

CASE OF MRS. FOWLER TO GO TO JURY SOON

BAKEM, Ore., March 21. (AP)—Admitting the woman's records show a shortage of more than $112,000, attorneys for Mrs. Emma Fowler, former city treasurer of La Grande, attributed the discrepancy to a "bookkeeping error."

Mrs. Fowler's books show a balance unaccounted for of $112,000—we admit that right off the bat. R. J. Green of the defense, declared in his concluding argument.

Carl Helm, county prosecutor, read from the records to show that J. L. Soule, defense accountant, had admitted a book shortage of more than $112,000, and contended the records failed to account for $45,000 since the beginning of 1929.

The defense rested late yesterday. Arguments to the jury started as soon as court convened today and were to continue several hours. The court's charge to the jury was to require nearly an hour. It appeared improbable the case would reach the jury until late in the afternoon.

HUNDREDS UNABLE TO VIEW SHOW

Continued from Page One

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club, who sponsored the show jointly with the Klamath Falls merchants.

The question of what to wear was approached from all sides as scenes after scenes, revealing the latest in spring apparel for men, women and children, was brought to view.

Mrs. Average Woman watched the selection of spring fashions carefully, and found difficulty in choosing her spring wardrobe. So many beautiful things, each as lovely as the other, and each the pinnacle of fashion and correct style, were shown.

For sport wear she picked out a tennis frock of white pique, designed with a rouser skirt, and with belt and pocket cleverly applied with tennis rackets. She also decided that the just must have the jaunty riding habit which was modeled during the sport scene.

For matinee and afternoon wear, Mrs. Average Woman selected a pastel printed dress with flare skirt which reached below the calf, and a fitted lapel jacket. The hat she selected for this outfit was of the new double-brim type, faced with tiny rosebuds, and so flattering.

Very, very nice were the hostess pajamas which she chose for entertaining Sunday evenings. They were of pale pink print, with very full trousers and a clever bolero jacket.

For lounging, a rayon ensemble of black, decorated with gayly colored butterflies, was chosen. A dazzling gold brocade, almost too sophisticated for anything but the most formal ball, was irresistible.

Formal Gowns Shown A dazzling gold brocade, almost too sophisticated for anything but the most formal ball, was irresistible. This was shown with one of the short fur jackets which were featured with most of the formal. Many of the gowns were shown with matching velvet jackets trimmed with luxurious white fur.

Beautiful Bridal Scene "Pretty as a picture" was the bride scene which closed the evening's presentation. The bride was gowned in a white, floor length gown, and wore a tall veil, which was carried by two youngsters in black and white.

Wedding Music Musical selections by Harry Borel's orchestra enhanced the evening's program, and Miss Ruth Cofer carried the audience with the solo, "Indian Love Call."

Will Refund Money Jack Franny was announced for the evening, and a romance interwoven in the scenes written by Mrs. J. T. Welch, was read by Mrs. Emil Droher. Miss Lillie Darby was general chairman in charge of the affair.

Several tiny models, Bobby and Nell Abbott, Mary Yadden-

Pelican Will Present New Attraction

Music, mirth and song will predominate in programs to be presented by Harry George, of Columbia record fame, with his Music Masters, at the Pelican Theatre next week. Announcement of this remarkable act, which is in the same category as those shown in the largest theatres in the United States was made by the management of the Pelican today.

George plays on the heart strings of his hearers with his quartette production of "My Little Quadrone." From a hot number he abruptly changes to the classics, such as the wild Hungarian dances of Brahms which never fail to stir the blood of music lovers.

There is a verve and swing to his presentations which holds an audience spellbound. The setting for this stupendous act was especially designed for the Music Masters, and the marvelous setting enhances the music which of itself needs no embellishment.

Church Council Gives Approval To Birth Control

Continued from Page One

W. A. Newell of Greenboro, N. C. The committee unanimously agreed "as to the necessity," therefore, "for some form of effective control of the size of the family and spacing of children, and consequently of control of conception. It is recognized by all churches and all physicians."

The causes of such necessity were listed as "too frequent and too numerous pregnancies, economic considerations in poor families, and the problems of over-population."

Differ as to Method The committee was also in unanimous agreement that "sex union between husbands and wives as an expression of mutual affection, without relation to procreation, is right. This is recognized by the Scriptures, by all branches of the church, by social and medical science and by the good sense and idealism of mankind."

On the method of attaining these aims, however, the minority group dissented in the following words: "In view of the widespread doubt among Christian people of the morality of the use of contraceptives, and the scruples experienced by many in making use of them, it appears to these members of the committee to be the plain duty of the Christian church, when control of conception is necessary, to uphold the standard of abstinence as the ideal, recognizing it as a counsel of perfection, and that Christian morals are much more exalted than is generally supposed."

Catholics Oppose Control The report was criticized in statements by the Rt. Rev. John J. Dunn, Roman Catholic vicar general and bishop auxiliary of New York, and by Dr. Frederick H. Kaebel, president of the United Lutheran church in America. The Roman Catholic church is not affiliated with the federal council of churches and the Lutheran church has only a "consultative" membership.

Bishop Dunn cited the pope's recent encyclical on marriage: "Since the conjugal act is destined primarily by nature for the begetting of children, those who abstain from it deliberately frustrate its natural end and purpose and act against nature and commit a deed which is shameful and intrinsically vicious."

Lecture Series Comes to Close A series of lectures for lecturers of Granges and all other interested Grangers which has been held for the past three nights closed last night after a successful school.

The meetings which were held at Henley Grange hall were attended by more than 100 Klamath citizens and Grangers who listened to lectures by D. V. Poling and Mr. F. A. Young of the Oregon State College Extension service.

All Granges in the county were represented at the meetings with lecturers Grange officers, and others interested in the work attending to hear the talks on successful Grange programs and how best to stimulate interest in Grange work.

Mr. Average Man there, also, and was shown the correct fashion for every occasion. He also selected a complete new wardrobe for the spring and summer season. Models displayed sport, street, and formal attire for men.

Mr. Average Man there, also, and was shown the correct fashion for every occasion. He also selected a complete new wardrobe for the spring and summer season. Models displayed sport, street, and formal attire for men.

Mr. Average Man there, also, and was shown the correct fashion for every occasion. He also selected a complete new wardrobe for the spring and summer season. Models displayed sport, street, and formal attire for men.

Mr. Average Man there, also, and was shown the correct fashion for every occasion. He also selected a complete new wardrobe for the spring and summer season. Models displayed sport, street, and formal attire for men.

ASST. ASTORIA P. M. SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS

ASTORIA, Ore., March 21 (AP)—An intensive search was underway today for Frank H. Peacock, 45, assistant postmaster, who disappeared Thursday after postoffice inspectors arrived here to audit accounts.

Following a preliminary audit of the books, Postal Inspectors C. W. Linebaugh and George Freeman admitted a big shortage was indicated. They would not discuss the shortage, however, saying they were awaiting additional information from Washington, D. C.

Peacock was bonded for $6,000 and it was reported unofficially this sum would not cover the shortage revealed in preliminary estimates.

Klamath Gun Club To Shoot Off Tie Sunday Forenoon

Tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock members of the Klamath Gun Club will enter another leg of the Oregonian telegraphic shoot. To date the local club has a perfect standing of one thousand per cent, but have one tie to shoot off with Corvallis.

The final round of the contest will be staged a week from Sunday.

All members of the club are urged to be present tomorrow, and a cordial invitation is extended to visitors.

Local Firm Has Good Display In Chamber Window

One of the most attractive displays ever placed in the Klamath industries window of the chamber of commerce, is the one in the window this week arranged by the White Pelican Mineral Springs company. In the center of the window is a new distilled-water fountain.

The background of the window is a colorful display of bottled goods prepared by this company. They now have 22 varieties, and are featuring the new Orange Kist line of drinks in new crinkley bottles. The bottling capacity of the company is 49 cases per day.

The background of the window is a colorful display of bottled goods prepared by this company. They now have 22 varieties, and are featuring the new Orange Kist line of drinks in new crinkley bottles.

The background of the window is a colorful display of bottled goods prepared by this company. They now have 22 varieties, and are featuring the new Orange Kist line of drinks in new crinkley bottles.

The background of the window is a colorful display of bottled goods prepared by this company. They now have 22 varieties, and are featuring the new Orange Kist line of drinks in new crinkley bottles.

The background of the window is a colorful display of bottled goods prepared by this company. They now have 22 varieties, and are featuring the new Orange Kist line of drinks in new crinkley bottles.

The background of the window is a colorful display of bottled goods prepared by this company. They now have 22 varieties, and are featuring the new Orange Kist line of drinks in new crinkley bottles.

The background of the window is a colorful display of bottled goods prepared by this company. They now have 22 varieties, and are featuring the new Orange Kist line of drinks in new crinkley bottles.

The background of the window is a colorful display of bottled goods prepared by this company. They now have 22 varieties, and are featuring the new Orange Kist line of drinks in new crinkley bottles.

The background of the window is a colorful display of bottled goods prepared by this company. They now have 22 varieties, and are featuring the new Orange Kist line of drinks in new crinkley bottles.

Freedom of Kassey Sought Under Writ of Habeas Corpus

AKRON, Ohio, March 21. (AP)—Paul Kassey, Goodyear Zeppelin mechanic charged with criminal syndicalism in connection with an alleged plot to weaken and wreck the Zeppelin in Akron, will be given a hearing on habeas corpus writ before judges of the court of appeals Monday.

Mrs. Yetta Land, attorney for Kassey, made application for the Habeas Corpus writ shortly after Judge Frank Harvey in municipal court today fixed Kassey's bond at $20,000 and set the case for hearing next Thursday.

Williams Speaks Of Klamath Falls

The open winter in the Klamath country has been a boon to the stockmen, according to D. O. Williams, cattle man, who was at Portland hotel Friday from Klamath Falls.

Far less feed than usual has been required to keep the sheep and cattle through the winter and the stock will be able to move to the ranges very early. The carry-over of hay will be large, he said.

Mr. Williams believes that Klamath Falls has suffered less from the depression than most any city in the west. The plant mills have been given strong support by the railroads. The United States has continued to develop lands in and near Klamath Falls.

"Klamath is a new country and its development has been inevitable, even in the face of poor economic conditions," Mr. Williams said. "There is more activity there today than at any time in the many years that I have lived there. With the Great Northern completing a main line connection to San Francisco, I believe that it is going to be even better."—Oregonian.

FUNERAL NOTICES

MARY RUTH AYERS Mary Ruth, the beloved infant daughter of William C. and Lois Ayers, passed away at an early hour Saturday morning, at the age of 15 days. Rev. Melville Wire officiated at the funeral services, which were held in the baby nook of the Klamath Funeral Home Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with interment following in Linkville cemetery.

ALBERT LEROY AMBERS Rev. Hornshub of the Klamath Temple officiated at the funeral services of little Albert Leroy Ambers, which were held in the baby nook of the Klamath Funeral Home Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Interment was in Linkville cemetery.

JOHN RALPH HUBBELL Final rites for John Ralph, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hubbell, will be held at the graveside in Picard cemetery at Dorris, Cal., Sunday afternoon at 2:30. The body is in the baby nook of the Klamath Funeral Home, 925 High street.

CLAUDINE FREUER Friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral services for the late Claudine Freuer, to be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the family home at Seven Springs ranch, Poe Valley, with Rev. Theodore Smith, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment will be made in the family plot in the Seafield cemetery.

ARCHIELEOUS H. MALE Friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral services for the late Archieleous H. Male, to be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home, Pine avenue at Sixth, where friends may call until Monday noon.

TREES and SHRUBS For Sale by C. H. MUELLER Call and Select Your Needs. All Stocks on Display in Front of O. R. Moeller's Greenhouse, Altamont, Opposite Fair Grounds. Nursery Phone 892-W. Res. Phone 1583-W

BUY THAT USED CAR AT THESE LOW PRICES $50.00 BUYS

1926 Star Sedan 1925 Ford Tudor 1923 Chevrolet Sedan 1924 Stude Coupe 1923 Buick Roadster 1922 Buick Touring 1925 Overland Sedan 1923 Stude Touring 1924 Ford Coupe 1925 Ford Delivery 1925 Essex Coach 1925 Ford Touring

1925 Ford Truck 1923 Jewett Coach 1926 Olds Sedan 1928 Olds Coach 1927 Star Sedan 1926 Star Coach 1926 Pontiac Coach 1926 Chrysler Coach 1926 Chrysler Sedan 1925 Buick Touring 1926 Dodge Delivery 1926 Chevrolet Coupe 1928 Essex Coach 1924 Dodge Coupe 1928 Oakland Coach White Truck

1927 Buick Sedan 1929 Dodge Sedan 1927 Chevrolet Coupe 1926 Hudson Sedan 1929 Dodge Coupe 1928 Dodge Sedan 1925 Packard Sedan 1926 Chrysler Coach 1928 Dodge Truck Mack Logger

We have cut to the bone our prices on all used cars in our stock, and we will trade and give TERMS. OSTENDORF MOTOR CO. Dodge and Plymouth Dealer Klamath Falls, Ore.

TRIANGLE AFFAIR IS REVIEWED

Continued from Page One

$550 a month. Three servants were at her command. He said he paid most of the house bills. On last Armistice day, he said, he went to Miss Loucks' apartment about noon. They had lunch and drove to a promontory near the city. On this hill, Bowles said, they gathered their letters in bundles and burned them, agreeing to discontinue their relationship. He said this was done at Miss Loucks' request.

On Nov. 12, the date of his wife's death, Bowles testified, he went to his office at 9 a. m. He found a note from his wife, asking him to call. A moment after reading this note, he said, he received a telephone call from Miss Loucks, telling him Mrs. Bowles was at her apartment, and asking him to come at once.

He said he left immediately. When he entered the apartment his wife was seated on the davenport. He sat down beside her. Miss Loucks sat opposite them in a chair. He said he asked his wife why she had come there, and expressed regret since "it would only make trouble."

Mrs. Bowles asked for a divorce, the defendant testified, and Bowles said he told her it was "entirely up to her." While they sat there, he said, his wife asked for two drinks of water which were provided.

"I asked Miss Loucks, who was in the bedroom or bathroom, to come out and tell Mrs. Bowles what we had decided the day before. She told my wife we had determined to end our affair. Mrs. Bowles said 'there's only one thing left to do. I'm going to make my life over again.' I said, 'what are you going to do?' She replied 'I'm going to get a drink.'"

"She then went into the kitchen through the door near the bathroom," Bowles said he remained on the davenport. His wife went to the kitchen. He could see part of her body, he said. She seemed "rather motionless," Bowles thought, and stood there longer than he thought necessary.

"I started out," he testified, "at the same time Miss Loucks got up and started through the dinette saying 'is there anything I can do for you?'"

"Just as I reached my wife, she turned and stepped and fell. I may have touched her—I don't know. She rolled over on her back. I saw the knife. I saw what had happened. 'I said, 'why in the world did you do a thing like this?' 'She said, 'oh, I don't want to live.'"

"I took the knife and threw it toward the sink. I thought of calling the Emergency hospital. I asked Miss Loucks to look up the number. While she was doing this, I called and asked to be connected with the Emergency hospital."

"Just then Leone said, 'not the Emergency—call Dr. Cooper.' 'I called Dr. Cooper (Paul R. Cooper) and asked him to come right away, that Leone had a serious accident. I pulled down the sweater and looked at the wound. It was a bad cut but it didn't look serious. There wasn't much blood. I looked at the knife to see if I could judge how far it had gone. I hoped it hadn't reached the chest cavity.'"

Bowles then told of carrying his wife to the bedroom where Miss Loucks and he applied wet towels to the wound.

Bowles admitted Miss Loucks was married to Blaine G. Paris and was known as Mrs. Paris at the time he met her.

"When did Mrs. Bowles begin to complain to you about Mrs. Paris," Mowry demanded. "I don't know exactly," the defendant replied. He gave the same answer when the prosecutor asked when he began paying her attention.

Mowry then tried to bring out that on January 13, 1930, when the defense said, Mrs. Bowles tried to commit suicide by jumping from a hotel window in Seattle, that her action was prompted by her husband's relationship with his secretary. Bowles said the quarrel was the result of his having forgotten his wife's birthday.

"When did you contemplate marrying Mrs. Paris," Mowry asked. "I couldn't tell you," Bowles answered. "Was it before the January 13 incident?" "I don't think so."

"Was it before February 1?" "I don't know."

"When did the idea enter your mind?" "Again the answer was 'don't know.'" To the question as to whether he ever told Miss Loucks that he couldn't force his wife to get a divorce, Bowles replied "I may have." "When," the prosecutor asked. "I don't know," Bowles answered. "To practically every question asked by the prosecutor the defendant replied with 'I don't know,' or 'I don't remember,' or 'I couldn't say exactly.'" year's promises to eclipse all previous dances. Elaborate plans are being made by the committee in charge which consists of Murrell Bradford, chairman, Jen Garcelon, in charge of patroness and patronesses, Hubert Totten, ticket sales, Ross Bates, decorations, and Betty Zimmerman publicity.

Attractive tickets have been printed and are now being distributed. The tickets are white, and adorned with a large yellow "O" and green lettering.

Features will take part on the program and an Oregon song fest is being planned.

There are only four cities in Oregon having spring dances sponsored by the University students this year. They are Medford, Portland, Astoria and Klamath Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Daggett, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Gillenwaters and Mrs. A. J. Lyle have been named hostesses.

Hoover Favors Economy. "Most rigid economy is necessary to avoid increase in taxes," in his budget message at the same time, he forecast a deficit of $180,000,000 for this fiscal year, but said: "The adverse balance can be met by reducing the general fund balance from the amount in it at the beginning of the year, supplemented, if necessary, by temporary borrowing by the treasury."

With cautious appropriations, he estimated that the country would end the next fiscal year with a surplus of $30,000,000. Appropriations made during the session exceeded $5,000,000,000, a little less than various sums approved by the budget bureau. The total appropriated however, did not reflect the actual expenditures for the coming fiscal year because of various funds set aside for use over periods of several years.

Plato conducted what is supposed to be the first and most famous open air school in the beautiful plantation called the Academy, which was named after Academus, a Greek hero. Here Plato taught his followers and for centuries afterwards philosophers taught their disciples here.

TREASURY IS FACING SHORTAGE (Continued from Page One)

On the statutory provisions of retirement of the public debt."

The other course was indicated by the president in his last message to congress. He warned:

"Hoover Favors Economy. "Most rigid economy is necessary to avoid increase in taxes," in his budget message at the same time, he forecast a deficit of $180,000,000 for this fiscal year, but said: "The adverse balance can be met by reducing the general fund balance from the amount in it at the beginning of the year, supplemented, if necessary, by temporary borrowing by the treasury."

With cautious appropriations, he estimated that the country would end the next fiscal year with a surplus of $30,000,000. Appropriations made during the session exceeded $5,000,000,000, a little less than various sums approved by the budget bureau. The total appropriated however, did not reflect the actual expenditures for the coming fiscal year because of various funds set aside for use over periods of several years.

Plato conducted what is supposed to be the first and most famous open air school in the beautiful plantation called the Academy, which was named after Academus, a Greek hero. Here Plato taught his followers and for centuries afterwards philosophers taught their disciples here.

TREASURY IS FACING SHORTAGE (Continued from Page One)

On the statutory provisions of retirement of the public debt."

year's promises to eclipse all previous dances. Elaborate plans are being made by the committee in charge which consists of Murrell Bradford, chairman, Jen Garcelon, in charge of patroness and patronesses, Hubert Totten, ticket sales, Ross Bates, decorations, and Betty Zimmerman publicity.

Attractive tickets have been printed and are now being distributed. The tickets are white, and adorned with a large yellow "O" and green lettering.

Features will take part on the program and an Oregon song fest is being planned.

There are only four cities in Oregon having spring dances sponsored by the University students this year. They are Medford, Portland, Astoria and Klamath Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Daggett, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Gillenwaters and Mrs. A. J. Lyle have been named hostesses.

Hoover Favors Economy. "Most rigid economy is necessary to avoid increase in taxes," in his budget message at the same time, he forecast a deficit of $180,000,000 for this fiscal year, but said: "The adverse balance can be met by reducing the general fund balance from the amount in it at the beginning of the year, supplemented, if necessary, by temporary borrowing by the treasury."

With cautious appropriations, he estimated that the country would end the next fiscal year with a surplus of $30,000,000. Appropriations made during the session exceeded $5,000,000,000, a little less than various sums approved by the budget bureau. The total appropriated however, did not reflect the actual expenditures for the coming fiscal year because of various funds set aside for use over periods of several years.

Plato conducted what is supposed to be the first and most famous open air school in the beautiful plantation called the Academy, which was named after Academus, a Greek hero. Here Plato taught his followers and for centuries afterwards philosophers taught their disciples here.

TREASURY IS FACING SHORTAGE (Continued from Page One)

On the statutory provisions of retirement of the public debt."

The other course was indicated by the president in his last message to congress. He warned:

"Hoover Favors Economy. "Most rigid economy is necessary to avoid increase in taxes," in his budget message at the same time, he forecast a deficit

of $180,000,000 for this fiscal year, but said: "The adverse balance can be met by reducing the general fund balance from the amount in it at the beginning of the year, supplemented, if necessary, by temporary borrowing by the treasury."

With cautious appropriations, he estimated that the country would end the next fiscal year with a surplus of $30,000,000. Appropriations made during the session exceeded $5,000,000,000, a little less than various sums approved by the budget bureau. The total appropriated however, did not reflect the actual expenditures for the coming fiscal year because of various funds set aside for use over periods of several years.

Plato conducted what is supposed to be the first and most famous open air school in the beautiful plantation called the Academy, which was named after Academus, a Greek hero. Here Plato taught his followers and for centuries afterwards philosophers taught their disciples here.

TREASURY IS FACING SHORTAGE (Continued from Page One)

On the statutory provisions of retirement of the public debt."

year's promises to eclipse all previous dances. Elaborate plans are being made by the committee in charge which consists of Murrell Bradford, chairman, Jen Garcelon, in charge of patroness and patronesses, Hubert Totten, ticket sales, Ross Bates, decorations, and Betty Zimmerman publicity.

Attractive tickets have been printed and are now being distributed. The tickets are white, and adorned with a large yellow "O" and green lettering.

Features will take part on the program and an Oregon song fest is being planned.

There are only four cities in Oregon having spring dances sponsored by the University students this year. They are Medford, Portland, Astoria and Klamath Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Daggett, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Gillenwaters and Mrs. A. J. Lyle have been named hostesses.

Hoover Favors Economy. "Most rigid economy is necessary to avoid increase in taxes," in his budget message at the same time, he forecast a deficit of $180,000,000 for this fiscal year, but said: "The adverse balance can be met by reducing the general fund balance from the amount in it at the beginning of the year, supplemented, if necessary, by temporary borrowing by the treasury."

With cautious appropriations, he estimated that the country would end the next fiscal year with a surplus of $30,000,000. Appropriations made during the session exceeded $5,000,000,000, a little less than various sums approved by the budget bureau. The total appropriated however, did not reflect the actual expenditures for the coming fiscal year because of various funds set aside for use over periods of several years.

Plato conducted what is supposed to be the first and most famous open air school in the beautiful plantation called the Academy, which was named after Academus, a Greek hero. Here Plato taught his followers and for centuries afterwards philosophers taught their disciples here.

TREASURY IS FACING SHORTAGE (Continued from Page One)

On the statutory provisions of retirement of the public debt."

The other course was indicated by the president in his last message to congress. He warned:

"Hoover Favors Economy. "Most rigid economy is necessary to avoid increase in taxes," in his budget message at the same time, he forecast a deficit of $180,000,000 for this fiscal year, but said: "The adverse balance can be met by reducing the general fund balance from the amount in it at the beginning of the year, supplemented, if necessary, by temporary borrowing by the treasury."

With cautious appropriations, he estimated that the country would end the next fiscal year with a surplus of $30,000,000. Appropriations made during the session exceeded $5,000,000,000, a little less than various sums approved by the budget bureau. The total appropriated however, did not reflect the actual expenditures for the coming fiscal year because of various funds set aside for use over periods of several years.

Plato conducted what is supposed to be the first and most famous open air school in the beautiful plantation called the Academy, which was named after Academus, a Greek hero. Here Plato taught his followers and for centuries afterwards philosophers taught their disciples here.

TREASURY IS FACING SHORTAGE (Continued from Page One)

On the statutory provisions of retirement of the public debt."

WAIT! FOR THE GREATEST SALE EVER HELD IN KLAMATH FALLS Connolly Bros. SPORTING GOODS AND MEN'S SHOP 627 MAIN ST. BUSTED Entire stock purchased by Liberman-Rosenkrantz Co., San Francisco's greatest sales factors. BOUGHT AT 50c on the Dollar and will be Sacrificed to the Public at Less Than Wholesale Cost. Sale Starts Tuesday March 24 at 9 a. m. 2 Big Stocks On Sale Entire Stock of the NEW YORK BARGAIN HOUSE bought at approximately 35c On the Dollar moved to the Connolly Store and priced for quick selling. Cost entirely forgotten in this Big Sale. BE HERE EARLY FIRST COME FIRST SERVED