

Open New $80,000 Athletic Club in Klamath Tonight

Open House Beginning at 7:30 Will Feature High Class Exhibitions of All Kinds of Sports. Public Invited.

Another step in the growth of Klamath Falls will be taken tonight when the Klamath Falls Athletic club will hold open house to all residents of this section, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Athletic events, swimming and diving exhibitions and a dance are on the program.

L. B. Markham has purchased the old Klamath Natatorium, remodeled it, including the swimming tank, built a gymnasium addition and has equipped the club with the best athletic equipment available at a cost of about $10,000. It is called the most up-to-date club in Oregon and one of which Klamath may well be proud to boast.

Invites All
Mr. Markham is giving the place over to the citizens of the city and county tonight and invites all to come and enjoy a full evening as his guests. He has arranged a complete program for their amusement and the exhibitions will be topped off with a dance. The dance, starting at 9:30 o'clock, will be held in the spacious gymnasium. Dewey Powell will be master of ceremonies and "Red" Chapman's five-piece band will furnish the music.

Exhibitions will include the plunger, fancy diving and short dashes.
In the gym there will be boxing, wrestling, tumbling, basketball, volleyball and handball. These events will be short, merely giving the guests an idea of the various games.

Plunge Decorated
The plunge has been decorated in aluminum, orchid and silver grey. From the roof trusses several hanging baskets of ferns and flowers will grace the eyes of the guests. A new and complete filtration system, approved by the Jantzen people, has been installed and will assure the bathers pure water for swimming at all times. The water in the tank will be completely changed at regular intervals in addition to the filtering which makes a complete purification of the water every eight hours.

In the gymnasium lines for several different games have been painted on the waxed floor. Hoops, parallel bars, rowing machine, exercise machines, baggins and chest weights have been installed. There are two four-wall handball courts open at all regular hours.

In the boxing events Pierre Fothier, European featherweight champion and Red Mandotte, one of the best looking prospects in the fight game, will box as will Leach Cross and Bill Evans, the Benton champs, brothers, "Battling Nelson" Lahey and "Tommy Gibbons" Lahey will open the show. These two boys are fast and furious.

Peterkin, Simpson, Stinson, White, Divens, Slimmons, three Wakeman brothers and Robinson will take part in the basketball, volleyball and handball. C. Puckett will give a tumbling exhibition then the events will go to the plunger where the following boys and girls will take part:

Diving, Earl Overacker, Les Stebbins, Glenn McWithey, Tom Robinson and Gordon Brunton.
Swimming, Don Divens, Les Stebbins, Glenn McWithey, Earl Overacker and Bill Stinson.
Girls swimming are Lois Morrison, Laverna Gravelle, Valeria McCarty, Clara Ziegler and Mrs. Earl Overacker. A demonstration of different strokes will be given.

RED CROSS IN CHARGE AT MANAGUA

unhesitatingly orders to shoot looters, and four despatched Thursday night are understood to have brought the total executed to 20.
Another patrol is shooting at eight all dogs caught roaming the streets, for fear that the lack of water and heat may drive some of them mad and lead to an epidemic of hydrophobia among refugees. Several cases of rabies have been reported. Another patrol follows the former and buries the slain animals.
Since the days of the Conquistadores, who brought modern fabric clothing to Nicaragua, the women of this section have washed their clothes in the lakes about the city. Forty who were thus engaged Tuesday at a small lake in the crater of a volcano above the city were caught unawares by a landslide precipitated by the quake and thrown into the lake, where they drowned.
Marine patrols recovered the forty bodies near the edge of the lake. The Marines reported that other women were washing at the other side of the lake as they took the bodies out, just as if nothing had happened.
With their wives and children safely at Corinto, where navy ships will take them to San Francisco and New York, Marine corps officers here entered the task of relief and rehabilitation, happy that their dependents had been spared and further horror of epidemic and hardship.

HONOR MISS LIVINGSTON
Miss Kathleen (Pat) Livingston of Klamath Falls who is a sophomore at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin, winning in journalism, has been appointed to the Masthead of the "Cardinal" school daily, two months early because of superior work, according to information received here.

LOW RATES TO OPENINGS OF NEW TOWNSITE

It was announced today by Southern Pacific company that for the opening of the Tule Lake townsites scheduled to be held at Tule Lake on April 15th an excursion rate of $1.00 for the roundtrip will be made.
Under present plans, the U. S. Reclamation Service will start their auction on the arrival of Southern Pacific train No. 21, which leaves Klamath Falls at 10:30 in the morning and arrives at Tule Lake at 11:15 a. m. Extra coaches will be added to this train by the railroad company, which probably will be cut out at Tule Lake and remain on the siding there during the course of the auction, which is expected to last all day. Returning, the excursionists will leave Tule Lake at 4:15 in the afternoon reaching Klamath Falls at 5:05 p. m.

The low roundtrip rate offered by the Southern Pacific gives those who are planning on attending the auction the opportunity of conveniently reaching the townsites at low cost, avoiding necessity of traveling over back roads. In addition, it will afford pleasure seekers probably the last chance there will be in this territory to witness the auctioning of a Government townsites, which everyone expects will be the metropolis and regular shipping center of the rich Klamath Irrigation District.

To care for the large number of visitors expected, the Siskiyou Tractor and Implement company has donated their warehouse to ladies of the Tule Lake Community Club, who will serve luncheon and refreshments to the visitors.

Many Attend Funeral Of Joe Swindler

her counsel, Ralph W. Horan, and that is a direct denial of early rumors circulated and published that she was sitting waiting for her husband with a revolver in her hand, and shot him as he came in the front door after taking two guests home.
Several couples had been entertained at the Swindler home during the evening prior to the shooting. Liquor was served, according to statements of guests who attended the party. About 3:00 o'clock Monday morning Swindler left with two of the guests to escort them to their home. What occurred between the time Swindler returned about 3:15, and the time he was shot shortly before 5:00 o'clock Monday morning, is at present an unsolvable mystery.
An early trial of Letha Swindler, talented and beautiful young widow charged with the murder of her husband, has been asked by defense counsel, and according to Ralph W. Horan, tentative date for the trial has been set for April 27. A new jury panel will be announced before the trial.

FORMER PAUPER HAS MONEY AT HIS DEATH

WALL WALLA, Wash., April 4. (AP)—Once sent to the county poor farm as a pauper, Mike Reeder was found dead today in his shanty here with gold, currency and certificates of deposit totalling $4,300 hidden in various parts of the shack, Prosecutor Bert J. Lehrer said.
Golden eagles were wrapped and tied to cloth and newspapers were folded around the currency and certificates scattered about the hovel.

Easter Will Claim Proper Observance All Over the World

(By the Associated Press)
A LONG the avenues—and in hell's kitchen—among the stalls and carts of South Halstead street—and along the babbling sidewalks of Harlem—on Pennsylvania avenue, Olive street, Market street, Front street, Commonwealth avenue—in all America, Easter comes tomorrow.
In Piccadilly, too; on the Venetian canals; and Under Den Linden and in Paris; in the shadow of tenements where bread is a luxury; and in green-rolling meadow lands where they feed milk to the dogs—Easter comes.
In San Francisco thousands will wind up the foot trails of Mt. Davidson to stand beneath the lighted cross that tops it and greet the Easter sun. Organ music will flow to them from below on telephone wires—and the ceremonies will be radiocast to those who greet the anniversary of the risen Christ in their homes.
Arizona's Yagui Indians will dance in paint and masques to shrill piping of flutes and the wondrous roll of thunder drums, making the observation of Easter a week-long instead of a single day's event. Tiny crosses of white in Indian villages will mark the Via Dolorosa Christ tread.
Four hundred white-robed children, grouped in a Greek cross, will send their voices ringing through Hollywood (Calif.) bowl in "Christ, the Lord, is risen today" after trumpets have sounded the dawn, and 30,000 spectators have joined in the singing of hymns.
In Red Rock canyon, southeast of Bakerfield, Calif.—in the heart of the desert flower area—Easter will come with ceremony and traditional services, conducted annually since 1909, will be held at Mt. Roubidoux, at the edge of Riverside, Calif.
Forty thousand people—if the day is fair—will crowd "God's acre" at Winston, Salem, N.C., where Easter Sunday has been

Some Camera Glimpses of Hoover on Vacation

After his arrival at San Juan, capital of Porto Rico, during his West Indies cruise, President Hoover was a guest of Gov. Theodore Roosevelt, with whom he is pictured here on the balcony of the governor's palace. There the smiling Chief Executive briefly addressed the crowds that gathered below to welcome him. It was a double holiday for Porto Rico—the second visit there of a U. S. president, and the 55th anniversary of the abolition of slavery.

Apparently far from the cares of state as the U. S. S. Arizona cruised through smooth southern waters, President Hoover here is shown reading and smoking on a sunny deck of the dreadnaught. A very weary man when he left Washington, the Chief Executive is reported to have been greatly rested by such quiet hours during his Caribbean vacation and business trip. Even on board, however, he could not achieve complete solitude. Note the Marines at the right assigned to guard the President.

OREGON BUYS FIRST BOOKS

SALEM, April 4. (AP)—Textbooks in reading for the first, second, third, fifth, seventh and eighth grades and geographies for the fourth and sixth grades and a civics text for the eighth grade under the new textbook law at a meeting of the state board of education, it was announced today. All of these textbooks are recent adoptions and are not owned at present by the pupils of the schools.
The new law calls for an annual levy of $1.50 per enrolled child in the elementary grades for the purchase of textbooks until such time as all books are supplied; thereafter this levy will need to be in only such amount as may be necessary for keeping the supply up to requirements. In these districts in which the fund raised by the required levy is sufficient to purchase more books than those set forth on the designated list, the board was recommended that additional copies of one or more of the text books now in use be secured to supply the classes.

The handling of textbook orders through regional depositories of publishing companies at Portland was decided upon by the board as the most feasible method of distribution. The books may be purchased in this way at a 15 per cent discount P. O. B. Portland.
FOR WHAT REASON?
A woman rushed into a police station with a photograph in her hand.
"My husband has disappeared," she sobbed. "Here is his photograph. I want you to find him."
The sergeant looked at the photograph.
"Why?" he asked.—Tit-Bits.

THE PENALTY

Mrs. Wise: Never; so I remind him of it in January and June, and get a present each time.—Passing Show.

Winner of Grand National

MEIER REFUSES TO PAROLE MAN

PORTLAND, April 4. (AP)—Indicating a policy of "hands off" as far as sentences passed by county courts are concerned, Governor Meier, in a letter to District Attorney Langley, today refused to pardon Robert Wintersteen, 23, father of seven children, who is now in the county jail here serving time for liquor violations.
Wintersteen was sentenced on March 5 to pay a fine of $100 and serve 30 days. The time of sentence will expire tomorrow but he will be unable to pay the fine and must serve it out.
It came to the attention of the district attorney that Wintersteen's wife and children are destitute and another child is expected soon.

The governor replied to the district attorney's letter: "Every day there come to my desk several requests for the exercise of executive clemency for prisoners who are serving terms in the various county jails of the state. A majority of these come from those who are interested in prisoners who have been convicted of violating the prohibition act.
My experience thus far has convinced me that I must not over-ride the judgment of the local officers who are in a much better position than I am to be fully advised regarding the circumstances connected with these cases before sentence is imposed."

WINSHIP WILL FILE; WIDOW PROVIDED FOR

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4. (AP)—The will of Emory Winship, former naval officer who committed suicide here, filed in Mason, Ga., today, provides a $250 month allowance for the widow, Mrs. Dorothy Blount Winship, a copy of the document released here revealed today.
Miss Helen Elizabeth Thompson of Los Angeles, attractive actress who declared she had lived with Winship a long time, was not mentioned in the testament. Two-thirds of Winship's property is left to be divided equally between two children by a former marriage. These are Emory Dillon Winship and Katherine Mary Winship, who are in New York.
J. W. Preston, Jr., San Francisco attorney, is named executor and trustee to administer a trust fund created for the son of Winship's latest marriage, Emory Jr., who is to receive the net income from a third of the estate.
The will is dated March 17 last, four days before Winship shot himself. His act, according to the coroner's jury was due to jealousy over his wife's suspected conduct with the family chauffeur, Ray McGuinnis.

Liquor Runners Caught With 150 Gallons Alcohol

ROSEBURG, Ore. April 4. (AP)—Two men who said they were Lewis Guffante, 25, and James Pachello, 19, both of San Francisco, were under arrest here today while police held their automobile and 26 five-gallon cans of alcohol. Police halted the big roadster when they became suspicious of it. The liquor cargo, C. E. Bennett, deputy sheriff said, was found in the rear of the car, and weighed over one thousand pounds. The car was equipped with special springs to carry the load. Police said the two men told them they were running the liquor to Seattle.

At The Vox

The United States boasts of an unique and unusual genre of people in its Virginia and Tennessee mountaineers. These people are entirely different from any other sect or group in the states.

A particularly clear-cut character study of these hardy hillbillies, with their peculiar moral codes, their simple living standards and amazing bravery, is found in Columbia Pictures production of "Tollable David," which opens at the new Vox theatre tomorrow for four days.

Director John Blystone depicts in stark and vivid fashion what happens in the mountain country when the member of any family is wronged, revealing the workings of the assailing feud and the manner in which the family's men measure out justice without the aid of law courts. They are a law unto themselves.

A newcomer, a young artist named Richard Crowell, depicts the role of "Tollable David." He possesses that naivete that makes him ideal in the role of the simple, nature-loving lad depicted in the story. Others in the cast are Joan Peera, Noah Beery, Henry B. Walthall and George Duryea. John G. Blystone handled the direction of this production with artistry.

REITERATES OPPOSITION TO POLYGAMY

SALT LAKE CITY, April 4. (AP)—Opposition of the Latter Day Saints' church to plural marriage was reiterated by Heber J. Grant, president of the church, in opening its 101st annual conference here today.
Offenders, he said, are excommunicated from fellowship in the church and "should be dealt with as the law requires."
"We have men among us," he added, "who will be glad to furnish the legal talent and assist in the enforcement of law."

Despite the repeated opposition of the church to plural marriage, he said, "with sorrow and deep regret," that it was necessary for him to call attention to it publicly and he deplored the fact that some members of the church "are persuaded to contract such marriages by designing men."

The president then turned his attack upon defamatory literature which he said had accused prominent churchmen with indulging in the practice of plural marriage. "They have charged me and my brothers with the commission of crime," he said. "There is scarce one among the general authorities of the church who has not been defamed by this literature."

the sports world. As it passed the Notre Dame football stadium, which Rockne himself made possible, there was a pause for a reverent salute.
It was like a Sunday morning, still and peaceful, but the touch of sadness was everywhere. All business was suspended and trains running into South Bend passed for one minute as a mark of respect.
Only 1400 of the football coach's friends and intimates were able to squeeze into the church for the services but other thousands, bareheaded, heard the services through the amplifiers.
