ENGLAND AND ITAL REACH AN AGREEMENT

ROME, Feb. 28. (AP)—Great Britain and Italy today reached an accord in principle for the settlement of all naval problems left pending by the London conference of last year.

The accord will be submitted to the French foreign minister, Aristide Briand, in Paris tomorrow, and if he accepts it a five-power treaty carrying limitation of all categories of naval tonnage will emerge. Inasmuch as Foreign Minister Arthur Henderson, of Great Britain, had already reached an agreement in principle with the French before initiating the conversations here, M. Briand's acceptance of the British-Italian accord was expected almost as a matter of course.

Mr. Henderson himself was so hopeful that he said a complete solution of the differences between France and Italy would be reached in Paris "if the talks there are as satisfactory as they have been here."

He left for Paris, with A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, and British military experts, two hours after the negotiations had been finished, and hopes tomorrow afternoon to obtain full agreement with the French. When that is accomplished the text of the new accord will be submitted to the governments of the United States, Japan and the British dominions signatory to the 1925 partition treaty of London for their final approval and the elaboration of a five-power limitation document.

If today's accord is accepted by the French and written into the blank spaces of the London treaty, it will settle, at least until 1935, long standing differences between France and Italy over the relative size of their fleets.

PARIS, Feb. 28. (AP)—The French foreign office today announced an "accord in principle" had been reached at Rome on pending naval questions by France, Great Britain and Italy. French officials told the Associated Press today they expected that the "naval accord in principle" would be followed by adoption of France and Italy to the London naval treaty.
