

FIRE VICTIMS RECOVER FROM SEVERE BURNS

William, 16, and Rueben, 13, sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Talbot of the Keno route, were recovering yesterday from severe burns sustained when a can of powder exploded in the barn near their home.

The two boys were able yesterday to tell details of the accident, which occurred when they were separating milk late Saturday evening. In the same room were stored two five-pound cans of black powder, which were placed there for safety. Only one can was covered.

The electric light wire, hanging above the uncovered powder can, burned and a spark fell into the powder, causing an instantaneous explosion. Rueben, the older of the two boys, was standing directly above the powder and the flames reached his face, burning him severely. Flames covered his clothing, part of it being entirely eaten by the fire. He ran from the building, his trousers and heavy sheepskin-lined coat, ablaze, but was called back into the separator room by the screams of his younger brother, Bill.

Badly Scorched

When the explosion occurred Bill raised his hand to protect his face, but one side of his face, including his eye, was badly burned. His hand was also burned.

Called from the house by the explosion, Nellie, their 18-year-old sister, attempted to assist Rueben by heating his clothing. She called Dr. G. I. Wright of Klamath Falls who gave first aid.

Neither of the boys was taken to the hospital. Their parents, who were visiting in California, have been called back to Klamath Falls. Rueben and Bill will probably be confined to their home for many weeks. Rueben, whose face is still badly swollen, will be unable to walk for several months, according to neighbors. He is a student of the Klamath Union high school, while the younger boy attends Fairhaven grade school.

The building was only slightly damaged by the blast, as the powder burned slowly. The interior was badly smoked. Only one can of powder burned.

Baking Heat in 10 Minutes—
Broiling Heat in 5 Minutes—
TRY THE FASTEST KIND OF COOKING IN YOUR KITCHEN!

Strike a match or touch your automatic gas range lighter for the quickest cooking heat there is!

That's the first thing you'll notice—your gas flame is hot almost instantly. So be ready to cook when you light your range. Your actual cooking starts quicker—ends quicker—and you're out of the kitchen sooner than ever before. Turn off your gas the second you're through and there's not a bit of fuel wasted—ever.

Hotter Fuel—Better Food

Try broiling a juicy steak—something that's rather hard to do successfully with other fuels, all of which are slower than gas. Your natural gas flame is so hot in 5 minutes that it sears all the savory juice into your steak—saves it for your dinner.

Cakes and Luscious Pies Actually Bake Themselves!

Slip your favorite cake into a gas oven—set the oven-heat regulator—and your fanciest baking is done! Your gas range maintains just the proper heat as long as you want it—no more "pot-watching".

Your Gas Range Saves Heat—Saves Fuel!
With a new closed-top gas range, one small gas flame will keep 3 or 4 pots simmering at once. An insulated gas oven keeps all your cooking heat right on your food—and saves more fuel.

HEAT WATER IN 15 MINUTES
INSTEAD OF AN HOUR—WITH GAS!
Why wait and shiver this winter for piping hot baths? Gas heaters give you oceans of hot water four times faster than any others! If you prefer an instantaneous heater, you may have steaming baths, steaming dishwasher—at the turn of a faucet any time.
And remember, the more gas you use, the lower your gas rate becomes!
