

Roy Anderson Seldom Loses In Ring Tilts

Norwegian Wrestler Fights 2,372 Times And is Defeated in Only Fourteen

By JOE PIGNEY Just 2,372 times has Roy Anderson, wrestler, footballer, minister and traveler, shaved his broad shoulders through the ropes of the arena.

Wrestler, footballer, minister and traveler is a conglomeration of achievements in anyone's life. All these accomplishments dovetail together.

Anderson was the star tackle on the St. Olaf's college eleven at Northfield, Minn. That was a long time ago—23 years—for this Norwegian wrestler now is 41.

Anderson has no serious intentions toward a wrestling career when he had his first match. It was only a rough and tumble affair with one of his college mates, but a general aptitude and likeness for the game encouraged him to stick.

Anderson's first bout out of college was against a husky Norwegian at Seattle. Anderson weighed only 173 and his opponent 223.

After winning this bout Anderson conscientiously started his travels. From Seattle he went north to Canada and Alaska. Following this tour he headed over to China, Japan, Jerusalem and India.

In Japan he was defeated in 37 tournament matches against all the best jiu jitsu wrestlers of the Orient.

Over in India he defeated Tahadai, the Hindu champion. The bout lasted three hours and 37 minutes, and no mat was used.

Goa Sonnenberg, Strangler Lewis, Frank Gotch and all the other great wrestlers of modern times have been Anderson's opponents.

Anderson entered the World war as an aviator, and adapted the "airplane spin" to his wrestling methods.

The ministerial career of the Norwegian wrestler was executed in the slums of London. Anderson studied for the ministry while at St. Olaf's college.

Anderson is not a big wrestler but what he lacks in weight he has made up in speed. His style of fighting is closely modeled after the fast, darting type of Robin Hood, ex-Olympic champion, who has a canny combination of speed and science to combat brawn.

The wrestling business is a difficult one to promote, but Bill Elliott has started out with a list of more than ordinary wrestlers. Anderson and Wallace are two of the best known in the game, and their eagerness to meet Gus Sonnenberg probably will make the bout glisten with fighting.

Elliott has promised a chance to meet Sonnenberg here next month.

Street Optimistic Over Next Year CARTHAGE, Mo., Oct. 21. (AP)—"Gabby" Street, cardinal pilot, speaking at a dinner in his honor here last night, expressed fear that Jess Haines, veteran ace of the St. Louis staff, would never be able to pitch again because of the arm injury he suffered toward the close of the season.

Asked about the prospect of the Cardinals next year, the manager said: "They couldn't stop us in 1931, and I don't see why they're going to do so next season."

Wildcats' Fullback Out of Ohio Contest EVANSTON, Ill. Oct. 21 (UP)—Reb Russell, Northwestern fullback who was injured in the opening game of the season against Nebraska, removed the cast from his ribs and returned to practice today.

He had difficulty in moving about and will be unable to play against Ohio State Saturday. Coach Dick Hanley hopes Russell will be ready for the Illinois game October 31. Ollie Olson, sophomore fullback, who has been nursing an infected leg, was able to take part in today's scrimmage against the freshmen.

Medford Has String of Impressive Victories

TIGERS SUFFER BUT ONE JOLT THIS SEASON

By ARTHUR SHOENI MEDFORD, Oct. 20 (Special)—With impressive victories over Crescent City, Eureka and Grants Pass and a 13-6 defeat at the hands of Marshfield on their record, the Medford high Tigers are entering into intensive training this week for what looks to be their biggest game of the year with Klamath Falls, Saturday, October 24.

Coach Burgher's charges came out of the Grants Pass game victors by a 26-7 count and are favored slightly over the Pelicans in the coming game. The fact that the game is to be played on the Klamath field makes the odds about even.

Attack Puzzles Just what the Medford attack will be is questionable. In the Eureka game it was the pass which downed the Loggers. Medford completed seven out of 11 for a yardage of 137, against Marshfield. The end runs gained the most yards, while at Grants Pass, the heavy men rifles were hammered for huge gains all afternoon, with a few passes sprinkled in to keep them guessing.

Medford's chief ground gainer this year is Red Scheel, 157-pound halfback. His chief left is plunging through the line and his high knee action makes him a hard man to stop. To team with him in the backfield Burgher uses 135-pound Max Gillinsky at the other half to inject speed into the attack. Running interference for these two are two 170-pounders, Zumbrunn and Fichtner. Harrington, quarterback, is a good passer and signal caller and handles the punting for the Tigers.

Several Injuries Medford's line will average about 165 pounds and her backs around 160. Billy Walker, speedy little half who ran through the Pelicans for such heavy gains last year, will probably get into action again Saturday after an enforced layoff of two weeks. Scheel and Gillinsky both have injuries which hamper them, but will be ready for service, Coach Burgher believes. Scores of Medford games so far this year are as follows:

Medford, 46; Crescent City, 0; Medford, 49; Marshfield, 13; Medford, 19; Eureka, 6; Medford, 35; Grants Pass, 7. Although not definitely settled, the starting lineup for the Tigers probably will be Bennett and Shrive, ends; White and Cunningham, tackles; Olem and Minear, guards; Cave, center; Harrington, quarter; Zumbrunn and Scheel, halves, and Fichtner, fullback.

COAST GAMES DRAW MILLION AND HALF LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21. (UP)—The Pacific Coast League drew paid attendance of 1,657,595 persons during the 1931 season, a decrease of 35,528 over the previous year, President Harry A. Williams announced tonight.

Williams maintained there was no loss, inasmuch that the season was two weeks shorter than in 1930. He said two weeks more probably would have made the attendance larger than in 1930. Night baseball, a split season and a ladies free policy undoubtedly held the attendance "up to normal in an unfavorable year," Williams declared.

Temple vs. Temple in Oregon-N. Y. Tilt EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 21 (UP)—It will be Temple vs. Temple when "Doc" Spears' green sophomore eleven of the University of Oregon plays New York University at New York, Oct. 23. Temple is star back of the Violets while Mark Temple is one of Oregon's fine, driving halfbacks.

On the trip east Oregon will play North Dakota at Grand Forks, Oct. 24. Oregon is hopeful of winning both games.

Notre Dame Works Defense For Pitt SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 21. (UP)—Notre Dame worked on a defense today for the Pittsburgh game Saturday. Notre Dame scouts brought back only one formation after scouting Pitt in four games, a single wing back with no man in motion. The shock troops scrimmaged today with Jackwich, Koken, Leahy and Cronin in the backfield.

Less Butter Is Used Last Year SALEM, Ore., (UP)—Americans ate less butter in 1930 than in 1929. Creamery butter manufactured by 4,175 plants totalled 1,594,826,000 pounds last year compared to 1,597,027,000 in 1929. Some 4,140 plants operated in 1929.

Roy Anderson, who will wrestle Jack Wallace at the Legion hall, Friday night, has a string of more than two thousand victories in 22 years on the mat. If Anderson defeats Wallace, Australian champion, he will have a chance to fight Gus Sonnenberg here next month.

NATIONALISTA IS WINNER IN FIGHT

PORTLAND, Oct. 21. (AP)—Young Nationalista, Manila bantamweight, defeated Ernie Peters, Chippewa Indian here last night in their ten round main event. Peters went down in the first round for counts of one and nine, but came back gamely and was fighting effectively at the end of the tenth, though pretty well battered up. Young Nationalista showed up well after an absence of three years from Portland rings.

Heavy Pels, Portland lightweight, made short work of Billy Bonillas of Watsonville, Cal., in a spectacular one-round affair. Pels elected to lose no time, and they went at each other with everything they had. Pels finally put over a terrific left hook to the jaw, and Bonillas was carried to his corner.

Al Mustola, Portland, knocked out Bobby Ambrose, Salem, in the second round. Mustola, carrying a seven-pound weight advantage, took the lead in the second round, flooring Ambrose second round, flooring Ambrose more trips to the canvas the referee stopped the bout. Swede Olson, Portland, stopped Jack Murray, Seattle, in the first round, and Jack Kelly took a referee's decision over Rudy Vastino, four rounds.

Famous Trainer Of Horses Dies BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 21. (AP)—James Rowe Jr., 42, trainer for Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stables, died here today. The son of the late James Rowe, head trainer at one time for Harry Payne Whitney's stables, Mr. Rowe had trained the champion 3-year-old Twenty Grand, and was preparing St. Bridgax, a Greentree stable horse, for the $15,000 Maryland handicap at Laurel race track Saturday. He had become ill Monday of indigestion. He was regarded by turfmen as one of the best horsemen in the United States.

FRISCH NAMED MOST VALUABLE FOR THIS YEAR

NEW YORK, Oct. 21. (UP)—Frankie Frisch, star second baseman of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, is named by the Baseball Writers' association of America as the "most valuable player" of the 1931 National League season. It was announced today.

Second honors went to Chuck Klein, hard-hitting Philadelphia outfielder, and third place was given to Bill Terry, New York Giants' infield star. Frisch batted .311, according to unofficial averages of the season. Of his 162 hits, 24 were two-base hits, four were triples and four were home runs.

Klein was near the top of the season batting list with a mark of .337, while Terry was in a virtual tie for the championship. He batted .348 while Chick Hafey, unofficial leader, had .345.

Writes Not Agreed The balloting was done by a committee of eight baseball writers representing each National League city. Each made a list of 10 players, ranked in order of importance.

Curiously, no two writers agreed as to the most valuable player, the eight players who topped the eight lists were Frisch, Klein, Terry, Chick Hafey of St. Louis, Jimmy Williams of Philadelphia, Earl Brown of New York, Sparky Adams of St. Louis, Red Lucas of Cincinnati.

Frisch and Terry were the only players to have received one or more points on each ballot. Klein scored on seven, but no other player scored on more than five.

Pepper Martin, Bill Hallahan and Burleigh Grimes, world series heroes, did not win a point. Here's how the points were divided: Frisch, St. Louis, 65; Klein, Philadelphia, 57; Terry, New York, 53; English, Chicago, 30; Hafey, Chicago, 29; J. Williams, St. Louis, 28; Jackson, New York, 24; Grimm, Chicago, 21; Adams, St. Louis, 18; Brandt, Boston, 15; Maranville, Boston, 15; Frisch, Philadelphia, 14; Tracy, Pittsburgh, 13; Lucas, Cincinnati, 10; L. Wagner, Pittsburgh, 8; Bottomley, St. Louis, 8; J. Elliott, Philadelphia, 6; Quinn, Brooklyn, 6; Finn, Brooklyn, 5; Clark, Brooklyn, 5; Egan, Chicago, 3; Derringer, St. Louis, 3; Bostell, Philadelphia, 3; Vargas, New York, 3; Fitzsimmons, New York; O'Doul and Wright, Brooklyn; Cucinello, Cincinnati, and Gelbert, St. Louis, 1 each.

Street Happy at Frisch's Honor JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 21. (AP)—Charles "Gabby" Street said today he was "mighty proud and happy" that Frankie Frisch had been selected as the National League's most valuable player for 1931.

"Frankie is a great player," the cardinal manager said. "An able field captain, and a real hustler, who gave the Cards everything he had through the season and the world series."

American Prospect For Olympics Is Near Death Today

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 21. (AP)—Suffering from peritonitis which followed the rupture of a gangrenous appendix, Victor Williams, one of the United States outstanding candidates for the 1932 Olympic games, was battling for his life today. He passed "a fairly comfortable night," the hospital reported this morning.

Williams, a student at the University of Southern California, won the I. O. A. A. A. A. championship in Philadelphia, equalling Ted Meredith's world record established 16 years ago. Later he won the national intercollegiate meet at Chicago and then successfully defended his A. A. U. title at Lincoln, Neb., last July.

Williams recently returned from South Africa, where he toured with a party of American athletes.

MORE LICENSE SALES WANTED BY GAME BODY

"Good Hunting in Oregon"—that's the slogan of the Oregon State Game Commission in its appeal for sportsmen to encourage the purchase of hunting and fishing licenses and thereby make up the $60,000 shortage in the annual revenue derived from the sale of licenses.

According to E. L. Crockett, educational director of the commission, if the 150,000 sportsmen in Oregon do not purchase their licenses and thereby give the commission its expected appropriation, it will materially affect the present program of fish and game propagation and it is quite possible that it will be necessary to close several of the hatcheries and one of two of the game farms unless sufficient funds are forthcoming. Last year Oregonians and visiting sportsmen spent approximately $390,000 for licenses as compared to $450,000 received by the commission in previous years.

"At the present time the Game Commission is operating three game farms in the state and 23 hatcheries," said Crockett. "The hatcheries are now releasing in Oregon waters approximately 20 million trout each year and our program calls for this to increase annually so that 272 million trout will be released from the hatcheries during the next ten years."

"We hope that it will not be necessary for the state to close any of the hatcheries as the life cycle of trout is such that if the program is interrupted for just one year, several years work will be required to reestablish the system on its present basis."

"During the last 30 days we have been sponsoring a state-wide campaign urging people interested in Oregon's wild life program to buy licenses. The Gilmore Oil company is the first private agency to rally to the support of the commission by donating two color posters to be used by authorized license salesmen."

Best Business Girl Scorns Rudy Valee NEW YORK, Oct. 20. (UP)—Miss Edith A. Larson, chosen as the most representative and efficient business girl of New York City and now reigning as queen of the national business show, doesn't like to eat lunch at soda fountains and cares not a whit for Rudy Valee.

Miss Larson is five feet seven and a half inches tall and weighs 142 pounds. It took a half hour of solid effort to pry these facts from her, for she is quite modest and frightened no little at the prospect of newspaper publicity.

Comiskey Is Ill, Not 'Very Low'

EAGLE RIVER, Wis., Oct. 21. (AP)—J. Louis Comiskey today denied reports that his father, Charles A. Comiskey, 73-year-old owner of the Chicago White Sox, was "very low."

The son, treasurer of the baseball club, said his father had been under the care of doctors at his summer home here for several weeks, but that his condition had shown improvement.
