

"It" Girl Ordered Not to Star with Gary in New Film

Star Is Replaced With Sylvia Sidney. New York Girl; Miss De Boe Will Be Called in Her Own Defense.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 16 (AP)—Clara Bow was removed from the position of a co-star with Gary Cooper in the film, "City Streets," by officials of the Paramount-Public corporation today. In the part that was to have been filled by the red-headed "It" girl, Sylvia Sidney, recently of the New York stage, will appear.

The announcement was of great interest to the film colony for it marked the first time since Clara became a starring figure in all her flamboyant style that she had been replaced in a picture.

No other word came from the officials and they would not comment on a bit of testimony which was written into the trial of Daisy De Boe, ex-secretary to the actress, on grand theft charges. It was:

"I wanted to keep Clara out of the paper because one more slam in the papers and Clara is through in pictures."

Studio officials said they knew nothing about a report that Miss Bow desired to go on a vacation because she was in a nervous condition from the rigors of the trial. The actress is under contract to Paramount, but no announcement was made concerning her future activities with the studio.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16 (AP)—Cancelled checks, hundreds of them, by which the state contends it will prove Daisy De Boe embezzled $16,000 from her erstwhile employer, Clara Bow, screen star, were the focal point of interest in the trial of the former secretary again today.

George Armstrong, auditor, sat in the witness stand most of yesterday describing the checks in detail while the crowds that flocked to the courtroom for a glimpse of the red-headed actress during the previous four days dwindled away to a handful.

The checks, Armstrong explained, were a record of the special Clara Bow account, to which Miss De Boe had access for two years as Clara's secretary, and Miss De Boe's account. He said the record was not complete, in that checks amounting to approximately $45,000 have disappeared.

Marjorie Fairchild, district attorney's investigator, who first questioned Miss De Boe and who obtained jewelry and love letters and telegrams from her safety deposit box, had a brief hearing. She described some of the things found in the box. There was a diamond studded vanity case she said, which Miss De Boe said she took from the actress' home because "Clara let her dogs play with it." Miss Fairchild testified the defendant freely admitted taking the things "because it was so easy to get them from a careless child like Clara."

Armstrong said some of the cancelled checks bore such legends as "$3 Clara borrowed from me," "$2.50 for makeup for Clara," and "$50 Clara's birthday present to me." He said all he found to represent the missing $45,000 were a few check stubs marked "not used."

Coles Grocery Moves To Larger Quarters

Coles Grocery store has found it necessary to move into larger quarters in order to keep pace with their growing business and to increase their varied stock and will open in their new location at Ninth and Main street Monday morning.

For several years the store has been located at 209 South Ninth street. Their new store is being renovated and splendid display facilities are being arranged.

The largest collection of American theatrical photographs is said to be owned by Albert Davis, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

LEGGIE HOLDS PRODUCTION MUST BE CUT

URBANA, Ill., Jan. 16 (AP)—Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm board, in an address prepared for delivery on the annual farm and home week program of the University of Illinois said today that United States wheat growers "have no alternative but to produce no more than can be consumed at home if they want a better price."

"The world wheat market is decidedly gloomy for the American grower," Mr. Legge said. "There already is too much wheat, with production increasing in some of the exporting countries and Russia coming back into the market faster than any of us thought possible. There is no way to get rid of surplus American wheat at a price below the present domestic level."

Legge said it was too early to say whether the "benefits of the grain stabilization corporation's efforts to keep price of wheat to the American farmer from 20 to 25 cents higher than the world market price will be permanent."

"Such stabilization operations cannot cope with continuous surpluses," he said. "The only solution is to adjust production downward to domestic consumption."

Legge said he had information of a "widespread drive" by grain brokers using financial pressure in an attempt to break down the stabilizing operations by calling the situation.

"However," the board head continued, "it is immaterial to us how this result is arrived at but present conditions certainly justify action on the part of congress to meet the present emergency."

"Just how this relief is to be afforded is perhaps not material. Some time ago in writing Senator Capper, I suggested that unless there was an improvement in world conditions we would ask for a temporary embargo on wheat imports; however, just as strong an argument could be made on other grains, including beans."

"Some of these commodities are coming into the country on a basis that seems as though the price obtained for them would hardly pay the cost of transportation from the areas in which they are produced."

"So far there has been no improvement in world prices. Many students of the situation seem to think that there is a probability that they will still lower. I therefore hope that before the present congress adjourns they will find it possible to pass such legislation as will protect the American producer during this period of distress."

STEIWER PLANS AMENDMENT TO RAPIDS BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—An amendment to the Umatilla Rapids project bills to provide for government construction of power transmission lines on the Columbia river development, was advocated today by Senator Frederick W. Steiwer of Oregon at the final hearing on the bill before the senate and house irrigation committees.

"We ought not to ask congress to build the great dam and then leave the government at the mercy of private interests when it comes to distribution of power," Senator Steiwer declared.

Kenneth G. Harlan, Portland rate engineer, said government construction of a dam and power plant on the Columbia river without provision for power lines would be like "building an automobile and not putting wheels on it."

Several other members of the committee indicated they favored the amendment.

Senator Steiwer also suggested an amendment providing for elasticity as to the precise location and height of the dam, to avoid conflict with the army engineers' report expected June 30.

In announcing the conclusion of the hearings, Chairman Thomas of Idaho, of the senate committee, forecast committee action on the Umatilla bills "as soon as possible."

Chairman Smith of Idaho, of the house committee, said he hoped to "take this question up before the adjournment of congress and get it near the head of the calendar for the new congress."

Members of the St. Barnabas church held their annual parish meeting in the church edifice, Thursday morning.

After the meeting, the ladies of the guild served a dinner to all those present.
