Earnshaw is one of the fet who doesn't participate in th general hilarity of the worl champions en route. Big Georg prefers relaration and a quie conversation to the holsterous ex change of wise-cracks or a poke same.

He looks very much like great right-handed pitcher wh felt confident he could "bea down" on the opposition an smother them whenever required lie's the one big reason why the A's are still confident they will take two in a row and win the state.

martin Is Hero
You hear plenty about a young gent named Martin in the gabfests of the world champions.
"When Martin came to hat about the third time yeaterday," remarked Cochrane, "I said to him: "Say, kid, don't you ever pop out?" He came right back: "I'm just in there awinging and getting the breaks."

It is a new experience for the A's—this business of being raided. harrassed and generally made to appear a trille foolish by a rookie,—but it has gone farenough now so that they can laugh about the sheer audacity and brilliance of the Cardinal outfielder. There may be a bit of worry behind the laughs but the A's have the gallantry to take their hats off to a youngater able to come through as Martin has done with every resource of a great team and famous manager put against him.

Has Hit Everything
"I don't know how to stop im," admitted Cochrane. "He is hit everything we have tried tainst him, high or low, firelieve acute situations. The broadening of the eligible paper section of the law, it was said, would meet the situation. The form of changes in the federal ported to police Thursday in the fifth game, with Mean't replacing Bishop at second, are replacing Bishop at second. as hit everything we have tried gainst him, high or low, fire-

Mack's shake-up of his lineup in the fifth game, with Mc Nair replacing Bishop at second, Jim Moore going to the outfield in place of Haas, was believed merely a one-day emergency measure designed to break thru Wild Bill Hallahan's defonse, Both Bishop and Haas likely will start tomorrow, especially if Burleigh Grimes is the Cardinal pitching choice.

Edge on Pitching
The A's believes that with Earnshaw invincible and Grove "due" they have an edge in pitching over the Cardinals, who must rely on Grimes and Hallahan without giving either his customary rest.

without giving either his customary rest.

Earnshaw, in Cochrane's opinton, was mover faster than in winnig the fourth game. The A's backstop met Jim Collins, Card pinch-hitter who struck out, and was asked whether one of his George's strikes had much of a break on it. "Only about a toot," Cochrane replied. "I thought so," said Collins, "but I'm not sure I saw it."

Approximately 171 more grade school pupils and 50 more high school pupils are attending Klam- ath county rural schools this year than last year, figures compiled Tuesday by County School Sup- erintendent Fred Peterson re- vealed. Several of the county schools showed a slight decrease in this year's enrollment, but that has been more than offset by the substantial gain in other schools. Peterson's figures indicated 2590 pupils attending rural grade
