Today in Klamath's Theatres

AT THE PELICAN In the supreme performance of a brilliant career, Norma Talmadge, United Artists star, makes the glamorous, haunting personality of "Du Barry, Woman of Passion." Step alive from the shadows of the past to strain enchantment.

Her portrayal of "Du Barry," whose love life was the sensation of all France, enthralled those who attended the Pelican theatre Tuesday.

The given play and extraordinary charm to the lovely milliner who brought a nation to her feet, ruled a king, and lavished the gold of the country for her whims until the red shadow of revolution swept her to disaster.

Splendid performances are given by Conrad Narell, as her soldier-lover, and William Farnum, as the king who tempted her with riches and power. This is Farnum's first appearance on the screen since his retirement because of illness at the height of his success several years ago.

Sam Taylor, producer-director, is enriching talking pictures with another classic. The settings of the drama are magnificent, a credit to the colorful imagination of William Cameron Menzies, supervising art director.

An exceptionally capable cast gives Miss Talmadge finished support. Those who appear in important roles are Ulrich Haupt, Hobart Bosworth, Edgar Norton, E. Alan Warren, Tom Ricketts, Edwin Maxwell, Gladys Fitzgerald, Oscar Apfel, Maude Truck, Henry Kolker, Eugenie Besserer, Tom Santschi and Knute Erickson.

"Du Barry, Woman of Passion" indicates that Norma Talmadge will continue the great success she has enjoyed in the silent films. An actress of deep feeling and a natural aptitude for making her effects seem natural and plausible, Miss Talmadge has been able to heighten her effect through the medium of speech achieving delicate nuances of character coloring that give a climatic abetting to all her scenes. As yet she has not been able to do so in this picture by a cast of other classic.

The Philadelphia Quakers lost 15 out of their first 16 hockey battles this season. It may be the Philly season.

Stribling and Carnera have met twice, and each has won a bout on a foul. Surely there ought to be another bout to see who's the best fowler.

Al Engen put on his kick • 247 feet. O'Goody says he • thinks he could do it, too, • with a few kicks.

Who remembers the ancient days when there used to be fly-weight fighters? It would take a half dozen modern flyweights to make a third rate heavy-weight, and we already have too many of that sort of heavies.

Judging from the way heavy-weight wrestling matches are being promoted these days, the affairs threaten to become public.

There are nearly 6000 golf courses in the country. Portland isn't even counting the pint-sized ones; all those 6000 are the regulation full quart-size in every way.

National Forest Timber for Sale The bidders will be received by the Regional Forester, Portland, Oregon, up to and including February 20, 1931, for all the live timber marked or designated for cutting, and all merchantable dead timber located on an area embracing about 1,280 acres within Secs. 26, 27, 28, 33, 34 and 35, T. 25 S., R. 6 E., W. 3 M., on the slope of Pelican Butte, Crater National Forest, Oregon, estimated to be 10,440,000 feet B.M., more or less, of western yellow, western white and sugar pine, and an unestimated amount of Douglas fir and other species to be cut at the option of the purchaser. No bid of less than $5 per M. feet for Douglas fir, and $7.50 per M. feet for white fir and other species will be considered. $5,000 must be deposited with each bid, to be applied on the purchase price, refunded, or retained in part as liquidated damages, according to conditions of sale. The right to reject any and all bids reserved. Before bids are submitted, full information concerning the timber, the condition of sale, and the submission of bids should be obtained from the Forest Supervisor, Medford, Oregon, or the Regional Forester, Portland, Oregon. 121-F4
