great growth in the sale of these popular brands Lucky Strike and Cremo—unprecedented in the tobacco industry—has been made possible by the power of newspaper advertising.

"We are again in 1931 increasing our newspaper advertising expenditure because we believe that this year like 1930 will be a year of bigger business with us. Frankly we do appreciate the power of public opinion generated through proper and intelligent newspaper advertising," George W. Sill, president of the American Tobacco company, stated.
