Elnora Thomson Feted at Banquet Thursday Evening

Miss Elnora Thomson was honored at a lovely banquet Thursday evening at the Pelican Grille. Covers were laid for fifty graduate nurses and their friends. The tables were attractively decorated with spring flowers.

Six girls from the Sacred Heart Academy music school gave several beautiful violin and piano selections.

The meeting was opened and each nurse present gave the name of her training school and the state from which she graduated. Many states were represented as well as Australia and Norway.

Dr. Geo. I. Wright was the first speaker. He gave a short and interesting talk. Miss Thomson, the principal speaker of the evening was introduced by the District president, Miss Alleen Dyer. The fact that Miss Thomson is president of the American Nurses association makes her also a member of the Board of the International Council of Nurses, and she will sail on June 15th for Geneva, Switzerland for a meeting of this group. In her discussion she told of the beginning of the national organization and the value of an organized association which is represented by 137,000 nurses in the United States.

Through the organized efforts of nursing educators effective legislation has been brought about which has raised the standards of the nursing until it is now recognized as one of the higher professions.

Hinsdale-Scott Nuptials Held in Rose City Recently

The following article of the wedding of Miss Frances Honeyman Scott to George Spencer Hinsdale, well known in Klamath Falls, will be of interest to local society people. The article appeared in the Portland Oregonian last Sunday:

One of the loveliest brides of the early spring was Miss Frances Honeyman Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Berkeley Scott, whose marriage to George Spencer Hinsdale, son of Mrs. Oscar H. Hinsdale of Gardiner, Ore., took place Saturday night at the home of her parents. Dr. A. A. Morrison read the service in the presence of members of the families and a small group of close friends.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was a striking picture in her wedding gown of deep ivory satin made on princess lines, with a yoke of rare old lace which had belonged to her grandmother, Mrs. Harvey W. Scott.

Her veil was arranged in a cap of the same lace, which is a heirloom in the Scott family, and she carried a shower of lilies of the valley and white orchids.

Miss Susan Scott, who was her sister's only attendant, wore a frock of daffodil yellow crepe de chine with a wash of sea green velvet and matching green shoes. Her flowers were yellow tulips. Howard Hinsdale was his brother's best man.

Following the ceremony a buffet supper was served.

For traveling the bride wore an ensemble costume of brown woolen with eggshell cash bouffant and matching brown accessories. Her topcoat was of brown tweed. Mr. and Mrs. Hinsdale will make their home in Forest Hills on Lake Oswego following their wedding trip.

Mrs. Hinsdale is a member of a prominent pioneer family of

Winifred Tegart Bride of Horace McGinnis Sunday

Miss Winifred Tegart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tegart, Portland, became the bride of Horace McGinnis, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McGinnis of Troutdale, Wash., at a lovely ceremony performed by Rev. Oswald Taylor at Grace Memorial church of Portland, Sunday afternoon, March 16.

The bride's gown was of white chiffon and lace. Her tulle veil was arranged into a soft cap over her hair. She carried a shower bouquet of freesias and roses.

Miss Lorene Townsend, as maid of honor, wore an orchid chiffon, with a close-fitting hat of the same shade. Her bouquet was of yellow and coral snapdragons.

The bridesmaids, Misses Jeanette Linahan and Herzi Matthews, wore dresses of yellow and green chiffon, with large hats. They carried bouquets of sweet peas and roses.

Mr. John McGinnis was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Chester Zeller and Sterling F. Thompson.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Chester T. Kronenberg. Preceding the ceremony Miss Helen Kastruf sang.

A reception in the parish house followed the ceremony. Presiding at the tables were Mrs. J. C. Cummings, Mr. Chester Kronenberg, Mrs. Roy Mangus and Miss Cleo Thompson.

After a brief wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis will be at home in Klamath Falls, where Mr. McGinnis is in business.

Portland and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Scott and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Honeyman. She is an accomplished horsewoman and has won considerable renown for her golfing skill. Both she and Mr. Hinsdale have been widely feted in the weeks prior to their marriage.
