RAILROADS DENIED RATES RAISE

Editorials on the Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS
THE League of Nations tells Japan to get her armed forces out of China, immediately. Then it tells BOTH Japan and China to get together and settle their differences by negotiation.

THIS much CAN be said:
If the Japanese heed the command of the League to get out of China, and if Japan and China then get together and settle their differences without war, the faint beginnings of the dawn of a new and more hopeful day in world affairs will be apparent.

PRESIDENT HOOVER, on his way to the Yorktown victory celebration, pauses at Fortress Monroe and makes a speech, in which he says:

"This nation passed through Valley Forge and came to Yorktown."
A lot of gloomy people are trying to tell us that this country is in a terrible way right now. Is it in any more terrible way, do you suppose, than during the winter of Valley Forge?
Of course not.

AS the President says, this nation passed through Valley Forge and came to Yorktown. Sometime in the next few months it will pass out of the dark valley of economic discontent and into the bright sunshine of sound prosperity.

HERE is a rather interesting suggestion made to this hopeless optimist by another hopeless optimist the other day: "I hear a lot of talk about impending distress here in Oregon this winter. But as I look about by neighborhood, where I know all the people, I don't seem to see many more THAN USUAL who aren't going to have enough to eat."
"Of course there will be unfortunates this winter. But I seem to remember that back in 1927 and 1928, which we look upon now as tremendously prosperous, there were ALSO unfortunates who didn't have enough to eat and wear."

THIS man may be an exception. His neighborhood may be an unusually fortunate neighborhood. But suppose you look around YOUR neighborhood. See how much more real distress you find than in normal, average years, remembering that in ALL

Music Lovers Give Support To Community Concert Plans

A group of about 50 lovers of the best in music gathered at a banquet at the Hotel Willard Wednesday evening to pledge cooperation in launching the campaign for membership in the Klamath Community Concert association. The purpose of the organization is to secure a permanent series of concerts, presented by the world's artists, in the city of Klamath Falls.

SPECIFIC RATE GAIN REQUESTS ARE SUGGESTED

Flat Jump Is Denied by I. C. C., But Alternative Plan Is Advanced.

Large List of Products Exempted From Gains in Proposal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—The interstate commerce commission today denied the railroad's request for a flat 15 per cent increase in freight rates, but suggested the roads might apply for specific increases on designated commodities upon certain conditions.

The suggested specific rates would be for a limited period, and would be primarily to enable the roads "to meet their fixed interest payments as they mature."
The commission attached to a list of products suggested for increases a condition that in no event should the increase levied on any carload be in excess of 10 per cent of the carload charge which would be assessed in the absence of the increase.

DEMAND MADE FOR MILK RULE ENFORCEMENT

Dr. E. D. Lamb Resigns Health Post; Council Hears Discussion.

Inability to Have Control Over Inspection Is Reason.

A promise of rigid enforcement of the city milk ordinance was exacted from the city council last night by some 20 producers and distributors, following a lively session featured by heated arguments and repeated charges that the ordinance has not been strictly enforced.

Following the discussion, the resignation of Dr. E. D. Lamb as city health inspector, was read. Dr. Lamb, according to his statement, resigned because of his "inability to have complete control of dairy inspections." There was no discussion by the council of his resignation, which was accepted with instructions that he be sent a letter expressing appreciation of his work. Dr. Lamb, it was reported following the meeting, has not been satisfied with the dairy inspection operations.

STUDENT SAYS SISTER SLEW 2 COMPANIONS

Positive Statement Is Definite Clue in Sensational Case.
Mrs. Judd Disappears in Traffic; Murder Story Sweeps Country.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20. (AP)—An admission that his sister had confessed to him the killing of two companions in the Phoenix, Arizona, was made today to the Associated Press by B. J. McKinnell, Los Angeles University student, and brother of the suspected slayer, Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd.
McKinnell made a positive statement after a storm of reports had been circulated in which police denied the young man's alleged statement.
Tells Story
Stopping in a corridor of the homicide bureau of the police department as detectives took him to breakfast, McKinnell told his version of the discovery of the bodies of Mrs. Agnes Leoni and Miss Hedwig Samuelson, employees of a Phoenix, Arizona, clinic, in two trunks and a valise at a railroad station here yesterday.
A baggage master, who saw blood seeping from one trunk, demanded that it be opened. Mrs. Judd, who had arrived in Los Angeles a short time before on another train, came to the station with McKinnell to claim the baggage. She told the agent that she did not have the keys and would get him. The suspicion of the agent led him to note the license number of McKinnell's automobile and the student was arrested.
"I know what was in those trunks," the young man said. "She told me, I can't understand why she did it. I drove her to Sixth and Broadway and she got out. I gave her $5 and she disappeared in the street crowds."
Dr. W. C. Judd, husband of the woman, who appeared calm and composed under the grilling of detectives and who was taken into custody with McKinnell, said "I believe she was mentally deranged."
Sheets of letters were seized by detectives and scanned for lines that might unfold a motive. They were a son from the trunks. Dr. Judd's home and the rooms where McKinnell, a university student, lived with a friend.
Killed Friday
A cursory search of their contents produced nothing that seemed of major importance. One, written to Dr. Judd from his wife during the week-end, told of her loneliness and extended (Continued on Page Two)
